Brevard College gears up for Exam Week

BC News Bureau

Brevard College is getting ready for the trials and tribulations of final exams with everything from kid movies, study breaks, late-night pancakes, survival kits and bubble baths.

Campus Counselor Steve Martin is planning special stress workshops during exam week, Saturday, Dec. 16, through Wednesday, Dec. 20. For more information, see him in MG 130.

The library has extended its study hours to accommodate late nighters. (see box below) McLarty-Goodson building will be open for longer hours as needed, according to the Office of Student Affairs.

Also, BC parents have been offered the option of buying Exam Survival Kits which are being assembled by Project Inside-Out teams. The contents are strictly silly and fattening, organizers say — anything to break the tension of exam time. Proceeds will go to any of the activities of the Service Corps, according to Sybil Dodson.

The Director of Student Activities, Jeff Battle, is planning some other childish fun: the showing of the film "E.T." at 7 p.m., Monday, Dec. 18, in Beam Lobby.

A late-night Pancake Supper is again planned this semester in the cafeteria at 10 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 15. Cost is $1.25 a ticket. The chefs are RDs, faculty and administration members.

Study breaks with brownies and cookies have also been planned in the cafeteria every night from 10 p.m. to 11 p.m. during the exam period.

The Learning Center will operate with regular hours (see box below). Learning Center Director Naomi Gibbs says, "If you need a special study session or tutoring help, get in touch with me." The Learning Center is located in MG 203. She reminds students that for help with English, they need to go to the Writing Lab and for Math help, to the Math Lab — "and for anything else, come see me."

To aid study time, the office of Student Affairs is extending quiet hours 24 hours a day, starting at 8 a.m. Friday, the 15th, and extending through the 20th. The exceptions are 12 noon to 1 p.m. and 4-5 p.m. each day. Also the regular Wednesday no visitation rule will be waived on Dec. 20, according to Assistant Dean of Student Affairs, Sharon Waggy.

One resident director is planning an unusual feature designed to help get her girls through exams. West Beam RD, Sybil Dodson, is offering 30-minute bubble bath soaks in her tub. West Beam girls can sign up with Dodson for their turn in the hot tub.

"Talk about a tension-reliever," says Dodson with a grin.
