

Homecoming Court includes, left to right: Tiffani Thompson, Ben Hudson, Angela Williams, Andre Irving, Cara McMillian, T.J. King, Alisa Moody, Sharon Young, Kim White, Jennifer Burger, Charlotte Safrit, Harvey Cozart, Pam Carter, Dino Locklear, Annmarie Cowan, Harry Belafonte Sawyer and Denise Ikerd.

The Homecoming Queen of 1939, Ruth Mill year's Homecoming Queen, Charlotte Safrit Locklear of Baltimore, looks on.

This year's Homecoming Royalty includes, Freshmen Queen Angela Williams, Freshman Prince Brad Newman, Sophomore Queen Charlotte Safrit and Sophomore King Dino Locklear.

Homecoming '89

by Shawn White and Carolyn Tatro
Clarion Reporter
with BC News Bureau reports

Homecoming '89 has come and gone, and for many, it won't be a time too soon forgotten. Phrases like "the biggest," and "the best ever" are used when students, administrators and alumni recall.

"I'm really pleased about Homecoming," said Alumni Director Betty Neale, who coordinated much of the weekend. "We had the biggest Alumni Dinner ever, and had to turn people away, there were so many."

Estimates of the number of Tornado alumni on campus over Oct. 13-15 range upwards to over 1,000. In any event, people who've been here a long time say it's a record attendance. "It seemed like the biggest Homecoming I've ever seen," said Ann Eppers, who has worked at BC for 23 years.

There was much to do on campus keeping BC students and alumni of all ages active. Many alumni arrived Thursday, amid much hugging as they found old friends in sophomores and favorite faculty and administration friends.

Friday, it was much more of the same, with more alumni arriving and more excitement on campus. Dances both Friday and Saturday nights were excellent attended, and student reviews of the band, "The Boomers," rated high.

Homecoming parade scenes: President Greer leads the way in his Jeep, followed by assorted beauty queens and floats.