the job and successfully started the troop for boys ages 10 to 14 years.

He has taken his troop on camping and fishing trips, to the Shriners' Circus, Scout Day at the University of Virginia, and they have also sold popcorn as a council activity. Because of his hard work and dedication, he was recently awarded the Good Shepherd Award at a ceremony at West End Baptist Church in Suffolk. It is the highest scouting award bestowed by a church.

"Charles has been an individual who goes beyond the call of duty to see that young people have a good scouting program," says Gary Hampton, of the Old Dominion Area Council of Boy Scouts.
