

Don't you wish you were as ripped and tan as Tom...
See right.

Ever want to make a molotov cocktail in the middle of class and throw it at one of your professors? Find out if that professor will be coming back next year.

See page 2

Clarion Seniors bid farewell
See page 3

Apparently some BC students aren't huge fans of the football program. Who woulda thunkit?

See page 4

Because his writing style has grown so popular, The Clarion gives BJ an entire page.
See page 9

THE BIG GUY

See page 12, American Hero

Students sponsoring luau Saturday night

Event organizers urge everyone to come get lei'd

By Joseph Chilton
Editor in Chief

Last month, a group of students staged a Big Band Dance with the help of the Village Residence Hall Council. It went over so well that the group has decided to do it again. And this time everybody will get lei'd.

A student-organized luau will take place in the Porter Center Amphitheater on Saturday, May 3 from 9-12 p.m. If the weather is inclement, the dance will take place at the same time in the same location on Monday, May 5.

According to DJ Arggh, who will be spinning at the event, the musical selection at the event will be eclectic, including everything from Lil' Jon to the Beach Boys. The dance will also feature a hula-hoop competition, a limbo contest, and the crowning of a King and Queen of the Luau. A tiki bar will be up and running, serving out mocktails to those in attendance.

Dance organizers will also be handing out leis to students who show up.

"We bought every lei that the dollar store had," said Arggh.

"We're trying our hardest to get everyone lei'd."

The dance is being put together totally by students, a source of pride for Allison

Pressley, who is helping to organize the luau.

"People seemed to enjoy that the first dance was all student-done, so now we're trying to do it again, but bigger and better," said Pressley.

Students wanting to volunteer to help can show up at the Porter Center at 6 p.m. for a cookout that will be help for those helping with the event.

"In the past, it seemed like the events that were offered on campus, we repetitive, so we have tried to represent the people who don't usually show up for those events, and in doing that, last time we ended up getting the whole campus" Arggh said.

"We want to get the entire campus to come party with us."