

INTRAMURAL CHAMPS — Winning in tourney competition and returning from Ferrum, Va., with a trophy proclaiming their Cavalier-Tar Heel Conference intramural athletics championship are members of Chowan College's championship teams. Competitions against North Carolina and Virginia junior colleges found Chowan's participants gaining first-place wins in softball and volleyball for the third straight year and piling up further points with second places in horseshoe doubles and tennis singles, as well as placing third in basketball. Dean of Men Clifton S. Collins is intramural director for a program which involves all Chowan students in healthy recreation programs. Pictured are, from
