

Lady Braves enter tourney No. 5 seed

The Lady Braves traveled to Rock Hill, SC, site of the Region X Tournament, May 1-2. Entering the tourney as the No. 5 seed, Chowan faced fourth-seeded North Greenville College in Friday's opening round. Freshman hurler Dona Silva was outstanding scattering two hits, but was victimized by control problems, walking six Lady Mounties in the Braves 4-2 setback. Bad breaks haunted the Braves as they out-hit their opponent 10-2, while stranding seven base runners in run scoring situations. Leading the Braves offensively were Jody Lindstrom, Susan Fasoldt, Heather Kulow, and Christin Saltarelli who all collected two hits each. Fasoldt and Saltarelli drove in Chowan's two runs as they battled North Greenville down to the final out.

With the opening round loss, the Lady Braves were forced to play the first game Saturday morning when they gave third-seeded Anderson College all they could handle before dropping a 3-0 decision. Hard luck righthander Moneka Huntley held the Trojans in check through five innings before giving up three runs in the sixth for Anderson's winning margin.

Sara Jones and Heather Kulow led the Braves offensively with a base hit each, as Chowan never could get a run across the plate in the well-played game.

Following the tournament, Dona Silva was named to the All-Region X Team.

The Braves, who finished their season with a 10-18 overall mark, lose only two players from this year's squad. Combine a year of experience, ten returning lettermen, and a bevy of solid recruits all together, and what you have will be a program which will challenge for Conference and Region honors next spring.

Golf team concludes "winningest" season ever, 12 overall

The Braves hosted the Chowan Invitational April 16 winning by six strokes over the Newport News Apprentice School. Walking away with low medalist honors for the Braves was Don Donatello with a 71, and Albert Flanagan who was close behind shooting a 73.

The following day, the Braves traveled to Suffolk, VA, where they joined 17 fellow programs in the Glen Heath Invitational. Fueled by an excellent performance by Albert Flanagan, the Braves finished second by five strokes in the prestigious tournament. Flanagan who finished as runner-up, shot an outstanding 76 for Chowan's low medalist honors; with Don Donatello finishing with a 78 as Chowan brought back more hardware for their trophy case.

The culmination of an outstanding season occurred April 19-21 when the Braves teed up with their Region X counterparts at the Coggs Glenn

Country Club in Anderson, SC, site of the tournament. In a tournament which was shortened to 27 holes due to rainy conditions, Albert Flanagan of the Braves shot a total of 109 to earn co-medalist honors leading Chowan to a third place showing. Post season honors were awarded to Flanagan who was named to the All-Region C and All-Conference Teams for his impressive season. By virtue of his strong performance, Flanagan will represent Chowan as their medalist at the national tournament to be held in Scottsdale, AZ, June 9-12.

The Braves, who finished with an exceptional 44-12 overall record, gave veteran Head Coach Bill Sowell his winningest season ever. With an excellent, just concluded, season to build upon, look for Bill Sowell's squad to challenge for regional and national honors when the Braves tee it up again next season.

Chowan Netters finish 3-6

The Braves' tennis program hosted Pitt Community College Tuesday, March 31, in a non-conference encounter. Despite closely played matches in all seeds, the Braves dropped a 8-1 decision to the visitors from Greenville, NC. Ibon Valverde was the only Brave to taste victory, defeating his opponent 6-3, 1-6, 7-5.

Two days later, Head Coach David Gowler's young squad defeated Wayne Community College 4-1 on the Braves' home court. Chalking up victories for Chowan were Chris Glasby in singles and the doubles team of Dennis Dunlow and Valverde.

Wednesday, April 15, the Braves entertained Craven Community College with only five players due to injuries. Displaying great intensity despite having to forfeit two matches the Braves came from behind to defeat Craven 5-3. Donnie Davis and Daniel Brown both won their singles matches by identical 7-5, 7-5 scores. Brown teamed up with Michael Moore to win in doubles competition 6-1, 6-1, while Davis paired up with Ibon Valverde to also win in doubles

6-4, 7-6, 6-3 to insure the Braves victory.

The following week, the Braves, for the second consecutive time, defeated Craven Community College 5-4 but, this time down in New Bern, NC. Donnie Davis, Mike Moore, and Daniel Brown all won their single matches in Chowan's impressive win.

The following afternoon, the Braves ran their win streak to three, defeating Coastal Carolina Community College 7-2 on the Braves' home court. In singles competition, Michael Moore, Ibon Valverde, Daniel Brown, and Andrew Paul were all victorious, while the doubles team of Donnie Davis and Chris Glasby also were winners in Chowan's successful outing.

The Braves concluded their season Wednesday, April 19, traveling to Newport News, VA, where they played a veteran Newport News Apprentice School squad. Despite suffering an 8-1 setback, the Braves played competitively in all matches culminating in a doubles victory for Donnie Davis and Ibon Valverde in the final match of the afternoon.

Chowan sets 1992 gridiron schedule

Head football coach Jim Garrison recently announced the 1992 football schedule for Chowan College.

Last season, the Braves finished with a 4-5 overall record which marked just the eighth time in Garrison's 34-year career that the Braves had not posted a winning season. Despite the sub-par season, Garrison still remains as the third active winningest coach in the NJCAA as his teams have combined for a 186-141-12 mark.

The 1992 agenda features a nine-game slate with four at home and five on the road.

Chowan opens its annual gridiron campaign on the road September 5 by traveling to meet Newport News Apprentice School. Kickoff is set for 1:30 p.m.
