FREE LECTURE - 11 a.m. Friday, November 5 in Great Hall

Bill T. Jones will discuss his work-in-progress STILL/HERE, which addresses the questions surrounding survival in life-threatening situations: What does it mean to be told that the double-mastectomy wasn't enough, the cancer has spread, you're going to die? To know that a virus called AIDS is in your blood? Indeed, what does it mean to be Still/Here?

LECTURE/DEMONSTRATION - 2 p.m. in Great Hall
Sponsored by the Carolina Union Performing Arts Committee
