Netters Capture First Title

The College of Charleston's reign of the DIAC tennis courts was brought to an abrupt halt here last weekend as the St. Andrews netters won their first annual tournament by an impressive 26-13 margin.

After the first two rounds of competition, the Knights had enough points to clinch a tie in the tourney. All St. Andrews players won the first day to give the team an early lead.

As play started on Saturday afternoon, all eyes were focused on the number one court where Vann Taylor was playing Char-leston's number one player, Suzanne Venning. Miss Venning is currently the South's 10 ranked player.

Taylor quickly proved his superiority by beating Miss Venning in two straight sets, 6-3 and 7-5. In reaching the finals, Taylor defeated Ronnie Morris of Lynchburg, 7-5 and 6-4.

Larry Mullins trounced Mickey Bell of the College of Charleston in the finals, 6-0 and 6-2. Number three man, Mark Walker, defeated Gerry Lominack of Charleston 6-1 and 6-3 in the finals. Terry Jones, playing in the fourth spot, slipped by Huckabee of Methodist in the finals, 3-6, 8-6, and 8-6. Rick LeGrande also won while Tom Trotter lost to Joe Runey 1-6 and 4-6.

Winning for St. Andrews in the doubles were Mullins and Jones, Taylor and Walker, and LeGrande and Trotter.

The Knights brilliant triumph spoiled the College of Charleston's chances of retiring the traveling tournament trophy, which they had won the past two years.

McInnis Leads Field With 158

By JOE JUNOD

Bill McInnis sank a fifteen foot birdie putt on the 36th hole of the third Annual Dixie Conference Tournament to insure the Conference title for the Knights and the medalist title for himself.

St. Andrews placed first with a 832 total. Each day the best five scores from each competing team was tabulated. The lowest total for thirty-six holes determined the winner.

N. C. Wesleyan was second, seventeen strokes off the pace. In third place with 852 strokes was U.N.C. at Charlotte. Methodist and Lynchburg colleges placed fourth and fifth respectively.

Combining their talents in a solid team effort, Coach Hoy's linksters found themselves three strokes behind N. C. Wesleyan at the end of the first eighteen holes.

At the end of twenty-seven holes the boys thought they had lost any chance they previously had to win the title. McInnis had shot the front nine in a horrid 46. Bill Hubbard had a 45 and the other scores weren't much better.

On the back nine Hubbard finished birdie, par, birdie for a two over par. McInnis shot an even par 36 also finishing birdie, par, birdie. Athos Rostan played the steadiest round of the day, an (40-41) 81.

The long, treacherous eighteen hole, Pinehurst No. 2, layout is considered one of the toughest courses in the country, by pros and amateurs alike. Out of bounds, huge, deadly sand traps, high rough, and the length of the course itself make Pinehurst No. 2 a real test of golf for anyone.

Rich Vanderbloemen had an 83 on the first round, but completed the tournament with a troubled but "easy 88." Dave Seale improved his first round score of 88 with an 84.

On the first day only two players broke 80, McInnis shooting 76 and Lee Ball of N. C. Wesleyan firing a 78. Rush Shull of U. N. C. at Charlotte was the only one in a field of thirty-four golfers to play eighteen holes in under 80 on the final day.

McInnis, medalist for the tournament in general, Coach Roy said, "It was the best Dixie Golf Tournament ever held in terms of course condition and sportsmanship of the players. I received unqualified compliments from all parties connected with the third Dixie tournament."

The Human Relations Club banquet will be May 18 at 7:00 p.m. in the alcove of the cafeteria. Mr. Davie Smith, personnel manager of Scotland Mills will be guest speaker.

Ellerbe Ackerman will be installed as the 1966-67 president of the club, Angela Stronach as vice-president, and Tillie Van Dyck as secretary-treasurer.

This year's officer have been Crystal West, president; Cheryl McNeill, vice-president; Martha Milton, secretary; and Sue Hedrick, treasurer.

Builds Gymnasium

St. Andrews Presbyterian College has awarded the general contract for construction of a new physical education building which will cost an estimated $1,500,000 complete with equipment and furnishings.

General contractor for the building, including necessary utilities, will be Boyle Construction Company of Sumter, S.C. Announcement of awarding the contract to the low bidder at a cost of approximately $1,354,000 was made by Halbert M. Jones of Laurinburg, chairman of the trustees building committee.

A spokesman for the Sumter firm said they would begin work within a few days on the site, located across a central mall from the Student Center and flanked by the eight dormitories. The contract calls for completion in 450 calendar days.

President Ansley C. Moore noted that this is the first of a group of buildings authorized by the trustees last fall. Others include a science building, a chapel, and dormitories as needed.

Architects for the physical education plant are A.G. Odell, Jr., and Associates of Charlotte, who have won several awards for their design of the St. Andrews campus.

The major intercollegiate basketball court will seat 1,200 and can be converted for intramural sports.

The intercollegiate size swimming pool was given by Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. O'Herron, Jr. of Charlotte as a memorial to their son, Edward M. O'Herron, III.

Other facilities in the new plant will include a 6-lane bowling alley, a game room, four handball courts, wrestling room, space to accommodate visiting teams, offices and work space for the physical education staff, three classrooms, plus locker and shower facilities.

Team looks on as Coach Hoy and McInnis display trophy.
