"I mean, why can't we just chill?"

want to do is to hit it," why put yourself out there like that? I am not going to say that girls are the only ones to catch feelings, because we do too (occasionally). We just aren't about to put ourselves out there like y'all do. It's just not happening.

joking. On the real, I don't need a man to do anything for me. If I can't do it, it doesn't need to be done. I don't need the material stuff, I need the intellectual aspect, something that I can't give to myself. We are all in college about to get a degree (well most of us anyway). I agree, a lot of females want to be taken care of but I didn't come to college to have a man take care of me. When I graduate, I WILL be making six figures for myself so a guy better come with something better than that. Talking-bout-some "just chillin."

Deone: I hate that I said anything about "just chillin." You sound a little bitter.

Cheritta: That is for all the sistas who have fallen victim to "just chillin."

Cheritta: I think that it is all about your intentions because a lot of times, a female may view a guy as a prospective "boo piece" or someone to have a long term relationship with in the back of her mind, whereas guys don't have intentions of being committed. When a self-proclaimed "playa" first approaches a girl, the first thought in his mind is sexual or what he can get from "just chillin'" with her. Guys and girls just have totally different intentions.

Deone: Exactly! Some girls on this campus are all about "intentions". There is always a hidden objective with some girls. Either they want their wrists lit, their nails done or simply a free swipe up to Lenoir. It is always something.

Cheritta: Ain't nothing wrong with wanting a man with a meal plan! At least most girls don't venture out to ask for a trip to Red Lobster or Angus Barn. No, I am just Cheritta and Deone: See...Point proven. Guys and girls agree on a lot of different things. But, you have to admit that we disagree on a lot of things too. That's where we need to practice common sense and good judgement. Things vary on a person-to-person basis. Just know that if you are a fake balla, you better keep it tight, because you will get bounced. And for all the chickens, you better hold it down, because eventually, you will get plucked!
