

In this issue...

NEWS:

Fast Facts about BC.....2
A day in pictures:
Senior Pinning.....2

SPORTS:

BC football suffers defeat.....5
Men's Soccer earns victory against Toccoa falls.....5
BC Volleyball has tough weekend.....5

ODDS AND ENDS:

American Hero..... 8
Horoscopes.....8
Cartoon of the week .....6
Sign of the Times .....8

OPINION:

Man Vs. Nature..... 3
Foreign correspondent
Radosav Babic sounds off
on the global political climate .....3
Will the Cubs usurp the Yankees as the
America's bandwagon team?.....4
Has the Pupil's Underground become the Pupil's Above Ground? .....4

ARTS & LIFE:

Monster Dong, Three-Foot
Long: THE must-miss album of the year.....7

BC attends ASGA Conference in Washington, D.C.

By Nate Lyles
Staff Writer

Ranging from September 24 through September 28, the National Student Government Conference was held in Washington, DC. From nationally-known student leaders to general student leaders to express how they lead Brevard College on a daily basis, as well as an opportunity to grow as leaders in general.

Embarking in daily SGA-oriented forums and lectures, each leader was exposed to different ways to improve overall SGA life and success. In addition to forums, each leader had the distinct ability to participate in "Round Table" discussions, allowing for self expression of what works in each particular SGA organization, nationwide.

Students who participated in this very prominent event include Travis Wireback (SGA President), Chris Dixon (SGA Vice-President), Amber Klein (SGA Secretary), Andrew Thompson (SGA Treasurer), Merek Slagle (CAB President), Carrie Ann Bowen (Speaker of the House), Nate Lyles (Freshman Class President), and Ryan Christie (Freshman Class Vice-President). Overseeing the daily events was our very own Dr. Tasha Toy. This very talented, diverse, and driven group of individuals made their mark on Washington, DC and walked away with an abundance of knowledge generated from their peers.

photo courtesy N. Lyles

Brevard's representatives in a Metro station in D.C. Students from left to right are Travis Wireback (SGA President), Amber Klein (SGA Secretary), Carrie Ann Bowen (SGA Speaker of the House), Ryan Christie (Freshman Class Vice-President), Merek Slagle (CAB President), Drew Thompson (SGA Treasurer), and Nate Lyles (Freshman Class President).

representatives, DC was taken by storm over the period of four days and was exposed first-hand to the nation's best SGA leaders.

Representing Brevard College was an array of various students from different grades and leadership positions. Traveling to DC was a "Golden Opportunity" for our very own