

"Seniors should have been recognized individually, and from what I heard from some students, I'm glad I didn't go because of this."

-Anonymous

"I'm glad I went. I wish they would have had the seniors come up to the stage individually, but I understand why they did what they did, to save time."

-Willis Humphrey

Brevard College is equipped with a security alert system called "call boxes" located near Stamey building, Jones residence hall, and the McLarty-Goodson building on campus. Each one contacts Campus Security and the Brevard Police Department. In case of any emergency the campus security numbers are: Phone: (828) 884-8366, Emergency Phone: (828) 884-5979. They are available 24 hours and day every day. For more information on ways of protection you can visit <http://www.bsc.nodak.edu>.

Welcome Dan Moore: New Psychology Professor

by Jon Obst, staff writer

The Psychology Program at Brevard College has received a boost from the recent hiring of Professor Dan Moore, who is working to develop a Psychology major. Corresponding with Professor Moore's teaching position at Brevard College, the curriculum at Brevard will begin to offer students the opportunity of majoring in Psychology this spring.

The following Psychology courses will be offered: General Psychology, Life Span Development, Social Science Research Methods, Community and Environment, Industrial/Organizational Psychology, Sensation and Perception, Theories of Personality, Adolescent Growth and Development, Psychology Skills, and Career Lab.

When asked about how faculty members at Brevard have responded to the addition of the Psychology major to the curriculum, Professor Moore replied, "Everybody has been extremely nice, appreciative, and helpful."

Prior to teaching at Brevard, Professor Moore was Assistant Professor at Saint Leo University, near

Homecoming: The Best at BC

by Sheyahshe Littledave, staff writer

The weekend of October 10-12th will be one that will always be remembered. Not only was it the annual homecoming and the 150th Anniversary of the school but it was also the inauguration of Brevard College's 12th President Dr. Drew L. Van Horn. The weekend-long festivities began with the President's inauguration that was open to the public and was followed by food and refreshments.

Then Saturday, the alumni were invited back to the school for the soccer games and other activities.

To top the evening off there was a spectacular fireworks display followed by the Homecoming dance held in the quad of The Village. Many students showed up to the semi-formal ready to have fun as they danced the night away. During the mini-celebration came the announcement of the Homecoming court and the winners were:

Freshman Class: Princess/Prince
Kasey Rhyne, Jourdain Medina
Kyle Wright

Sophomore Class: Princess/Prince
CJ Jascur, Eric Krouse
Jay Spence