

Christian Council Retreat Cancelled

Due to mysterious circumstances surrounding last year's Christian Council retreat out at Pate's lodge, this year's annual excursion had to be called off. It seems as though Mr. Pate was somewhat displeased with the condition of his place after the Christians had left.

Old Duke Alumni Have Banquet

Last Wednesday night the Duke Alumni Association held its annual banquet and business meeting. The evening was keynoted by the appearance of several prominent campus dignitaries including a key member of the student judiciary, a member of the basketball team, and one of the stranger looking members of the drama "fruits". Also in attendance were most of the student center crowd and the Business Department.

Among the business transacted at the meeting was a proposal to change the name of the school to Duke Preparatory School. The proposal was passed unanimously and has been sent to Douglas M. Knight for approval.

Also passed was a proposal to extend honorary membership to students from other colleges. The only limitation was placed upon persons being "sent down" from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, who were excluded. As one member of the Duke Flunkiers, as the group is known on campus, phrased it, "I can't see any Duke Gentleman associating with one of those farmers from Whiskey Hill, not after what Dean Cox said about them."

How We Do It

Many people have asked how the LANCED manages to turn out page after page of this mindrot drivel week after week. Well, since I'm getting out of this chicken outfit, I'll let all you people in on the deep, dark secret. Hidden in a dark corner of the LANCED office rests the mot-

Hereford Fieldhouse Dedicated

Another new building was added to the beautiful campus of St. Andrews last May 8 when students gathered in front of the Student Center for the dedication of the new fieldhouse. Its name is appropriate because it will house the SAPC cows. The new building is a multi-million dollar structure enclosing three full size basketball courts, an olympic type swimming pool, six dressing rooms, five class rooms, eight offices, a special first aid room and a spacious equipment room. A special feature is a fun room which has six bowling lanes, five ping-pong tables, and ten pool tables.

Across the street stands the new stadium with football, field and track facilities. The seating capacity is 92,000. St. Andrews will field a football team next year on a varsity level. The Athletic Director released the name of the new man to coach football next year, he is Jay Strap. Mr. Strap received his Ph. D. in jockology at North Georgia State Penitentiary. The word is that many "super jocks" have already signed grant-in-aids. A prime candidate for St. Andy's first quarterback is Johnny Hunglow from Styrene High. Johnny made first team all-high school in tiddlewinks.

Things are very bright for the athletic future of St. Andrews in light of such developments.

to which is the key to our "success". The motto reads "Count the lines, multiply by two, and divide by seven."

My Vat Runneth Over

MINE!

This issue we here at the LANCED are beginning a new feature. This is the first of a series of thumbnail sketches of famous campus personalities. We are pleased to start with everybody's favorite, Corporal Steamer. He is perhaps better known by his affectionate nickname, Superkike. As the student jingle so charmingly puts it;

Faster than a speeding shekel!

More powerful than an interlocking directorate!

Able to leap ... ?

At a single bound?

"Supe" came to us only last year from his previous position at Poop Air Force Base where he ran a motorized delicatessen. He gained valuable experience at Poop which we have been getting the benefit of over the past two years. Boy are we ever lucky!

Immediately upon his arrival he instituted many far-reaching changes. He is often quoted as having said, "They's gonna be some changes made around here, I'll tellye that." He adjusted the prices to fit the students' budgets (all students, of course, were expected to have an independent supply of money to the tune of about $75.00 per month), ordered vast quantities of useful items (Inflate Truecrud's books, suave "sweat shirts", and thousands of imitation leatherette booksacks, and many other useful, fast selling curios), and absolutely terrorized the patrons of the Snack Bar by reintroducing the use of people behind the counters instead of those godawful machines put in the previous year by Uncle Shylock.

Several other students and I have collected many of Supe's picturesque sayings which we want to get published in book form later this year. We're going to call it, PICTURESQUE SAYINGS OF "SUPERKIKE." I've selected a few of my favorites to print here as a sort of preview. I know the selection contains at least one of your favorites too! Here they are.

"If it's wrong, you did it. If it's right, I did it!"

"Those @#%$&*0 1:~/1@#$/ spots on the rugs were the fault of you little +!(1/2?&-1/2 3/4 1/4...! + rds who tote dranks in there!"

You (1/8?&-7/8 3/4 5/8 1/2 3/8 1/4! + ... 1/4 1/4 3/8 1/2 5/8 3/4 7/8 - & 7/8 (1 + . . .)"

If the ?&-7/8 3/4 5/8 1/2 3/8 1/4 1/4! + tag says $2.98, it means $2.98!"

"Who?, What postal inspector?!"

"Save those coupons and I'll get us a pool table."

"One for me, one for you, one for me, one for me, and one for me."

"?&-7/8 3/4 5/8 1/2 3/8 1/4 + 9."

Supe has lived up to his word. There have been many changes made around here. Some have worked better than others, but all have been interesting.

I'M TIRED of writing this filthy !!$$. But the lay-out people tell me I've got to crank out another three quarters of an inch of this insuperable trash. So here goes.....crank, crank, grind, grind, (just cut it off when you get enough, Brian) crank, crank, crank, grind, hack, hack, crank, crank, grind, bump (Oops!). grind, grind, crankcrankcrank, ad infinitum.

Laurinburg: Center Of Bible Belt-Buckle

You know we St. Andrews' students are very fortunate to be so well located. We are exposed to such wonderful cultural advantages, it is hard to know where to start. Why every morning we wake up (if we have clock radios) to the melodious strains of one of the various "avantgarde" pieces that WLNC is so famous for (if one doesn't wake up he must have been taking too much advantage of one of the cultural night spots that populate the area). And such wonderful advertising taste, like that for a certain "second rate" movie which wasn't "worth the money" that was shown last week at one of the first class theaters that we are graced with. Why, it didn't even compare to the usual Elvis Pressley flick.

The line of "art" films dealing mostly, in an aesthetic manner of course, with sex that the local drive-ins run could be seen nowhere else (for various reasons mostly centering around court indictments). And speaking of sex, Paylor's our local bookstore carries a very high cultured selection of paperbacks on the subject. Unfortunately the selection is limited because they have to make some room for such trash as has more than a two worded title and less graphic trash as have more than two worded titles and less graphic illustrations on the front covers.

Back on the subject of the Communications media, until very recently, we could be very well informed concerning national and international events such as who was holding their monthly barbecue or fish fry in such a far-away exotic spot as Gibson or Johns, or how many people were layed up in Scotland Memorial due to heroic scars gained in combat in that far off land known as McColl. But now we have to read news about uninteresting, irrelevant events taking place in such banal spots as Vietnam and the Dominican Republic.

If one has an artistic eye for architecture and sculpture then Laurinburg is the right place. Now it may not have any beautiful museums or galleries (there is always "spaghetti"), but it still has its beautiful Civil War monument and its interesting "eclectic" architecture downtown (mid-depression period I would judge). And then there is East Laurinburg, but I don't believe it is necessary to go into that. But unfortunately these lovely structures are being razed in the name of progress.

And to just think that some students complain about being situated in Laurinburg, saying that they would rather be in a more cosmopolitan area where they could take in a professional play or concert every once and awhile. Ingrates!
