

The Pilot

Gardner-Webb University

Friday, April 23, 2004

www.gwupilot.com

Volume 7 No. 13

Seniors say farewell to GWU

Photo by Joel Fluty

Above: Tyler Roach, senior, scales down a rope during his class at the Broyhill Adventure Course during his Wednesday afternoon class.

Below: Senior Ashley Atkinson types a paper in the Student Entertainment Office.

Photo by John Olson

Class of 2004 graduates May 8

Sarah Olimb
Pilot Editor

As the semester draws to an end, Gardner-Webb students scramble to finish projects and papers, and seniors are no exception. However, unlike their fellow students who will be returning to GWU's campus in August, the class of 2004 will don their caps and gowns on May 8 and officially complete their degrees.

Leaving behind a community known for its warmth and family-like atmosphere, these students will pursue other paths. Some will continue their education, enrolling in various graduate programs in the United States and abroad. Other seniors, after obtaining jobs, will begin life in the business world. Some students after graduating take a year off to enjoy life, pursue other interests and save money. Still others will couple this achievement with another milestone—marriage.

Graduation ceremonies are planned for May 8 in the Lutz-Yelton Convocation Center at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Friday night, May 7, the office of alumni relations and the office of the president are hosting a reception for graduates and their friends and families.

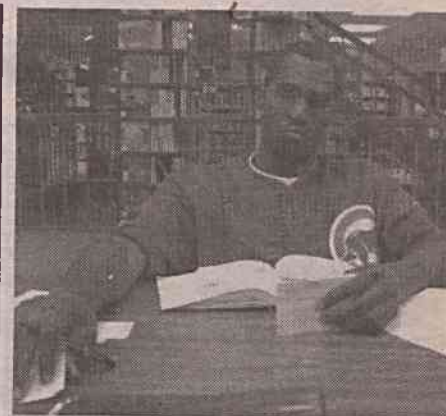

Photo by John Olson

Above: Craig Norman, senior, studies for a sports management test in Dover Memorial Library Wednesday evening.

Below: Senior Jennifer Foster teaches an American Sign Language lab on the patio of OMG Wednesday afternoon.

Photo by Scott Holstein

Photo by Scott Holstein

Senior Rachel Jones takes time to study Wednesday afternoon on the quad.

On the Inside

Blackburn accepts job at university in Virginia...

page 2

Communication studies professor pursues new horizons...

page 3

Alumni celebrate 50 year reunion...

page 6

Kill Bill vol.2 follows in first flick's footsteps...

page 10

Men's track finishes third at A-Sun meet...

page 12

News.....pages 2-4
Features.....pages 5-6
Op/Ed.....page 7-9
A&E.....page 10
Sports.....pages 11-12