

FRESHMAN YANK ALBERS, center forward, set a school record this season by scoring 15 goals.

Freshman Feelings

Lynn Leverton and Preston Tinsley

In the first issue of THE LANCE, we stated that freshmen had no complaints about C and C. Well, that initial period of nirvana is over and the complaints are rolling in. One complaint per freshman.

For two hours on Monday or Tuesday freshmen sat through the biggest practical joke since Nero burned Rome and blamed it on the Christians. From the first definition to the last essay, it was a hopeless cause.

Is there any point in giving a test that the average student cannot pass if the test is graded on the average scale? Doesn't it defeat the purpose of the course (what is the purpose, by the way?) when students are required to remember details (how many children did Isaiah have by his second wife?) rather than the basic teachings of the Old Testament?

A rumor is going around that none of the teaching team passed the test. Although this is only a rumor, (who would admit it?), it seems very possible. Another little nasty revelation heard is that the average right on Monday's objective test is four. This is not only possible, it's inevitable.

In a much more pleasant vein, we can always look back on Parents Day. Somebody up there must like Sir Andy; the sun shone, nobody drowned in the lake and the fried chicken was very good. What more could we ask for?

Knights Begin Chess

There is a new Chess Club being introduced on the St. Andrews campus.

The first game with another college Chess Club will be at Duke on November 14. A one game, six board formal will be used with a time limit of 50 points or one hour. The six boards are arranged in order of player strength. The number 1 player on the St. Andrews club will play the number 1 player on the Duke team, the Number 2 player plays the number 2 player onward to the matching of the number 6 players.

St. Andrews Gets New Baby Team

The varsity baseball team has two new additions, both making their appearance this week in the Laurinburg area. Coach Ballou Skinner is credited with the scouting of an 8lb. 6oz. shortstop, and Coach Gerald Griffin with an 8lb. 10 oz. ace moundsman. Both baby boys were fully dressed in uniform and are awaiting their turn for action on the S.A. squad.

Well, the big Babes' gotta bat on out for now due to the fact that the foul breath of mid-semester is coming down the back of his neck, in his ears, eyes and nose, and is about to put him in a state akin to suspended animation for a week or so. Gag, wheez, etc. . .

So sit tight til the work of our weekends comes out and don't play pinochle with any shifty-eyed aardvarks—and watch out for cocaine-sniffing goons too, baby.

The Chess Club also hopes to play Davidson and N.C. State in the future. All those who are interested in joining the St. Andrews club are asked to contact - Roger Stephens - ext. 278; John Walker - ext. 335; Judson Duffe - ext. 330.

KNARF GRIER opposes Warren Maxon on the mats in a pre-season wrestling team practice. Grier, a heavyweight, was the most valuable of the '64-'65 season.

Memorial Scholarships Announced

Three holders of memorial scholarships for the current year at St. Andrews Presbyterian College have been announced by President Moore.

Nancy McNair Hitt, a junior from Hamlet, has received the Edward McLaurin McLean Scholarship, endowed by Floyd C. McLean, Sr., of Laurinburg in memory of his wife. Nancy has been a dormitory leader and her major is elementary education.

Dianne Carol Huff, a junior from Marion, has been awarded the Currie-Patterson Scholarship endowed by J. Edward Kale, Sr., of Lincolnton. Dianne is the junior class representative on the Student Life Committee and an English major.

The third scholarship winner is Margaret Elaine Odham, a sophomore from Fair Bluff. She is the holder of the McLaurin Memorial Scholarship, established by six brothers and sisters in memory of Ed and Roy McLaurin of Laurinburg. Margaret has been named to the Dean's list for academic excellence and is also an English major.
