

rdWo Im!eJbu

Unscramble these Brevard College Professors names in order to solve the puzzle.

HTIOPNAL
_ _ _ _ _ □ □

RCEATR
_ □ _ _ □ _

EDATGPT
_ _ □ _ □ _ _

ERBNORE
□ _ _ □ _ _ □

Take the letters that are outlined and use them to solve the puzzle:

Job opportunities for college graduates in the current economy:

_____

Lysistrata review: Two hour erection joke

By David Alexander
Staff Writer

Tickets are going fast for this hilarious historical farce on the Peloponnesian War. "Lysistrata" last a short two hours and is better than "a modest 8-inch dildo." The seating arrangement alone provides enough comical relief for one night; leaving half of the audience laughing at jokes and the other half taking offense.

"I don't know if I left the play feeling like more of a man or less of a man," said student Carlton Ramsey.

While the male portion of the audience hung their heads throughout the second act, most of the females including Nancy Ballinger and Meredith Davenport both agreed, "We loved it!"

With the message of "No Peace, No Sex" the women of Greece ruled over their husbands and soldiers and ultimately brought peace (and sex) to Greece. Not everyone who attended the play on opening night was caught up in the superficialities of genitals, some came just to support their friends and see good theatre.

"It was a truly spectacular performance, a program of momentous proportions," said Ryan Fiffick. Every semester it seems that the Brevard College Theatre Faculty finds a great play to put on.

With special guest director Michael Lilly in his fifth production at Brevard "Lysistrata" is a hit. The theme of women empowerment was constant throughout the night and summed up by the line shouted by Christie Bethard, "We're not ladies, we're bitches." Friday night's performance is already sold out and tickets for the remaining shows are quickly selling out as well.

"The play is decent. It's funny, thought provoking, and I agree with John Lennon that we should all give peace a chance," said student Tristan Cowie.

Last week's solution

DOWN:

1. Inglorious Bastards
3. The Good Shepard
4. In the Army Now
6. Full Metal Jacket
7. Tropic Thunder
8. We Were Soldiers
9. Enemy At The Gates
11. Glory
12. Patriot

ACROSS:

2. Forrest Gump
5. Patton
10. Saving Private Ryan
13. Pearl Harbor

THINGS TO AVOID ON SPRING BREAK

Cartoon by Karam Boeshaar