Bumgarner Performs Today

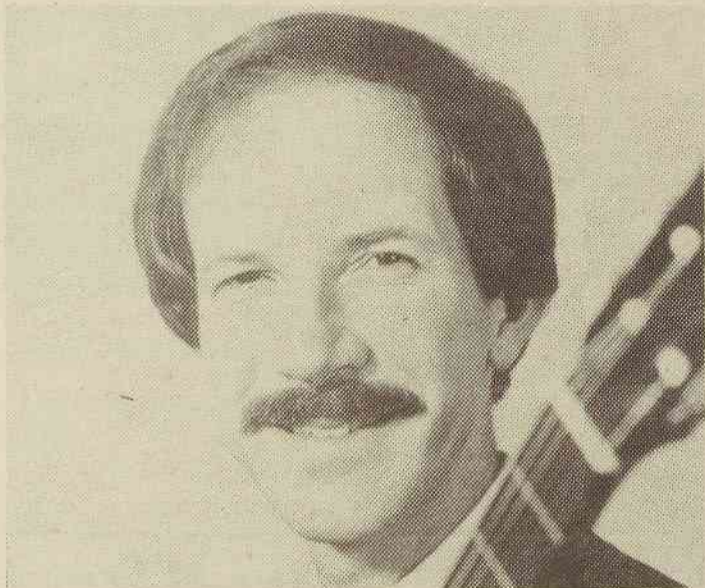

By Susan Rogers

Noted guitarist Stan Bumgarner will perform in Dunham Auditorium on November 14, as part of the Brevard College Cultural Life program.

Bumgarner's program will consist of solo pieces on the classical guitar and Renaissance lute along with a slide program to complement selected pieces.

Bumgarner is a native of North Carolina who began playing the guitar at age twelve. At seventeen, he helped form a rock and roll band which gained regional fame, giving him the opportunity to focus on composing and arranging.

He received a degree in Music Education from Lenoir-Rhyne College in 1966 and studied classical guitar with Jesus Silva, protege of Andre Segovia and guitar instructor at the North Carolina School of the Arts. For four years he participated in the North Carolina Arts Council's Visiting Artist Program. He was also the only solo artist chosen to participate in the Affiliate Artists Incorporated's 1981-82 North Carolina Touring Program.

Stan Bumgarner is also the producer of an educational sound filmstrip called "An Introduction to the Guitar and Lute."

The performance is scheduled for 10:15 a.m. in Dunham Auditorium. Admission is free.

Harvey Miller

Miller Wins In Music Competition

By Robin Thomas

Harvey Miller, professor of music at BC, won second prize for his choral piece "Sing We Noel" in an international competition sponsored by the Pro Conto Singers of London, England.

Celebrating the group's 30th anniversary and honoring its founder Eric Green, the competition was for a choral work of mixed voices and instrumental accompaniment with a Christmas theme. Mr. Miller's choral piece will premier in London, December 19, at the Christmas concert given by the Pro Conto Singers.

Mr. Miller, who has been teaching at Brevard College for 20 years, directs vocal ensembles as well as teaches voice, piano, music history, composition, and electronic studio. He studied voice at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and studied composition at Indiana University. He holds a BA, BM, and MA from Chapel Hill. In addition, he holds a MM from Indiana University where he has also done doctoral work. He has toured the eastern United States and England with his choral groups from the college. One group was featured on the radio show, "The Protestant Hour"; another was chosen to sing for the Methodist World Conference.
