He Says:She Says:

She says...

Before you take her out, find out what she is expecting on this date. It is the 21st century, and some women don't like to have the door held for them, or they like to pick up their part of the check. Have a general idea about what kind of person she is. That way the date will be pleasant and not have too many awkward moments

He says...

Chivalry is still in style, I agree. It may be that she doesn't like the door held for her, but a good southern gentleman has to kick it ol' school.
