Five Dollar Word of the Week

On Monday, the New Oxford Dictionary announced its word of the year. This is a practice that the dictionary does every year by choosing a new word which is topical and culturally relevant. So, for the Five Dollar Word of the Week, we Sesquis are going with a word that has only been recognized as an official word for 4 days.

Unfriend

1. Verb - the act of removing someone from your friends list on any social network.

2. Noun - someone who used to be your friend, but you no longer consider them to be a friend, for any number or variety of reasons.
