

STATEWIDE MEETING, Saturday, Nov. 20, 2:00 pm. Unitarian Church, 3010 Monterey Street, Greensboro.

This is the third in a series of meetings for a growing coalition of gay groups from across North Carolina. This meeting is being sponsored by the Gay Academic Union and the N.C. Human Rights Fund and will focus on "statewide networking, mental health services, supportive medical care, and legal rights for gay people." Representatives from all lesbian and gay organizations are encouraged to attend; people not affiliated with a group are also welcome.

Overnight accommodations are available to people who travel long distances. Advance reservations are necessary; RSVP to Dean at (919) 282-0065 by Nov. 17.

Directions: Interstate 40 to Freeman Mill Road exit (east of High Point Road), turn north, then right onto Cliffwood Drive and then right onto Monterey, which ends in church driveway.

SUNDAY, BLOODY SUNDAY. Monday, Nov. 22, 7:30 and 9:00 pm. Bryan Center, Duke University (West Campus).

Benefit film showing for Duke Gay and Lesbian Alliance. Tickets are $2 and will be available at showtime at the box office.

The 1971 film, which stars Peter Finch as a gay physician, Glenda Jackson as a career woman, and Murray Head as a bisexual artist, is a film about human relationships and how they don't always match our ideas of what love ought to be. Vito Russo in his book Celluloid Closet says, "American hated Sunday, Bloody Sunday because one kiss caused more of a stir than scenes that showed them in bed together."

DIGNITY, for lesbian and gay Catholics and their friends, meets for Mass, potluck dinners and discussions weekly in the Triangle area. People of all faiths are welcome. For location and other information, please call 383-3005 (Durham) or 834-8942 (Raleigh).

GAY DEMOCRATIC CLUB? If you would like to help organize one in Orange County, contact Lightning Brown at 942-8116 (Chapel Hill).

book revolutionary, for it tells of things heretofore unimagined and sets a standard of excellence that one would have thought impossible in the treatment of an issue so large, uncharted and vexed. . . .

"It forces us to re-examine even the most fixed notions about our moral and cultural heritage. . . ."

Boswell is currently working on French and Italian editions of the book and on several articles including "Ancient Concepts of Sexual Orientation."
