Student Association Elections Today

Polls Close At 5 P.M.

BY STEVEN J. KUNKLE,
STAFF WRITER

A two week election campaign draws to a close today with the voting for a number of student offices.

Little overt campaigning was noted, and the high points of the campaign were the dorm forums held in Mecklenburg and Granville Dorms on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, in which students had a chance to listen for those running for office and to hear answers to questions that had been asked.

Heading the ballot are three candidates for Student Association President. These include Lin Thompson, David Strasburger, and Celeste Tillson.

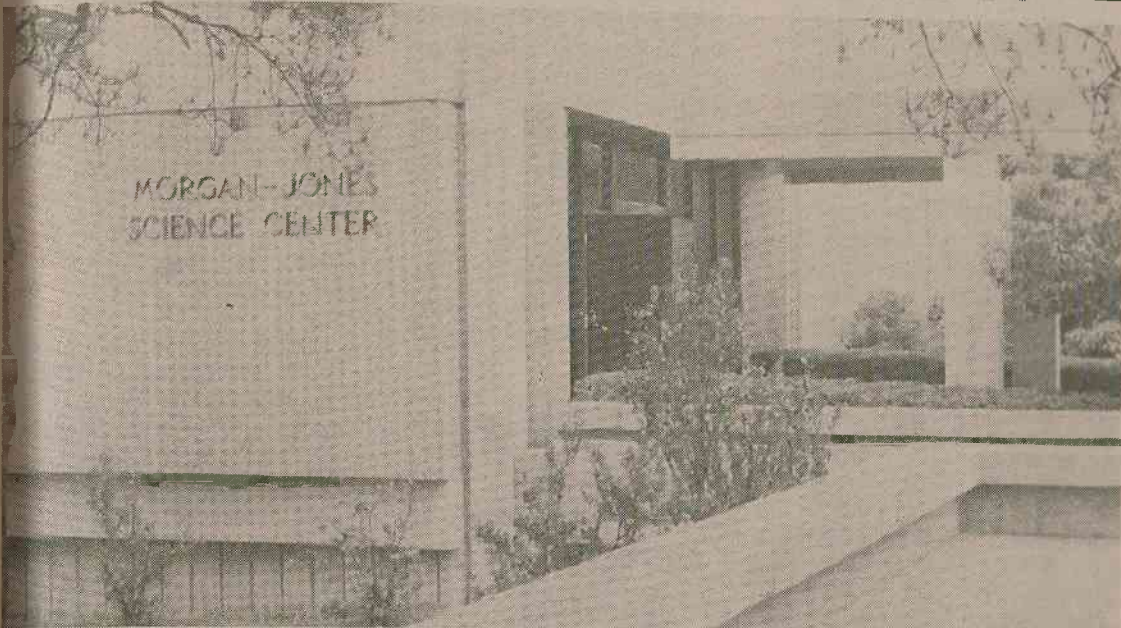

Those seeking cabinet posts are Cindy Jenkins and Joanie Reback for Secretary; and Bill Mosely and Brent Bystzyki for Treasurer.

Unopposed candidates for cabinet posts are Bob Haley for Vice President, and J.C. Clarke for Attorney General.

The College Union Board has Jim Bumgardner and Ed Wilson competing for the Presidency. For the office of Vice President, Bubba McAllister, Shannon Huff, and Clay Murray are candidates.

For the College Christian Council, Garnett Conaway and Bill Owens are running for the Presidency, and Marie Buffaloe is unopposed for Vice President. For Secretary-Treasurer, Tommy Brown, Bronwen Woodson, and Robert Poston are competing.

Plans Announced For Science Center Dedication

High quality science education, the opportunities the future holds in science, and tributes to those citizens who have given major impetus to such programs at St. Andrews will be the theme for the last four days in April on the campus.

The dedication of the Morgan-Jones Science Center and the John Blue Laboratory will be the central event, occurring Friday morning April 29, at 10:30. The ceremonies will take place on the lawn between the Science Center and Lake Moore.

Those being honored at this time are the late Edwin Morgan, Laurel Hill; Halbert M. Jones, Laurinburg, and the late John Blue of Laurinburg and Huntsville, AL.

Activities of the week will open Wednesday morning, April 27, at 11:30 when Dr. George Hitchings, retired chairman of Burroughs-Wellcome, Inc., will speak on "The Importance of Irrelevance in Science and Technology," the first in a series of programs running through Friday on the theme, "Values and Expectations in Science and Technology."

From the humanities side, at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon, Dr. Harmon Smith, an ethicist from Duke University, will speak on "Genetic Intervention."

The Thursday program will be led by Dr. Ted Wendell, a St. Andrews alumnus, who is now directing the physicians' assistants program at Bowman Gray Medical School, Winston-Salem, speaking on "What Happens

Stephens Appointed Associate Dean Of Academic Affairs

Dean Ronald Crossley has announced the appointment of Dr. James Stephens as Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. Stephens' new duties will include serving as the coordinator for the thematic major program, coordinator of winter and summer terms, and coordinator of the college's internship program. Dr. Stephens, who came to the college in 1969 as an assistant professor of chemistry and is currently serving as registrar and associate professor of chemistry, will handle routine academic student problems such as approving over loads. He will also be responsible for developing an improved student exchange program for the winter term.

Highland Players To Conclude Season With Rollicking Chaucerian Tale

The dramatization of Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales", scheduled April 29-May 1, is the concluding performance of the Highland Players 1976-77 season at St. Andrews.

Using adaptations of medieval popular songs in a modern idiom with a Chaucerian flavor, the play includes four tales with love and marriage for their theme. Together they form a debate on the comedy of the relations between the sexes.

The tale is about an assorted group of pilgrims joined by Geoffrey Chaucer (Bill Allen) at the Tabard Inn in Southward, London, as they travel to the shrine of Thomas a Becket. The time is spring of 1387.

The jovial Host (David Miller) greets his guests and suggests that each pilgrim should tell a tale as they ride along the way.

The drunken Miller (Mike Kelly) insists on telling what he calls "the funniest, rudest tale on earth" about the seduction of Alison (Susan Russell), the pretty young wife of an old carpenter (John Courtney) by a lusty Oxford College student named Nicholas (David Niblock). The story involves a hilariously comic en- (continued on page 3)
