

By Joshua Smith
Staff Writer

Saturday night from 10p.m. to 2a.m. the Brevard College Underground was the host of the B.S.U. Jam. This event was held for the students who remained on campus who did not travel home for the weekend. This was a night of music, dancing, and just enjoyment of one another's company. Some people just came for the free food!

Things began off rather slow but as the night rolled on; more and more people came and took part of this enjoyable night. It was hard not to find a person laughing, joking, or dancing to the music.

Many times as certain songs came on, the large dance floor would open up and they made a dance circle for individuals to showcase their dance moves. Lindsay Pritchard a Brevard sophomore soccer player says "I really enjoyed myself and there was a great energy in the room."

Willie Jones a sophomore Biology major added, "I definitely liked the different crowds of people showed up and not just one particular group of students."

Sadly the party was not all fun and games as there were some downfalls. Willie added "there needed to be more genres of music and not one specific type."

Also there needed to be more observing of the rules. Lindsay, "did not like all the drinkers being congregated right outside the party" it took away from the overall view of what the party was for.

Catch the end of the fair

If you're hankering to see a 700-pound pumpkin, be mesmerized by a comedy hypnotist, or just eat all the funnel cake you can stand, you're in luck: the North Carolina Mountain State Fair is open through Sunday.

The fair, located at the agricultural center across from Asheville Regional Airport in Fletcher, features commercial and agricultural exhibits, a full array of entertainment that includes musical acts, acrobats, and circus performers, and a midway with exciting thrill rides. And of course, food choices abound.

Among the new acts debuting this year are the Zerbini Family Circus, the Kenya Safari Acrobats, and a Las Vegas-style illusionist show. There are also numerous local musical acts.

For a complete entertainment schedule, visit the official fair website at www.mountainfair.org.

Fair admission is $7.00 for adults, but today is Seniors Day, with free admission for anyone over 65. And for anyone who wants to enjoy the rides, tonight is also the Friday Night Stampede: from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., you can pay $18 for admission and unlimited rides.

For this final weekend, the fair opens at 9 a.m. today through Sunday. It closes Sunday at 11 p.m.

SEPTMBER 9th-18th

WNC Ag Center
1301 Fanning Bridge Rd.
Fletcher, NC 28732
Phone (828) 687-1414
Fax (828) 687-9272

Now the #1 purchased app in the USA