The American Flag

Here's to the red of it,
 There's not a thread of it,
 No, not a shred of it,
 In all the spread of it,
 From foot to head,
 But heroes bled for it,
 Faced steel and lead for it,
 Precious blood shed for it,
 Bathing in red.

—John Daly.

PETROLEUM REFINERS SPONSOR OIL ESSAY CONTEST

A University of Oklahoma undergraduate, Clarence Fiester, was named First Prize Winner in the First Annual $500 Re-fined Oil Essay Contest, Verne T. Worthington, President of the Association of Petroleum Re-refiners, sponsor of the contest, recently announced.

Other winners were: Franklin Leach, Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, Texas, Second Prize; James Elan, Wake Forest, North Carolina, Third Prize; Carol Marie Welch, Butler University, Indianapolis, Indiana, Fourth Prize; and Elaine Vislotsky, New Jersey State Teachers College, Patterson, New Jersey, Fifth Prize.

The Association of Petroleum Refiners is an organization dedicated to furthering the conservation of the nation's oil supplies through re-refining. A $500.00 Essay Contest on some phase of re-refining will be held again this winter. Further announcements will be forthcoming.

Studying Guidance

Audey Mack '52 and Lucille Mitchell '53 are enrolled in the Summer Sessions Guidance Class. This is a step toward meeting needs in their respective communities.

STAFF MEMBERS WED

Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Minga have recently announced the marriage of their daughter, Audrey Elizabeth, to Mr. H. Leon Prather, on June 6, 1953, in Spring Hope, North Carolina.

Mrs. Prather is an instructor in the Science department of the Elizabeth City State Teachers College, while Mr. Prather is a member of the Social Studies staff and director of the College Band.

The ultimate goal in a democratic society is self-discipline. When children first enter school they look to parents and to adults for guidance. They depend on and, to a surprising degree, accept adult standards throughout most of their elementary school years. In adolescence they begin to throw off this cloak of dominance. They look to their peers for more satisfying behavior standards and codes. Thus begins a critical process by which children eventually reach a stage at which they make their own decisions and become responsible for their own behavior.

Back To S.T.C.

Clarence Dowd and Robert Hailes visited the campus during the week of June 15.

FOOTBALL VIEWS FOR '54

Eighteen lettermen are expected to return from last year's football squad provided they are not drafted during the summer months for military service.

Five lettermen graduated, including two all-Conference men. These men will be greatly missed.

Coach White seriously doubts that the Pirates will be able to repeat their performance of the 1952 season because of the constant threat by the military, and the increase in out-of-state tuition which will work a hardship on athletes from outside the state of North Carolina.

Football practice is scheduled to begin September 1. Every effort possible will be put forth to present a formidable team. The schedule follows:

Sept. 26—Voorhees—Here (tentative).

Oct. 2—Savannah State—There.

Oct. 10—St. Paul's—There.

Oct. 17—Livingstone—Here.

Oct. 24—Morristown—There.

Oct. 31—St. Augustine—Here.

Nov. 7—Fayetteville—There.

Nov. 21—Norfolk State—Here — Homecoming.

Plans are being made to install lights on the Athletic Field by September. If this is done, all home games, except homecoming, will be played under the lights.

Rules for the game of living cannot of course be as specific and definite as they are for sports. One difficulty is that life situations change, and so more than merely a routine move is necessary. Rather we must move in the light of our past plays and in accordance with new conditions. We must adjust to changes. Everyday living involves constant change. It requires adjustment and readjustment for success.

Schacter.

I asked an aged man with hoary hairs, Wrinkled and curved with worldly cares:

"Time is the warp of life", said he, "O tell

The young, the fair, the way to weave it well"

ENJOYING THE GAME

Caught by the camera are John Bynum and Audrey Hailes, who were ardent supporters of the intra-mural games.

CHAMPIONS OF MALE DIVISION

Shown in a group picture after their championship game are the six young men who copped the intramural title.
