

VOR applications being accepted

Start your summer with a bang by earning your LINC and General Education credit while experiencing a once in a lifetime opportunity.

Voice of the Rivers is an expedition focused on the interdisciplinary study of a river from its source to its end, and participation is open to all Brevard College students, with preference given to current sophomores and juniors. Students will earn six hours of credit, for INT 290 and HUM 290, a course combination which will satisfy the BCE LINC requirement and General Education Distribution Area Requirement III.C.

This spring, May 15 through June 2, 10 Brevard College students and two faculty members will follow the Rappahannock River from the top of its watershed in the Blue Ridge Mountains near Front Royal, Virginia, to the Chesapeake Bay near Kilmarnock, Virginia. The expedition will travel approximately 184 miles by canoe and sea-kayak with primitive camping each night.

The cost, including tuition, will be $2,000 per student. Student applications must be submitted by Jan. 31.

IS NOT THE NEW

Many children begin drinking as early as age 12. That's two years before they've tried geometry. Research indicates that children are less likely to drink when their parents are involved in their lives and when they report feeling close to their parents. So next time you complain about how fast they're growing up, consider that it might be in your power to slow them down.
