Salesmen On Campus

Have you noticed the excessive number of salesmen on campus recently? If so, Phi Beta Lambda members are in the midst of their annual chocolate sale!

The sales serve as two main purposes: to give the chapter members experience in practicing good salesmanship and to add much-needed revenue to the Phi Beta Lambda treasury.

3's A Crowd

Appearing February 24 to March 1, the third of the Coffee House Series will feature the pop music sound of the 3's A Crowd. In 1967 Richard Patterson, Colleen Peterson, Dennis Pendrith, Bruce Cockburn, and David Wiffen's paths crossed so many times that they decided to settle down on one spot. While appearing at Expo '67, Mama Cass and Papa Daugherty saw the group and in a very short time they were in California recording their first album for Dunhill Records under the direction of Cass Elliott and Steve Barri. Then it was back home to Canada. Regarding the type of music the group plays, drummer Richie Patterson says, "We'll play the music we like, do our own things and if people go for it, that's good." Bruce Cockburn, the writer of the group, says, "I want to keep up a reputation of being myself; therefore, I'll play the music I want to play."

3'A Crowd has had its ups and downs, but now they are ready to clear a path to the top.

Freshman Dance

On January 31, 1969, the Freshmen sponsored the first dance of the New Year for the purpose of raising money for the Spring Formal. This, along with the collecting of quarters in Freshman Chapel, is hoped to supply enough money to promote the spring event.

Providing entertainment for this special occasion were the Cliffhangers of Enfield, a group composed of five young musicians who have had several successful engagements in Richmond and Raleigh.

The price was $1.50 per person or $2.50 per couple, and it was held from eight-thirty until twelve in the college cafeteria. Everyone danced and enjoyed himself and is looking forward to the next dance.

Dorm Counselor

MRS. EILEEN HUNT

Do not let the word "new" fool any of you when it concerns Mrs. Eileen Hunt and her job as house counselor of New Dorm. Mrs. Hunt comes to us from just six miles outside of Louisburg and has been substituting in the dorms here for the past two years. In addition to this, she was house counselor six or eight years ago on Louisburg's campus.

Mrs. Hunt loves her work and enjoys her closeness to the students. The college is happy and honored to welcome her to the campus staff.
