

Campus Profiles

Jo-Lynn Park: The Model Student

Heidi Rodenbaugh
Campus Editor

Jo-Lynn Park is from New Port Richey, Florida. She is 18 years old and the second child of what will soon be nine children.

Jo-Lynn has many hobbies such as canoeing and rock climbing. She also enjoys working with people.

After finishing school at Brevard this spring, she plans to pursue a degree at either Florida State University or a school in North Carolina. She is unsure of her future occupation but has various interests.

"I am working towards a degree in Education, and I plan to work with people. Having past experience with community service and good will volunteer missions, I have taken much interest in further pursuing short term volunteer trips," she said.

Jo-Lynn is very active on campus. During her freshman year she was involved with SGA Representatives, student elections, and she was a Brevard Scholar. At the present time she is on Social Board, served as Homecoming chairperson, is a Brevard scholar, and is a participant in Alumni Fundraisers.

Besides receiving many honors during her high school years, Jo-Lynn has also worked many service and voluntary activities outside of school. She worked 700 hours of volunteer service cleaning an airstrip in the jungles of Papua, New Guinea. She also worked 140 hours of volunteer service in Bogota, Columbia, coordinating an orphanage and helping street children by teaching and feeding them.

PTK Inducts New Members

Erica Broadway
Asst. Editor

On Wednesday, October 18, 11 students were inducted into Brevard College's Delta Pi Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa. Phi Theta Kappa is a national honor society for students who boast academic excellence.

Guest speaker was Mr. Robert McLendon, Vice President and Dean for admissions and financial aid. The ceremony was followed by the pledge of new members and an official welcome by Rhuemma Miller, faculty advisor.

The new members of PTK are Norma Chason, Amyi Franklin, Sharyn Ingram, Willa Kershaw, Kristin Magnuson, Stephanie Nutting, Kathleen Raymond, Kristen Scott, John Sprouse, Erin Stacy, and Lisa Trapp.

Delta Pi Chapter members are active participants on our college campus as well as in regional events.

Student Gains Seat In Asheville Orchestra

Jennifer Berry
Staff Writer

James "Dale" McSwain, the twenty-year-old french horn major from Cherryville, NC, was just recently accepted into the Asheville Symphony Orchestra. This is Dale's third year here at Brevard as a french horn major under professor Ruth Still. Dale is also a proud member of MENC (Music Educators of North Carolina) and the Brevard Chamber Orchestra.

Dale has spent his last two summers at the Brevard Music Center. He feels that the music center "Provides an excellent orchestral experience". He hopes to finish his bachelor degree here at Brevard College now that it has been accredited for the four year study of art and music. He then plans on completing his graduate work at a conservatory like New York City's Juilliard School.