

Summertime sports in review

by Scott Holmes
Clarion Sports Editor

Welcome back, Brevard College Students and faculty. I hope that you enjoyed your summer. This past summer brought out the best and the worst in sports.

The worst being scandals. The Pete Rose incident was the big story. Pete Rose was banned from baseball for life by Baseball Commissioner A. Bartlett Giamatti for betting on baseball games, specifically Rose's own team, the Cincinnati Reds. Ironically, Giamatti died of a heart attack just nine days after his suspension of Rose. Rose is eligible to appeal for reinstatement after one year. Rose still argues that he is innocent, but according to the evidence, Pete's out.

Another scandal is the N.C. State basketball program. Athletic Director and Head Coach, Jim Valvano is under investigation by the NCAA for allegations concerning payments to his players. Most of the allegations came from a book titled "Personal Fouls." The investigation is still going on.

Now to the more positive side of the sports world where there were many champions. The Detroit Pistons dethroned the two-time defending champion Los Angeles Lakers, four games to none, for the NBA Championship. Although the Lakers were depleted by injuries to Magic Johnson and Bryon Scott, the Pistons had a great year and deserved to win. In the NHL, the Calgary Flames defeated the Montreal Canadiens, four games to two, for the Stanley Cup Championship.

Curtis Strange did something that no golfer had done since Ben Hogan did it in the 1930's when he won the U.S. Open golf championship for the second straight year.

The new generation of tennis arrived this summer as Michael Chang of the U.S. and Arantxa Sanchez of Argentina won the French Open in surprising upsets over Ivan Lendl and Steffi Graf. Other young hopefuls in tennis include Andre Agassi and Monica Seles.

As in almost every year, there are many surprises in sports. This summer there were two big ones. The first surprise came at the Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pa., as a team from Trumbull, Conn., came from out of nowhere to defeat the heavily-favored team from China, which has dominated the event for the past three years. The victory was the first for the U.S. since 1983. The game was broadcast on national television and was definitely a sight to see.

Another miracle story is cyclist, Greg LeMond. After winning the Tour de France in 1986, LeMond was accidentally shot in a hunting trip. LeMond was expected to never ride again. But this summer, LeMond pulled off one of the biggest miracles of the decade by winning the Tour de France again. LeMond came from :51 seconds behind in the final stage to win the biggest cycling race of the year.

This summer had many exciting sporting events. Some bad and some good but all of the stories provided the sports fan with many memories and many more to come.

BC students leaving for Austria pose for a group picture before flying out on Sept. 3. The group will spend fall semester studying in the small village of Altmunster. They are, left to right, front to back, Hideke Ariizumi, Mylene Thomas, Jennifer Walaitis, Catherine Engstrom and Susan Budan. (Photo by Dean Doc Wood for the Clarion)

EAG plans big year at BC

From Page 8

pus. One such project could be a combination canoe trip/clean-up effort in the area, which is in the early stages of planning now.

Other projects will be decided on by the group when regular EAG meetings begin. The EAG will meet the second and fourth Wednesday of every month in room 102 of the gym at 7 p.m. This year officers will be elected to help lead certain projects such as recycling and trail maintenance. New people will be elected as needed.

EAG hopes to utilize the skills and talents of Jan Gillean, outdoor recreation director, and Clyde Carter, the new wilderness experience teacher here at BC. Carter will speak on low-impact camping (camping with least damage to the environment) at the September 20 meeting. EAG plans to have more guest speakers come, and are hoping to do joint projects with the Sierra Club which recently started at Brevard.

Sharon Waggy and Sybil Dodson, coordinator for Project Inside-Out, have discussed the possibility of the EAG becoming one of the options for the service component that will be required for graduation starting with the freshman in the fall of 1990.

New faculty at BC

From page 8

he worked at Montreat—Anderson College as an admissions counselor and as assistant director of Project Winners at BC this summer.

Greg Dill of Brevard will be the RD in Ross Hall and serve as a security officer. He has completed basic law enforcement training at A—B Technical College.

Tom Hall of Brevard has also been named a new security officer at BC. He received his EMT certificate from Durham Tech and is working on a degree in police science.

Other new staff members include: Marianne Whitten, executive secretary to the Dean of the College; and Gayla Robinson, a UNC—Charlotte graduate and Brevard native serving as an admissions counselor.

Expanded BC intramural program set

by Brad Walker
Clarion Reporter

Brevard students, have you ever been worried about not being able to participate in a college-competitive sport?

Never fear, Jan Gillean is here with a fall season line-up of intramural sports. Jan expects a large crowd of not only students, but also faculty and staff. This fall's schedule will include outdoor volleyball, co-ed softball, swim meets, flag football, tennis, billiards, turkey trotting, basketball free throwing from the line, and punting, passing, and kicking. The excitement began September 12, and will continue until December 11. The intramural sports are open to every individual, regardless of skill level.

To become involved in the intramural program, talk to your intramural representative who is located on each floor in each dorm on campus. The representatives will organize a team and sport of your choice before the deadline date of that sport.

If there is not a representative on your floor or you are a commuter student, talk to Jan Gillean in McLarty-Goodson 105.

Jan is looking for officials for volleyball, football, basketball, and soccer. If you would like to be an official, stop by Jan's locker room. If you think you have the team, the style, and the stuff, a champion t-shirt will be awarded to those people and teams who win the games. Get involved with the intramural program Brevard, it will be a great experience and lots of fun. And that's no turkey trot!

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

1989 FALL SCHEDULE

| SPORT             | ENTRIES OPEN  | ENTRY DEADLINE | PLAY BEGINS |
|-------------------|---------------|----------------|-------------|
| SWIM MEET         | MON. SEPT. 11 | MON. SEPT. 18  | SEPT. 19    |
| PUNT, PASS & KICK | MON. SEPT. 25 | WED. SEPT. 27  | SEPT. 28    |
| FLAG FOOTBALL     | MON. OCT. 2   | FRI. OCT. 6    | OCT. 10     |
| TENNIS DOUBLES    | MON. OCT. 9   | FRI. OCT. 13   | OCT. 17     |
| BILLIARDS         | MON. NOV. 6   | WED. NOV. 8    | NOV. 9      |
| CO-ED VOLLEYBALL  | MON. NOV. 13  | FRI. NOV. 17   | NOV. 21     |
| TURKEY TROT       | MON. NOV. 13  | FRI. NOV. 17   | NOV. 20     |
| FREE THROW        |               |                | DEC. 11     |

Competition is available in men's and women's leagues unless designated as co-ed.