

Question of the Week:

Do you feel the administration listens to student opinions on issues such as food service on campus?

Student Voices:

CURTIS AUSTIN, junior

"The technology and information administration listen to students and are trying to change it for the better, but the food services isn't good because no matter how many times they survey us I haven't seen any changes."

LAURA WAGNER, sophomore

"It depends on the topic, from my basic experience they have not made the changes that the students want and have asked for, but other departments such as the art department seem to have wonderful opportunities."

WILL PETERSON, senior

"Yes, the administration listens to the students. If you go to any administrators, like the dean of students, I think that they are responsive to the students needs."

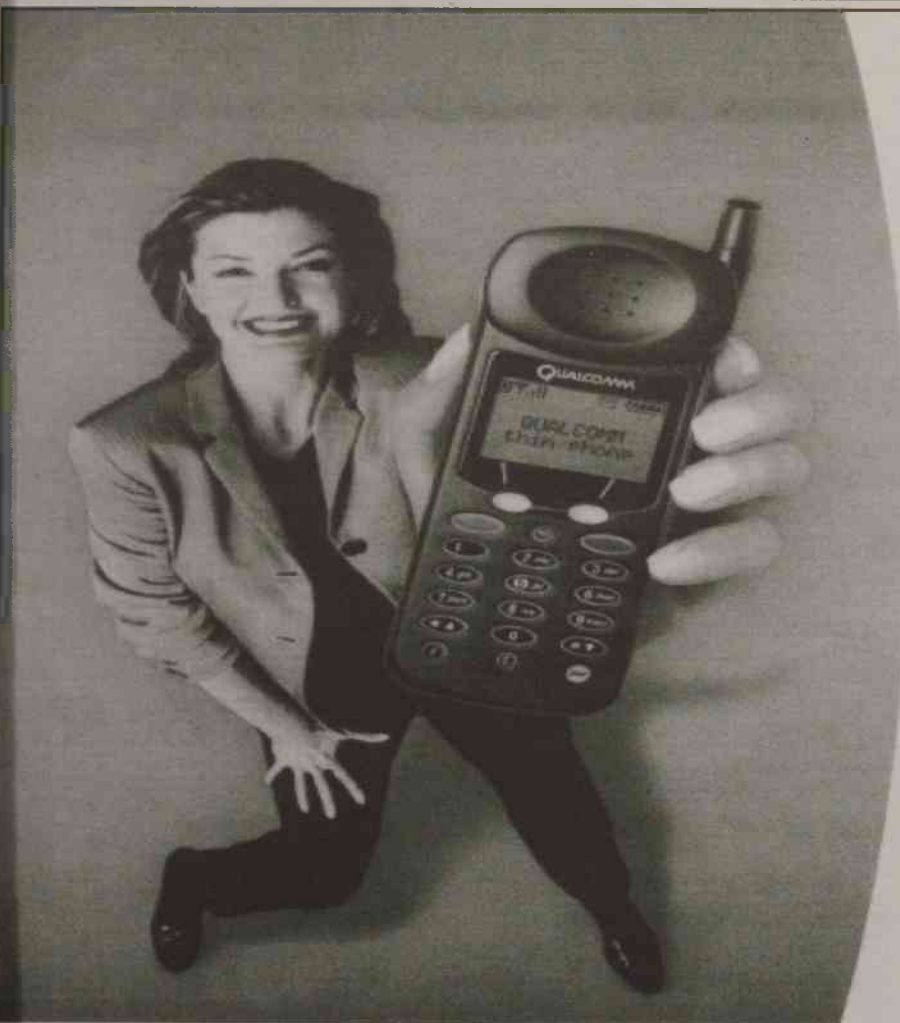

LINDSEY HOLLAND, freshman

"Yes, I think they do because of the great Internet questionnaires they distribute to the students."
