

A BEAUTIFUL HOME MARRIAGE.

On Wednesday morning, June 1st, at 10 o'clock, in the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Egerton, the bride's parents, Miss Blanche Wilmot Egerton became the bride of Mr. George Spencer Baker. The parlors were beautifully decorated for the occasion, and 'mid garlands of roses and smilax the happy couple plighted their vows. The sudden illness of the bride's father on the morning of the marriage made a quiet marriage necessary, the only attendants being Miss Mary Stuart Egerton, the maid of honor, with Mr. Everard Baker, the brother of the groom.

COLLEGE NOTES.

The banquet, or perhaps to see the work begin on the Memorial Building, attracted an unusually large number of visitors to Commencement this year. Among the number of out-of-town guests were: Misses Edna Watkins, Pattie B. Davis, Ora Winston, Maude Dickens, Lola Jackson, Louise Allen, Frances Thomas, Ella and Marguerite Harris, Belle Mitchiner, Alice James Costen, Nina Corbett, Annie Bagley, Elise Wescott, Edith Browning, Kate Herring, and Mesdames Belle Davis Cooper, Byrd Person Nicholson, Asa Parham, Charles Carroll, W. S. Gardner, — — Harper, W. W. Hooker.

Miss Bagley, Secretary of the Alumnae Association, acknowledges the receipt of Alumnae dues from the following who could not attend Commencement: Mesdames L. P. Sorrell, Pearl Berry Smith, Helen P. Shelburne, Pattie Nelson, J. C. Matthews, Mary Foy Kime, Anna B. Lewson, Joel King, A. W. Green, Ida E. Mooring, A. J. Barbour, George Makeley, and Misses Lucie Berry, Myrtice Gardner, Esther Paschall, Ursula Singleton, Willie Lee Thomas, Annie Smith, Nannie B. Cooper, Jennie Duke, Maude Fleming, Stella Hicks, Ola Long, Carrie Marrow, and Gladys Beckwith.

The following sent with their regular dues an excess to be applied to the Building Fund: Mrs. C. M. Cooke, Mrs. M. A. Lucas, Mrs. Joel King, Mrs. C. R. Rodwell, and Miss Bessie Ormond. As the letters were received just at Commencement, it will be impossible to acknowledge their receipt by letter this time.

AN APPRECIATION.

Again the College loses three faithful members of the Faculty. Miss Tuttle, who filled the vacancy caused by Miss Herring's resignation in January, goes to Martha Washington; Miss Grant has been elected to teach in the High School in Jackson, her home; and Miss Davis has been given a year's leave of absence.

Since her connection with the College Miss Tuttle has filled admirably the Chair of English. Her versatility and strong personality soon commanded the respect and affection of the school, and her resignation is much regretted.

Miss Grant, whose picture appears on the cover page with the Senior Class, has been connected with the College four years, beginning her work here with the class of 1910. Under her supervision the Science Department, though handicapped without a laboratory, has done excellent work. But her influence was not confined to her department—she was conversant with every line of college work and, therefore, a wise counsellor. The College and the town have lost by her resignation.

Miss Davis, who has been connected with the College since 1896, when her father assumed the duties of President, has not severed her connection therewith, but has been allowed a year's leave of absence.

NEITHEANS LEAD.

The best work done for Echoes this year was done by Clyde Singleton, a Neithean, and the pin offered as a prize for securing the largest number of subscribers will be awarded her on her return in September.

Commencement—what a world of dreams hover about it! It is the Alpha and Omega of certain phases of life; the fruition of many fond hopes. Here school life ends—the lessons all recited, and the sweet girl graduate launches out into life's school and begins to learn the lessons that are really worth while.

If to win the applause of men I must destroy another's reputation, or discount another's worth in order to prove my own; if to succeed with my simple task I must tread under foot the rights of others, God pity the task and the success! Sooner let me fail in the things that I seek, but with the sting of defeat give me the recollections of a grateful smile—the simple "thank you" of one whose wounds I have turned aside to bind up.

Revs. L. S. Massey, of Oxford, W. W. Rose, of Franklinton; H. B. North, of Jackson; L. H. Joyner and daughter, of Jonesboro; J. E. Underwood, of Littleton; Drs. D. B. Zollcoffer, of Weldon, and E. A. Perry, of Littleton, and Messrs. B. W. Ballard, Ezra Bowers, Joseph Futrell, Joe Lassiter Flythe, Opie Edwards, Edgar Draper, and Pryor Allen, attended Commencement.
