VETERANS TO OPEN COFFEE SHOP

For one of their projects this year, The Veterans Club is going to open a Coffee Shop in the basement of the Administration building. They have cleaned and painted the room in back of the Student Store. They will sell hot coffee and doughnuts. President Bill Lee says that all that is holding them up now is a coffee urn which they have ordered. We wish the veterans lots of luck and hope they make loads of money (as well as good coffee).

A young college lad sent this letter to his father.
"Dear Dad,
Gue$$ what I need mo$t of all. That$ right. $end it along.
Be$t wi$he$.
Your $on Bill."
The father replied:
"Dear Bill,
Nothing ever happens here. Write aNOther letter a NON. NOW we have to say good-by. Dad."

PJC Quartet Sings At Lumberton

The second Sunday evening in October was college night at the First Presbyterian Church in Lumberton.

The program was in charge of Mr. Koesy. Speakers for service were Miss Nancy Bell from FMC and Ola Forbes and Bill Hollenbeck who gave testimonials on what the Christian Faith has meant to them. Special music was furnished by the double quartette from PJC and a quartette from FMC. The speakers and music were alternated.

The program was as follows: The Invocation, scripture, prayer and introductions by Mr. Koesy. The Master's Touch, Miss Bell. The FMC quartette. Bill Hollenbeck. The PJC quartette. Ola Forbes. Benediction Mr. Koesy. Choral Response, PJC Quartette.

The entire program was well received.

Presbyterian Choir Plans Christmas Program Dec. 13th

On Sunday evening, December 13, the chancel choir of the Maxton Presbyterian Church will sing a program of Christmas music. The choir will be under the direction of Mr. Crabtree and Mrs. R. M. Williams of Maxton will be organist. Soloists for the occasion will include Robert Tolar of PJC and Mrs. R. D. Croom of Maxton. The Rev. Charles Donnel, pastor of the church, will act as narrator as the story of the birth of Christ is told in Scripture and music.

Most of the music will represent the traditional and beloved carols of America and Europe. However, a number of lesser known selections have been programmed, among them the works of Bach and Pergolesi.

The choir is a volunteer choir composed of members of the church and several boys from Presbyterian Junior College. Among the college students participating in the program are Robert Tolar, Eddie LaMotte and Charles Edgar. Other college students interested in joining the organization are asked to see Mr. Crabtree concerning membership. Last year, ten students were regular members.

RUMORS FLY: HOLIDAY DUE?

Usually reliable sources have reported to the SANDSPUR that those now in thralldom at PJC may be temporarily emancipated for a few days. These sources, which cannot be named, say that classes will be dismissed at 2:00 on Wednesday, November 25, and will not be resumed until Monday, November 30, at 8:00. Happy Thanksgiving!

"What kind of a roommate have you got?"
"Well, last night he hit his knee on a chair and said, 'Oh, the perversity of inanmite objects.'"

Glee Club Sings December 11th

On December 11, the College Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Crabtree, will present a concert of music appropriate to the Christmas season. The concert will be held in the college auditorium and accompanists for the club will be David Candler and Howard Watts. Also featured on the program will be a double quintet made up of members of the club. This group has already performed in Lumberton, Maxton, and Rockingham and audience reaction has been warmly appreciative.

Although designed primarily as a Christmas program, the pieces to be sung that evening represent not only traditional and beloved seasonal selections but songs from the wide repertory of music both sacred and secular for men's voices. Arcadelt, Palestrina, Bach, Tchesnokov, Bortniansky, and Brahms are among the composers represented. A group of folk songs of England, Germany, Finland, and America are also programmed.

Reorganized this year under the direction of Mr. Crabtree, the glee club has grown into one of the largest and most active of campus organizations. Its membership of twenty-five voices includes both campus and day students. Included among its officers are Robert Tolar, president; Charlie Keels, vice president; Bill McLaurin, secretary; and Elinos Whitlock, librarian.

New Face Adopted For The SANDSPUR

Probably everyone noticed that the October issue of THE SANDSPUR had a new face. It was printed on the October issue on trial, and since everyone seemed to like it, THE SANDSPUR Staff adopted it as the official SANDSPUR face. The new face will appear on all other issues during the school year of 1953-54.

For this new face, we are indebted to David Chandler, a freshman member of the SANDSPUR Staff, for it was through his efforts entirely that this new face was created. At the first meeting of the staff, someone suggested that a new and more attractive face be designed and placed on the front of the paper. David volunteered immediately for the task and began working on the project. After making one unsuccessful attempt, he designed the face which now appears on THE SANDSPUR.

The lettering on the face was done free-hand in German script. The steeple drawing, which was reproduced from a smaller drawing that appeared on the old SANDSPUR, was also done free-hand.

THE SANDSPUR Staff is grateful to David for his splendid art contribution.

Freshman: "May I kiss you?"
Co-ed: "Jeepers! Another amateur!"

Radio Club Serves Public Relations Of College

The Radio Club of PJC presents a fifteen minute program every Sunday at 12 noon, over WEWO at Lumberton. This program is taped and relayed to the radio stations at Fairmont and Lumberton, after which according to present arrangements it is to be further relayed to stations centering about Rockingham and Fayetteville.

The purpose of this program is to keep PJC before the attention of the public in this section of the State. This is obviously a wide-open assignment, and anything reputable can go into such a program. The Radio Club will

On October 5, the members of Phi Theta Kappa, our Junior College honorary scholastic society, were awarded their keys. Mr. Crabtree made a short talk on the qualifications necessary for membership in the society. Then the members were asked to come forward and were presented with their keys.

On each key there are the Greek letters Phi, Theta, and Kappa which signify Wisdom, Aspiration and Purity. The badge stands as a symbol for the high idealism of the organization. The objects of the society are the development of character, the promotion of scholarship, and the cultivation of fellowship among students.

These students had been selected for membership by the Admissions and Graduation board and initiated into the society in September. We hope that many of the student body will avail themselves and become members of this organization.

As It Happens

By Bill Hollenbeck

This morning (as every other morning), the author awoke with the strange screaming cry of the Whitlock ringing in his ears. Of course everyone knows what the cry of Whitlock is. It goes like this: quote "Get up Frankieeeee (gasp eeeeeee)", unquote. Now that we have disposed of that problem, let us turn our minds to serious (?) matters.

Matter number 1. George Chinshut has lost his don't — you — say — it — before — ladies. He apparently recovered them after a heated chase somewhere or other. Anyway, he found them when he got back. If it was a little late, we might say that it was a result of Rat Week.

By the way, since we are talking about Rat Week, did anyone notice that big beautiful, shiny, oil tank that was entombed at the time? Anyway, a couple of days later, the furnace turned green. Someone found a drowned Rat in the fuel supply.

Now, however, it is time to get back to the real, hot news of the
