"The Greeks"

Alpha Kappa Alpha: The Gamma Lambda chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., has just ended a successful fund raising project which was a candy sale. Their current service project is daily visits to Sunrise Towers on Claremont Avenue by groups of a few members who help with their lunch program. They distribute milk and other commodities to the Senior citizens. They also make sure that everyone is served. A tentative project for Halloween will be to select children from the community and take them Trick-or-Treating. Various other service projects will be co-sponsored during the year by the brothers of Alpha Kappa Alpha, Alpha Phi Alpha. Miss Ivy this year is Ms. Marsha Hayes, from Lenoir, North Carolina.

Alpha Phi Alpha: Two of the brothers of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., were presented in a moving Black Poetic Experience on October 21. They were Cecil Summers and Mike Mason. Presently, The brothers are working on a plan which will allow them to work with the Red Shield Boy's Club on a November 5 Carnival. The Director of the group is Mr. Don Moore. As always as the festivities approach, they are getting their "wines and dines" ready for Homecoming. They will be dead into the Homecoming spirit. Fraternity brother Dick Gregory will be at A & T State University in the near future. They ask all Rams for support.

Delta Sigma Theta: The ladies of Delta Sigma Theta are presently involved with the campus and community with various service and fund raising projects. For example, they are raffling tickets for the Graham

Central Station show to a lucky winner. Free tickets to the Friday night show in the Coliseum will certainly be a prize. In addition to the raffle, the Deltas will be selling some colorful red and white WSSU Ram penants during the Homecoming season. They only cost 75c.

Kappa Alpha Psi: The annual fall talent show sponsored by the brothers of Delta Chi is now underway. All persons interested in participating are asked to submit their names to Charles Wadlington or any other brother. The dates for auditions and rehearsals have not been set. The brothers hosted a dinner in the Kennedy Dining Hall on Sunday, October 13 for their court, the Kappa Kittens, and all members of the fraternity. Outstanding persons affiliated with the fraternity for the month of October are: Kappa of the Month - Charles Young, Kitten of the Month - Gloria Ross, Sweetheart of the Month - Mickey Flowers, Miss Kay - Eugenia Parker.

Omega Psi Phi: About two weeks ago, the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity helped the Circle K. & Key Club of Winston-Salem sponsor a food and clothes drive for the people of Honduras. They have been working in the community on various other projects also. The fraternity has an engagement to help re-model one of the surrounding senior citizens home next month. Omega Psi Phi has a lot in store for the campus and when it hits, the campus will "rock!" They are asking everyone to "please be on the lookout for that Old Gold and Royal Purple, in the city and on campus because it will definitely blind you!"

Phi Beta Sigma: October is a very important month for Phi Beta Sigma as they celebrate "Social Action Month." The purpose of the month locally and nationally is to draw attention to the many inequalities of the American system of justice and to point out the achievements of Blacks in overcoming those obstacles. During the month they are saluting Sigmas who have contributed greatly to the advancement of Blacks including James Weldon Johnson, George Washington Carver, A. Phillip Randolph, mayor Howard Lee and Julian Bond. Special honor is given to Stevie Wonder whose music has been a unifying force in the Black Struggle. November will see the fraternity involved in many projects particularly with the elderly.

Zeta Phi Beta: The ladies of blue and white have conducted a series of bake sales over the past two weeks. Items such as candy apples and brownies were sold. As always, the Zetas are continuing their work with the community in various projects. Once such tentative community project will be to take small children from the Winston-Salem community Trick-or-Treating on Halloween night. Reigning queen of Zeta Phi Beta for 1974-75 is Ms. Carol Everette, a senior from Goldsboro, North Carolina.

.. "Social Fellowships"

Groove Phi Groove: The members of Groove Phi Groove celebrated their Founder's Day on October 12. They also attended the conclave held in Raleigh at St. Augustine. Those attending from WSSU represented the RAM chapter. Tentative Homecoming activities include a "Bad Jam" on Wednesday, November 6, at the convention center. In the future, they plan to host a carnival for the University kindergarten children. Entertainment will be provided by the Grooves.

Groove Phi Grooves relax on their plot with their sisters.

The Challenge

For the first time since my capture into slavery, I see you Black Woman, for your strength, but most important I see me for my weakness.

For the first time I realize the power of your love that endured so long, that waited patiently for my resurrection from my mental death.

For the first time, Ebony Woman, I can appreciate that gentle, quiet, serenity of your tender moments that I placidly called ignorance.

For the first time, Ebony Lady, I see a deep value of self respect during our tender moments, that I coldly regarded as frigidness.

Yes, for the first time, Black Woman, I can regenerate a mechanized love with you into a passionate love for you.

But we face a challenge Black Woman, now that I can begin to truly love you. Please meet me halfway.

Don't give up on me. If I stumble along the way, it is only because this path is new to me, and in my effort to renew this love lost I am deceived like you, along the way.

Meet the challenge Black Woman. I stand here waiting. I know your new found beauty is in great demand now for the first time, and many wish to exploit it. But now, I can truly appreciate and cherish it.

Come take my hand, let us find our way together as none before us could do. Nothing is in our way now.

Now with our eyes truly open, let us love with respect and true affection.

Loving You,
Your New Black Man

Thirteen
Twenty-one
Fifty,
Whatever the age
The wound is healed
And the suffering is forgotten
Offspring have been produced
And reproduced by some Death's dominance no longer
Plagues because lifes one
Dimensional form no longer exists.
Glands and emotions have long
Since been dried up and Blown away.

by Kenneth Holt

Love is the seed of Life and being so it fills the soul with rhapsodies of beauty, forever is how long love lasts, but I believe forever is nothing but a day in this maze we call time, forever is this moment of infatuation I have for you, infatuated by you is What I am you may say I'm an infatuated fool for I believe I'm in love with a dream to me is the beauty and serenity of ecstasy, awake me not from this for this is all I want foolish as it may seem its just my dream.

CAN WE UNITE

As one body towards
One goal which is Togetherness my
Dear, Unite with me.
Let's agree on this
That if we can unite
Then we truly
Will have freedom
From ourselves and no
One will suffer. Truth
Form within us and let's
Begin to come together
And unite with me.

by D. Hargrave

Why is it so difficult for me now to compose one small drop of my soul?

Can it be that my mind is running out of the vital liquid of thought?

Were my mind to ferment with energy, efficiency...

Instead, my brain rots in its gourd, while maggots of sleep invade and steal the helpless meat.

Victorious they are, as they spill over the rim.
