

Citizenship a "family affair" with Pauls

Many young men follow in the footsteps of their fathers, and such is the case of the Pauls, of Murfreesboro.

Andrew Paul, who received his associate degree with the Class of '93, was the recipient of the Superior Citizenship Award during the annual Awards Day ceremonies in late April.

Andrew's father, Charles L. Paul, associate professor of social science, also received the Superior Citizenship Award when he graduated from Chowan in 1955. He was also recognized as the graduate with the highest academic average.

Both Andrew and his father were active in the campus community when they were Chowan students. The elder Paul was a member of several campus clubs and the Baptist Student Union.

Andrew, a talented musician and a trumpet player in the Chowan Band, was honored as the most outstanding member on Awards Day. He was also named to the Order of the Silver Feather, an honorary service fraternity for students who have been "outstanding in their service to the campus community" and whose "loyalty to the college has been extremely noteworthy."

Andrew, who will transfer to North Carolina State University next fall, has not ruled out following "in his father's footsteps" to become a college professor and a minister. His present plans are to work toward a degree in engineering.

Dr. Jerry Jackson presents one of the highest student awards to Andrew Paul during the annual Awards Day ceremonies in Turner Auditorium.

Awards presented to students for achievements, service

Annual recognition ceremony for student accomplishments is one of the highlights of the academic year

Chowan students received awards for citizenship, service, academic and athletic achievements for the 1992-93 academic year during the Awards Day in Turner Auditorium of McDowell Columns Building. The annual ceremonies were held just prior to the end of the spring semester.

Dr. Jerry F. Jackson, president of the college, presented the awards assisted by Dr. B. Franklin Lowe, Jr., vice president for academic affairs. Awards included engraved plaques or framed certificates and many also included monetary awards, medallions, and scholarships for the following year of study.

Natalie Candice Taylor, of Eure, was named the Most Outstanding Junior, an award presented to the student who has "achieved academically, excelled in extra-curricular activities, exhibited leadership ability and sought to attain the ideals for which the college stands".

Charles Andrew Paul, of Murfreesboro, received the Superior Citizenship Award as voted on by faculty and staff and presented to exemplary students. He also was recognized as the Most Outstanding Student in Band, was named to the Order of the Silver Feather, a prestigious honors order for outstanding students. Only five students are selected each year.

Other students inducted into the Order of the Silver Feather were DeAngela Marie Bishard of Murfreesboro, who was also named as a Business Honor Society Outstanding Member; Craig Lee Dennis of Parsonsburg, MD, also named the Most Outstanding Male Resident Assistant; and, Jeffrey Daniel Grant of Richmond, Va.

Tonya Bright Mitchell of Winton, the fifth student named to the Order of the Silver Feather, received two additional awards. She was the recipient of the Psychology Award, and also received a trophy in recognition of being the Most Outstanding Graduate in Photography.

The Merit Award, given to the student who is judged to have made significant achievement academically and to have contributed to the social and religious life on campus despite obstacles which might have deterred a student, went to Judith Ivey of Elizabeth City.

Four students tied for the honor of highest scholastic average as a freshman: Jonathan Wayne Davis of Newport News, Va., Tara Faith Price of Seaboard, Eric Lynn Spencer of Grandy, who also received the Mathematics Award, and Ellis Lee Stephens, III, of LaGrange. Krista Lynne Fish, of Blue Mountain Lake, NY, was recognized as the sophomore with the highest scholastic average. The junior with the highest academic average was DeEtte Harrell Gordon of Emporia, VA, who also received the Most Outstanding Teacher Education Student Award.

The Krueger School of Graphic Communications named Dennis Dunlow of Colerain, the Most Outstanding Student in Printing Production and Imaging Technology. Nestor Luis Varona tied with Tony Bright Mitchell as the Most Outstanding Graduate in Photography.

The Alpha Mu Gamma Foreign Language Awards went to Anabela Adams of Portugal, for French, and to Amador Padilla of Miami, Fla., for Spanish.

The Mary E. Wood Science Award, which honors outstanding graduates in the area of science, went to Christian Austin Overton of Shiloh. The Raymond Memorial Science Awards went to Ellis Lee Stephens, III, of LaGrange, and to Joseph Elliott Tripp of Murfreesboro.

Christina Elizabeth Perkinson of Suffolk, Va., was recognized as the most Outstanding Junior in Art, while Jamie Dare Hasty of Jackson, was selected as the Outstanding Freshman in English.

The Exchange Club Athletic Award, recognizing the most outstanding returning athlete, went to Robert Edward Turner of Nineveh, Ind., while Julian Perry Lassiter, Jr., of Conway, received the coveted Joseph Lee Parker Award for Physical Fitness.

Heather Ann Kulow of Plymouth, WI, was named the Most Outstanding Female Athlete, and Michael Joseph Niemotka of Hampton, VA, received the trophy as the Most Outstanding Male Athletic. These endowed awards were made possible by the late Mrs. Dorothy H. Brown of Murfreesboro.

Frances Hope Eason of Sunbury, shared honors with Jonathan Winfield Rose of Seaboard, for the Commuting Student Scholarship Award. Rose was also presented an engraved plaque in recognition as the Most Outstanding Student in Chorus. Nancy Burton Nelson of Ahoskie, received the Marylou Jones Armstrong Business Award.

Tyson assumes duties with student activities

Antwyne Tyson has been named Director of Special Programs and Interim Director of Student Activities. In his third year at Chowan, Tyson has been Assistant Resident Director of Dunn Hall and has also been a supervisor in the Braves Den.

Originally from Ahoskie, Tyson has lived and attended schools in Pennsylvania.

As Director of Special Programs, he will be the staff liaison between the college and special groups coming onto campus, such as campus, conventions and special events. he will recruit groups and facilitate their needs while on campus.

As Interim Director of Student Activities, he will be in charge of the Braves Den activities and will be responsible for all student activities. Tyson will also serve as advisor to the Student Government Association.

Holliday elected SGA president for '93-94; other officers named

Sloan Holliday, a rising junior majoring in religion, has been elected president of Chowan College's Student Government Association for the 1993-94 academic year. The election of student leaders was conducted prior to the end of the spring semester.

Holliday, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Maynard, is a graduate of Jones Wood High School of Gore, VA.

Elected vice president was Shannon McAteer, a rising sophomore majoring in commercial art. A native of Newport, she is the daughter of Mrs. Holly McAteer, and graduated from Great Mills High School.

Craig Dennis will serve as treasurer of the student organization. A commercial art major, Dennis graduated from Parkside High School in Parsonsburg, MD., and has completed three years of study at Chowan.