

Yearbook Staff Holds First General Meeting

by Lora Sobotka

The yearbook staff held its first general meeting Wednesday, September 4th at Dean Wray's home. The turnout was higher than expected: 12 sophomores and 17 freshmen.

Although working on the yearbook staff has its pressures, it is fun. It offers job experience, and you can attain a 1/2 hour credit.

Mrs. Joyce Jackson, the yearbook advisor, and editors Kathy Scogin and Larry Edwards expressed some expectations for the upcoming year. In addition to the use of computers and word processors in typing layouts, the staff is also planning a new artwork cover, more color in the yearbook itself, and a visit to the yearbook production facility.

According to Mrs. Jackson, the name Pertelote came about because Brevard and Duke University used to be considered sister schools. Duke University's yearbook is entitled The Chanticleer, after a major character, a rooster, in Chaucer's The Canterbury Tales. Chanticleer had a favorite hen named Pertelote. Thus the name of Brevard's yearbook, The Pertelote.

So if you want to earn job experience, get a 1/2 hour credit, and be called a chicken, join The Pertelote staff; it is lots of fun!!
