

Chowan Grad Award Winner

MURFREESBORO — A Chowan College medical secretarial intern at Duke Medical Center, Susan Clark, was named recipient of the Seventh Annual Florence Manning Secretarial Science Award during the 1969-70 year.

Open to national competition, the award consisted of $100 and a certificate for outstanding achievement.

Miss Clark finished her nine-month internship in May and received her associate in arts degree.

At Chowan, she was a member of Phi Theta Kappa; president of the Alpha Pi Epsilon chapter, national honorary secretarial society; treasurer of the sophomore class and a member of the dorm council. She served on the scholarship committee and as program chairman for the annual Spring Festival.

JIMMY SWAIN, director of alumni affairs at Chowan, and wife, Shirley, enjoy getting reacquainted with their former pastor, the Rev. Paul B. Nickens of Ludford Memorial Baptist Church, Plymouth. The Rev. Nickens was speaker at the Sophomore Banquet.

CLAUDE SHELL, president of the sophomore class at Chowan College is welcomed into the Alumni Association during the annual Sophomore Banquet, April 30. Presentation of his membership card is made by James Williams III, president-elect of the Alumni Association.
