

Men's and women's tennis pick up victories

The men's and women's teams earned victories last week as the season really begins to get into swing

by Nabil Aasiya-Bey
Staff Writer

Last Saturday, the Lady Tornados swept the Converse, 8-1, while Brevard College's guys and girls both defeat North Georgia Tuesday. The BC women improve to 8-2 and the BC men to 4-5.

The tornados faced no threat against Converse, winning all three doubles, and losing only one of their singles matches.

Last Saturday was a beautiful day, but it didn't reflect Converse's capability to win. They didn't seem to stand a chance against our Lady Tornados from the start.

The women's team displayed confidence in their game and precision in their techniques, easily out maneuvering Converse on the court. Claire Dillman played a confident slicing game to cut her singles opponent down.

On Tuesday, Kim Dixon secured BC's win over North Georgia by winning her No. 4 singles match 6-4, 7-5, while Kaley Duval and Jennifer Nyman won the only doubles victory. This helped them obtain their 8th straight win and a regional victory as well.

BC's men were just as successful against North Georgia earlier this week. Dorian Feron's victory at the 6 spot in the lineup was vital to securing a 6-5 win in the men's match against North Georgia. Cole Altizer and Jared Fisher won the only doubles match while playing second in the lineup.

BC's men also played great tennis in their win against North Georgia. By receiving their third straight win, the guys improved to 4-5. According to Altizer, he played a "textbook" match for his doubles. He also dominated his singles opponent with finesse, at one point even flying through the air. Feron's win showcased the ability of our tennis team to pull out a win, after he clinched the match with a three set victory, 6-4, 1-6, 6-2, over his opponent Parker Lasure.

Other highlights were Ellie Bartholomew's 6-1, 6-3, exhibition-victory, winning her first collegiate game in straight sets. Brevard's tennis team thus remains successful in defending our home turf in the South Atlantic Conference, by dismissing both North Georgia and Converse.

In this issue...

NEWS:

Faculty members receive tenure .....	2
Expert to discuss Global Warming.....	2
SGA update .....	3
OCED changes.....	3
Health overhaul and student loans.....	4
Governor Perdue informs us about the census.....	5
More info about the census .....	5
Summer Trip to Iceland .....	6

ODDS AND ENDS:

SLS Word o' the week .....	7
Comic .....	7
Chef BoyarDave's Lasagna.....	7

THE LAST FRONTIER:

Your Horoscope.....	8
---------------------	---

photo courtesy N. Aasiya-Bey

Scorr McCormick serves in the Men's regional victory over the University of North Georgia. McCormick led the Tornados playing the number one singles spot and earning a hard-fought win over his opponent