classroom duties, these students carried out the schedule for the day grandly.

Bringing to a close the activities of the day was the crowning of Roberta Moore as "Miss S. T. C." Preceded by her attendants, including Rosa Edwards and Addie Howard who were candidates for "Miss S. T. C.", she entered the auditorium with James Walker, vice-president of the Senior Class. She was presented to Alexander Davis who recognized her as the most outstanding student for 1949 and who placed on her head a crown signifying "victory." Attendants danced to her honor. Marjorie Coston recited "Ask Me Why I Love You", and Glennie Hollo- mon sang "Beautiful Dreamer". Thus ended College Day.
