Tonight in the Porter Center Pavilion, the Sesquipedalian Literary Society will be hosting Dr. Reid Gilbert. Dr. Gilbert is a two time Fulbright Award winner, author, world renowned story teller and mime, as well as an alumnus of Brevard College.

In July of this year, Dr. Gilbert's book new Trickster Jack was published. The book is a collection of tall tales that takes place in the Southern Appalachians around the end of the nineteenth century.

Dr. Gilbert has also produced The Art of Mime: An Introduction to the Art of Mime with collaborators Robin Pyle and Jeffery Lynch. It was originally released on video in 1991, and then reissued with updates on DVD in 2005. At the event this evening, Dr. Gilbert will perform Mime and some of his stories.

This is the first campus wide event for the Sesquipedalian Literary Society, but all students, faculty, and community members are invited to attend for free. The event will be a memorable performance that is both fun and educational. Dr. Gilbert will be on campus all day Friday, so please extend the warmest Brevard College welcome. The event begins at 7:30 sharp, and refreshments will be provided afterwards.

Red Cross Blood Drive next Thursday

from Staff Reports

The Red Cross will hold a blood drive Tuesday beginning at 9:30 a.m. in Scott Commons at the Porter Center and is encouraging Brevard College students, faculty and staff to take part.

The Porter Center location is different from past years' drives, which were normally held in the Reserve Dining Room. For that reason, Director of Medical Services Susan Martin is asking volunteers to sign up for a time by sending her E-mail at martinse@brevard.edu. Volunteers may sign up for 15-minute increments between 9:30 a.m. and 1:45 p.m.

The need for all blood types remains critical, so blood donors and volunteers are not only fulfilling the college call to serve others but also helping to save lives. Donation takes approximately one hour from the start of paperwork until the process is complete.

Christine Bethard is serving as the student coordinator for the event. If anyone has questions about the blood drive, you may contact Susan Martin at 884-8244 or by E-mail.

New Student's Question and Answer #2

by Anne Bolos
Staff Writer

Question 1: I've lost my student I.D. What do I do? First, report your lost student I.D. to the cafeteria office, Monday – Friday 8 am – 4:30 p.m. to safe guard your meal account, even if its an unlimited plan. You don't want anyone using your I.D illegally and stealing your meals and the money on your student I. D. at the BC Diner. Then you'll want to go to directly to Campus Life and get a new I.D. made right away. If you don't have the $25 to replace your I.D., your student account will be billed. You have one week in which to locate your lost student I.D before any charges incur for the new student I.D.

Question 2: Is there a Lost and Found department on campus? Yes! It's located in Coltrane on the top floor. Items that are found around campus by security and students are taken to Campus Life. The cafeteria has a lost and found as well.

If you have a question, email the Clarion at clarion@brevard.edu and we will find the answer for you!

Money Matters

Still parking without a parking decal? Better think twice about that. If you happen to receive a ticket for failing to have the proper parking decal, it will cost you $130 and a trip to see Dean Holland. So, don't set yourself up for a bad day, get your parking decal today in Campus Life, top floor.
