Louisburg Is To Have Boxing T'm

Coach Sutfenfield has just announced that Louisburg College will be represented by inter-collegiate boxing team this year. This will be the first time in the history of the school that Louisburg has been represented by four major sports teams.

There is an abundance of material for Coach to work with and with the experience that Mr. Sutfenfield has had in this line, we should have as good a team as was the football team.

Among those who are to be out for the team are: Tom Hoskins, former high school champ of Eastern N. C. high schools, Tom will fight in the 155 lb. class. Neldon, who is former heavyweight champ of C. M. T. C. at Fort Moultrie, S. C., Soole Chandler, former member of University of South Carolina boxing team. Soole will fight in the 175 lb. class. Jack Lane, 115 lb. Rocky Mount High School fighter, Chicken Bullock, 145, is an experienced fighter and is one who can dish out and take punishment. Harpo Ellis, 125 lbs. claims to be a former lightweight champ of C. M. T. C. at Fort Bragg.

Arrangements are being made to secure the Ragland hall, which is now being used as a dance hall, as a place to stage the fights, and with the material that is here to work with it seems that it will prove to be the most popular winter sport.

Them Was The Days

Strolling up across the campus the first year and wondering just what kind of place I had gotten into — — John W. Register holding forth in the Social Hall as chief introducer — — wondering where all the beautiful girls came from — — first foot-ball practice — — about thirty five boys in school, and all but one out for the team (J. B. and I lasted two days) — — Abe Edwards and Jimmie Rodgers past masters at shooting the bull and shuffling the dotted pasteboards — — And the player whose popularity, after a certain Rose Bowl victory, reached the point that he had to have two freshmen follow him down the street to pick up the money tossed at him — — some of the boys trying to balance a tea cup at those good old Wednesday afternoon teas and succeeding only in looking miserable — — The Southern Conservatory of Music practice rooms on the first floor of Wright — — Harry Ziegler, John Register and, er — another party, walking in from Franklinton at 2 A. M. — — Sue Edgerton singing "Minnie the Moocher" — — Dot Hurly playing "Saint Louis Blues" — — several fire-cracker episodes which seemed mighty important at that time — — the organization of Rho Dammit Rho, the national beer drinking fraternity — — their one and only party — — the Thanksgiving holiday, nearly everyone stayed but the faculty — — Jimmie Rodgers dressed as a girl, running out of the boys' dormitory, closely pursued by the night watchmen and Coach Bradley — — Sleepy Ross pitching a ball game, he gave them the idea for slow motion pictures, but he always got there — — Dan Fussel and Lib Baker, the first L. C. couple to get married, may all of them be as happy as that pair — — J. B. "Fire-chief" Petteway and his squad in action on the third floor during the coach's absence (the night watchman finally got to where he could dodge) — — the Easter Holidays and three fellows known at "The Diced Millionaires" (their five-for-a-dime cigars had to be lit all the way across the end before they would smoke) — — Herbert Clark getting two home runs a triple, a double and a walk in five times at bat against Quantico — — At sometime or other Hoochie playing every position on the team that didn't lose a college game all season — — when we averaged chicken at least once a week in the dining hall, not counting hash — — Hoochie frying "Chittlins", most of us had to leave for a few hours — — Braswell telling about the dance he attended where there were eighty girls better looking than Jean Har-

Some Sidelights On The Trojans

The Louisburg College Trojans opened the season Friday Sept. 28, in Williamsburg, Va. against the strong W-M Freshman team. After leading 7-6 at half the Trojans were defeated 25-7. This was the worst licking handed the Trojans this season.

Friday night Oct. 5, the Trojans lost to the Apprentice School, Newport News Eleven 14-0. The Apprentice School had, this year, the most powerful team in the history of this school. They defeated Guilford 39-6. The Trojans put a great fight before they were finally defeated.

The Trojans played Gallaudet College in Washington, D. C. on Sat. October 6, the afternoon after the Apprentice battle. Although they out-played the Gallaudet boys the Trojans were held to a 6-6 tie in a driving rain. The Trojans failed to score on three occasions after penetrating far into Gallaudet territory. This was due to the fact that the Purple and Gold boys played the night before and travelled 250 miles the morning of the game.

In the Homecoming game the Trojans showed their offensive wares to W-M (Norfolk Division) to the tune of 45-0. The Trojans (Continued on Page 4)

Weldon-McFayden Combination Plays Important Part In Victory

A smooth functioning football machine, representing Louisburg College, piled up a 20 to 0 victory over the Wake Forest College Frosh. It was a well played game and was packed with thrills throughout. The Trojans scored in every period but the first. The pass combination, Weldon to McFayden proved the downfall of the "Baby Deacons" and was a very definite factor in the final score.

The Trojans got off to a slow start, but after they had begun to click they were not to be denied. The Trojans started their first goal line march in the final minutes of the second period. The Trojans took the ball from the Deacons on their own 15 yard line and on the first play from scrimmage, Gibson picked up 15 yards and Weldon and Gibson then made 16 on two plays. A pass from Weldon to McFayden placed the ball on the Deacons' 35 stripe. A pass to McFayden in the end zone was incomplete, but on the next play Weldon passed to McFayden for the Trojans' first score. The try for point was wide. Score L. C. 6 W. F. C. 0.

With only two minutes left in the third period, the Trojans, after an exchange of punts took possession of the ball in mid field. Two line plays carried the pellet to the 25 yard chalker and then Boland flashy South Carolina back, took the ball on an off tackle play, sidestepped three would-be tacklers and crossed the final marker to score. Weldon then booted the point to bring the score to Trojans 13, W. F. C. 0.

The final score of the encounter came about midway of the final period. Louisburg took the ball on the visitors' 45 after intercepting a pass. On the first play Gibson was held for no gain but on the next play, Weldon tossed a pass to McFayden on the 30. Two more line plays failed to gain and Weldon was again called on to pass to McFayden, who took the ball on the 15 yard mark and aided by beautiful interference by Boland crossed the final chalker for the last touchdown of the afternoon. Weldon then dropped back into kick formation and lifted a beautiful kick through the cross bars to bring the score; Louisburg 20, Wake Forest 0.

The Baby Deacons made only one serious threat to score and that came in the second period when Yount intercepted a Trojan pass and carried it 55 yards to the Trojans' 12 where he was run down by Boland. Here the Trojan forward wall held for downs and threw the Deacons back to the 15 yard marker where they secured the ball and began their first touchdown march.

The Trojans outplayed the Frosh in every department of the game as the statistics will show. In first downs the Trojans led 12 to 6. L. C. attempted 9 passes and completed 5 for gains of 120 yards. The Deacons attempted 15 skyspecials and 4 of them reached their destination for gains of 56 yards. The fast Trojan backs intercepted 4 of the Babys' attempts and the Deacons nabbed one of the Trojans' tosses. In the Trojan backfield, Gibson was the outstanding star of the day with Weldon also furnishing good work and plenty of action. The Trojans were greatly aided by the interference of Hoyle and Davis and it was the best demonstration of blocking that has been presented by the Wave this season.

In the line Chandler, McFayden, Goodwin and Bullock were the defensive stars of the encounter with Chandler playing one of the best defensive games of the season for the Trojans.

The Louisburg team was hindered lots by the drizzling rain that fell throughout, but the boys were holding on to the ball despite the slipperiness of it.
