Chowan Art Department Holds Workshop for Artists and Art Teachers

In February, the art department sponsored a two-day workshop for artists and art teachers of all levels. Forty individuals attended the workshop which included seminars on various topics in art ranging from "Found Object Sculpture with Denise Baker" to "Handbuilt Ceramics with Doug Eubank."

The focus of the workshop was to show a variety of ways one can do art inexpensively. The seminar showcased several art projects that teachers can use in their classes that will not strain the budget.

Through the N. C. Department of Public Instruction, the art department was able to offer renewal certification credit to the participants. Usually, teachers have to drive out of the area for renewal credit workshops. The art department provided a valuable and needed service to the community by offering the workshop, and due to the overwhelming response, the workshop will be held again next year.

CHOWAN COLLEGE BRAVES CLUB 1992-93

The Braves Club is a non-profit organization that performs a vital role in the lives of Chowan College student athletes. The club makes significant financial contributions to the athletic program and, also, provides moral support to the athletes and staff. One of the major forms of Braves Club support comes through funds to help defray the cost of post season competition. Chowan has been fortunate to have several teams qualify for national tournaments in recent years, and the cost of that participation is shared by the generosity of the Braves Club members.

We are very proud of the young men and women who represent Chowan College. These young people are gaining valuable experience through intercollegiate athletics and are using competitive sport to enhance their total education. The well versed student athlete is a goal of the Athletic Department and the Braves Club contributes to that realization. The Braves Club helps provide educational and athletic opportunities for the student athletes of Chowan College.

All contributions to the Braves Club are fully tax deductible at both the State and the Federal level. Join the Braves Club and help America's greatest natural resource, its young people!
