Goldberg assumes assistant to athletic director position

Jack Goldberg has assumed the position of assistant to the athletic director. He replaces Dr. Tom Appenzeller, who resigned in May to take a teaching position at Wingate College.

Goldberg, more commonly known in the Roanoke Chowan area by his adopted radio name "Jack Daniels," has been the "Voice of the Braves" for the last seven years at Radio Station WYCM/WBCG. He is a member of the National Sportscaster's Association. He has hosted the "Coaches Corner," "Chowan Sports in Perspective," and has done the play by play of all Braves home football and basketball games. A popular figure in northeastern North Carolina, and a much sought after banquet speaker, he will direct the Chowan Sports Information Department, will coordinate all activities in the Jesse Helms Center, and will serve as executive secretary of the Braves Club.

According to Athletic Director Jim Garrison, "we are excited about being able to bring Alan Goldberg to Chowan College. He has a good background in the area of promotions, public relations, and the media. He already knows a lot about our programs which should lend to making a smooth transition into the position. We feel he will be a real asset to the Athletic Program at Chowan College."

Jack and his wife, Myrna, have one child and reside in Como. Myrna teaches in the Hertford County Schools, serving on the staff at Riverview School in Murfreesboro.
