

The News Argus.

VOLUME II, NO. 2

WINSTON-SALEM TEACHERS COLLEGE, WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

MARCH, 1963

Coeds Have Week; Men's Week Coming

DR. PATTERSON, FASHION SHOW ARE FEATURED FOR WOMEN

The first annual Women's Week was observed by the coeds of Winston-Salem Teachers College February 10-17. The theme of the affair was "Modern Women in Society."

The purposes of the affair were to help women students develop an appreciation of cultural activities; to develop a closer relationship among the women of the college family; and to stimulate leadership on a wider scale.

A music recital, which was the initial affair, was well attended by approximately 600.

Concluding the week was a Buffet Supper and Toast Hour which convened Sunday, February 17, at 6:30 p.m. Toasts were given by Mrs. Edythe Williams, our first lady; Mrs. Iola Dodson, Dean of Women; representatives from dormitories, Mildrietta Chatman, Colson Hall; Janet Turner, Atkins Hall; Thelma Ellis, Pegram Hall; Betty Jeffers, day student; Mary Wilkins, former Miss T. C.; and President Kenneth Williams.

Highlights for the remainder of the week were as follows:

Mrs. Ola Mae Forte, director of the La Mae Beauty College, conducted a charm school at Atkins Hall, Tuesday, February 12, at 6:30 p.m.

Dr. Joseph N. Patterson, Professor of English, relayed an enlightening message to the student body Wednesday, February 13, at 10:00 in Fries Auditorium.

Dr. Patterson pointed out that woman is a mystery, a paradox, a puzzle, and a subject who has intrigued man since the beginning of time. He also said that "the modern Negro woman's role is extraordinarily unique."

An Art Exhibit which displayed the works of Mrs. Madge Neely, former Resident Director of Colson Hall, immediately followed Patterson's speech in the parlor of Pegram Hall.

Three plays were presented Wednesday evening. They were entitled "Accent on Revenge," "Among Us Girls," and "How the Story Grew."

Dance time was Thursday night for the coeds of the college. In observing Valentine's Day, the dance was enjoyed by all.

Friday night was enjoyed by clothes lovers which featured Mrs. Maxine Bradley, a professional model from Atlanta, Ga. She was assisted by Mrs. Yvonne Wiley, campus queen, and fifteen assisting student models.

Sunday, February 17, featured Mrs. Elizabeth Bouey-Yates of Richmond, Va. who discussed "A New Look at the Old World." Her talk emphasized the great need for brotherhood with Africa.

Students who planned and carried out the week's program were: Pauline Matthews and Betty Jeffers, Chairman and Co-Chairman; Music Recital Committee, Joyce Love; Mid-Week Program, Thelma Ellis; Evening of Drama, Maxine Brown; Fashion Revue, Rosalyn Cox; Buffet Supper and Toast Hour, Vida Bailey; Publicity Committee, Mary Roseboro.

Other members of the committee were Rachel Alexander, Harriette Bailey, Jane Banner, Virginia Barr, Ruby Bolden, Eva Bryant, Mildrietta Chatman, Rosalyn Cox, Lucia Daniels, Charlotte Dawson, Jennie Diggs, Delores Graham, Delores Gorham, Mamie Lenoir, Betty Martin, Loretta Mattochs, Conchitta

Leaders of Women's Week (left to right): Rosalyn Cox, senior, Rocky Mount, N. C.; Pauline Matthews, junior, Martinsville, Va.; and Mrs. Maxine Brown, senior, Winston-Salem, N. C.

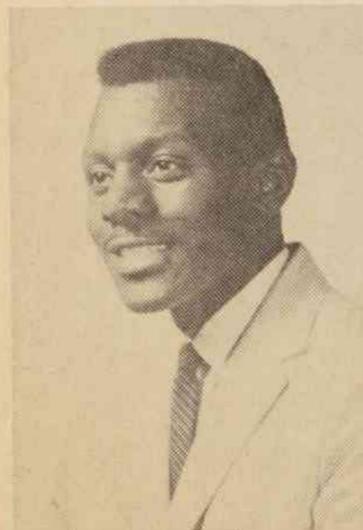

Milligan, Bessie Rice, Jeanette Richardson, Betty Robinson, Barbara Roberts, Charlene Russell, Rosa Tribble, Janet Turner, and Barbara Wilkins. Mrs. Martha S. Atkins assisted in providing music for the entire week.

Staff advisors: Mrs. C. M. Bennett, Mrs. B. D. Lawhorn, Miss H. B. Raiford, Mrs. M. P. Sherrill, and Mrs. A. C. Mazyck.

CLINTON TO PARTICIPATE IN CROSSROADS AFRICA PROJECT

Andrew Clinton has been chosen as Winston-Salem Teachers College student to participate in the 1963 project of the Operations Crossroads Africa, Inc.

Clinton, native of Winston-Salem, is the son of Mrs. Dora

ANDREW CLINTON
... going to Africa ...

Clinton of 821 Cameron Ave., and a senior at Winston-Salem Teachers College. He is a graduate of Atkins High School, and the Community of Lay Scholars of Wake Forest College.

He is a member of the Mt. Calvary Holy Church, and very active in church organizations. He is President of the Youth Department, Assistant Superintendent of Sunday School, Secretary of Junior Church, and a member of the choir.

On campus he is a member of the Student Council, Men's Week Committee, Fine Arts Society, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, and Yearbook staff and Vice President of the Senior Class. His hobbies include reading, traveling, working with young people and listening to music, especially classics.

After graduation, and completion of the Crossroads Africa Project, Andrew plans to enter the Peace Corps.

He states that the Crossroads Africa Project will be an interesting experience as well as a benefit to the college and the community.

Men's Week March 11 - 16

The Winston-Salem Teachers College will present its second annual Men's Week March 11-17. The theme underlining the program is "Assuming Responsibility in Democratic Group Living." Men's Week is a program designed to stimulate male students' interest and give guidance and direction to their college activities.

The main objectives of this special program are aimed to promote higher achievement among the male students, develop more wholesome activities toward the social life among students, to stimulate a better relationship between the male students and the faculty, to inspire a more cooperative attitude toward the objectives and ideal of the college, and to foster higher moral and ethical standards for the male students.

Registration for this week begins Monday, March 11 from 9:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. in the Alumni Building. A panel discussion on leadership will lead the opening session.

Tuesday, March 12, at 7:00 p.m. the President's Forum will be held in the Alumni Building.

The men will sponsor the program during regular chapel period Wednesday morning at 10:00 a.m. At 7:00 p.m. a Greek Symposium will be in the Alumni Building. This will be followed by the campus serenade by fraternities and a fashion show and movie, "A Man Called Peter."

The Men's Review will begin Friday at 8:15 p.m. in Fries Auditorium.

Saturday night promises the biggest event for all the students. The Drifters will put on a show in the college gym from 8:00-12:00. Student tickets will be $1.00 in advance and $1.50 at the door. Adult tickets will be $3.00 and $3.50 at the door.

Sunday, March 17 will climax the Men's Week activities with Men's Vespers and a reception afterward.

Faculty supervisors are the Rev. Henry S. Lewis, chaplain; Jefferson Humphrey, counselor; and Joseph H. Daniels, residence director.

Co-Chairmen of the General Planning Committee are Andrew Clinton and William Waters.

GOVERNMENT LISTS JOB OPPORTUNITIES

On January 10-11, 1963 a Secretary's Conference, which was sponsored by the Department of Labor, convened in Washington, D. C. College Presidents and Executives attended the affair.

The theme of the conference was "the responsibility of colleges and universities in the preparation and motivation of youth for the emerging opportunities in government and industry."

Vice President, Lyndon B. Johnson relayed an address to the group on January 10. He elaborated on the fact that educational opportunities are open to Negroes in our contemporary society which were closed to Negroes in previous generations. "The question facing the young Negro today is not just the question of how much opportunity there will be in America in the future, but how much opportunity will there be for him." The most tragic mistake that a young Negro can make today is to decide that there is no basis for faith in the opportunity which the future will offer him.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard
(Continued on Page Five)