

Shipbuilders top Braves in grid opener

NEWPORT NEWS, Va.—Scatback Charley Pressey, a mere 170-pounder surrounded by gridiron giants, turned two first-quarter punt returns into long touchdown scampers and provided the victory margin for his Newport News Apprentice School football team in their 20-9 victory Saturday night against Chowan College's Braves.

The Shipbuilders' defensive halfback sped 65 yards through the entire Chowan grid unit with the game's first punt and, four plays later, returned the encounter's second punt 70 yards for another journey into pigskin paydirt.

Combining for the game's most sensational play were Chowan's quarterback John Casazza and 205-pound flanker Charley Groves. The Brave passing sensation field general, Casazza, unleashed the night's longest pigskin aerial on target to Groves. Receiver Groves outdistanced his pursuers to put the ball within the shadow of touchdown territory.

Plunging through the Shipbuilders' hefty and powerful forward wall, 190-pound halfback Joe Holloman put the Braves on the scoreboard in the waning moments of the first half as he put the icing on the 78-yard pass play by carrying the ball the remaining yard needed to score.

Billy Taylor added three more points to the Braves' scoring, early in the third quarter, with a 47-yard field goal.

Bobby Watkins, one of two 185-pound quarterbacks alternating in directing the Shipbuilders' attack, put insurance scoring on the scoreboard for his team with two long field goals.

Watkins' first boot between the uprights went 35 yards and the second was a 47-yarder.

Grueling combat in the forward walls marked most of the game, which was a rugged defensive battle except for the few moments when explosive pigskin performances resulted in scores.

Smashing tackles kept each squad's offense off-balance, with neither team being able to maintain a sustained drive downfield, but explosive plays and talented field-goal kickers kept scores threatening with each play.

Such defenders as 260-pound tackle Henry Simpson and 250-pound Mike Lumley pressured Braves' runners and passers.

Big and powerful Lumley, who stands 6'6" in his stocking feet, continually burst into the Braves secondary and batted down several attempted passes just as they were leaving the Chowan quarterback's fingers.

The Shipbuilders also found their passing attack ineffective after Watkins hit flanker Bubba Hogg with a 30-yard aerial during the opening moments of play, and they confined their attack during the final three quarters to a running game.

Workhorse fullback Charlie Bradshaw, a 215-pound powerhouse from Weldon, joined Holloman in keeping the Braves' threatening attack always menacingly close to overtaking the Shipbuilders' lead.

Coaches look for winning season

A "handsome trio" has put together what they hope will be a winning gridiron team of Braves this year. Coach Sam Green, left, has apparently made a crack about head mentor Jim Garrison, center, and is getting some backing from Jerry Hawkins, right, as the picture above was snapped. "Could that possibly be a 'chaw of tobacco' in your right cheek Coach Hawkins?"

Afternoon grid games sought

CHARLOTTE (AP) — The Charlotte Police Department may recommend to Mecklenburg County school officials that high school football games be played in the afternoon in an effort to avoid incidents such as a slashing which occurred at a game last Friday night.

Traditionally, the high schools play most of their games on Friday night, with some on Thursday and Saturday night.

Chief J. C. Goodman Jr. said today several ideas has been considered in the wake of other incidents during high school football games.

He asserted that police could better observe crowds at afternoon games and he said day time contests might not draw "some of the riff-raff" who sometime attend night games.

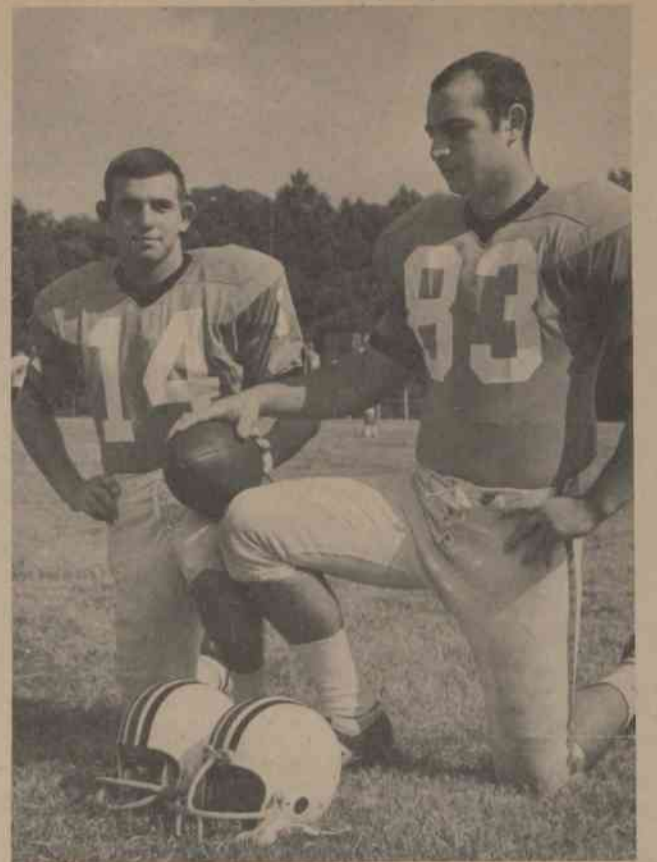

Goodman noted that games "are scheduled during our most critical periods during Friday and Saturday nights when we have a great deal of other activity to police."

He suggested that perhaps more off-duty policemen should be hired for the games and "if necessary, they should raise the admission to cover the expense of the extra men."

Dr. William Self, school superintendent, withheld comment until a formal recommendation is received.

TURKS BAR HIPPIES

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Hippies and beatniks will no longer be allowed to enter Turkey and those here will be asked to leave soon, Interior Minister Dr. Faruk Sukan said Monday. Sukan told a news conference that large numbers of foreign tourists calling themselves hippies or beatniks have been arriving and finding shelter in Turkey.

Braves name co-captains

Serving as co-captains of Chowan's 1968-69 football stalwarts will be Andy Ward, left, and Tony Maglione.

Princeton may admit women

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The roar of the Princeton tiger should be mingled with the meow of a feminine feline.

That's the advise of a committee of Princeton University faculty and administration members who asked themselves, their students and colleagues across the country whether the 222-year old Ivy League school should admit women at the undergraduate level.

The report, made public Sunday and mailed out to the student body today, recommended that the university do so as quickly as possible.

The committee recommended the admission of at least 1,000 women, so that the girls would comprise "not less than 25 per cent of the undergraduate body." The fall enrollment at the presently all male undergraduate college is 3,200.

NEWSPAPERS SHOW ADVERTISING GAIN

America's daily newspapers averaged $620 in gross advertising on each ton of newsprint they used last year, according to the Newspaper Information Committee.

This represents an advance of about 11 per cent in 10 years. The figure in 1957 was $556 per ton.

Garrison speaks to students

I hope this year will be one that you will remember for many years to come! It should be one of the best years which you will have in life—one of your college years.

I hope that you will become involved in the total, overall program at Chowan College; approaching your academic work as a job which has been entrusted to you to perform; becoming involved in extra-curricular activities on campus. These play an important role in a well rounded education.

I could wish that you develop a love for and a strong loyalty to Chowan College. Each of you will be either an asset or liability—to yourself and to Chowan College.

I would wish to engage your support this year for all your athletic teams. A team can be no greater than its supporters. I would like to see you fill the stands at every athletic event; "living and dying" with each play right along with the members of your team.

Each of you is a vital part of the "Chowan College Team," and I hope that we will ALL be active members of this team. Inactive members don't contribute much to the pride, loyalty, spirit, and wholesomeness of the total school team.

I would like to see you adopt as one of your goals for 1968-69 the goal of making Chowan College the most "highly spirited" school in the United States! In order to do this, you must think positively. You must think the best of the little things, as well as the big things.

YOU are Chowan College and what you do is what Chowan does. The image you create with the public is the image that Chowan has with the public.

Garrison says outlook good

Coach Garrison stated that after last Saturday's inner squad scrimmage the seasonal outlook for this year's football team is good. Garrison added that after three weeks of hard practice sessions, he was pleased with the players' attitudes and the overall hustle of the team.

When asked about the depth of the team, Garrison answered that injuries could hurt the team at the offensive end and defensive tackle positions but the overall depth was considered good.

The team, consisting of a large number of freshmen, will be looking to the returning lettermen for leadership. They are: offensive tackles—Jeff Daniels from Fuquay, N. C., and Hal Glover from Raleigh, N. C.; of defensive end and co-captain Tony Maglione from Sterling, N. J.; all district selection, guard, Boyd Shaw from Weldon, N. C.; line backers, Tony Sueoco from Franklin, Va., and Don Kern from Stellar, Pa.; running backs Charlie Bradshaw of Weldon, N. C., and Ted Lee from Norfolk, Va.; defensive backs Toni Campbell from Luray, Va.; and co-captain Andy Ward from Mebane, N. C.; defensive tackle Rudy Ward from Richmond, Va.; and Billy Taylor from Raleigh, N. C., who was injured last year, will be back as kicker this year.

Coach Garrison pointed out these outstanding freshmen who will be expected to carry their part of the load. The two freshmen quarterbacks who will share signal calling for the Braves are High School All American Dan Dayvault of Kannapolis, N. C.; and John Cosuzza who was All State in high school from Oak Ridge, N. J.

Others are defensive end Joe Burton, 6'3", 230 lbs., from Staunton, Va.; tackle Jim Fair 6'4", 230 lbs., from Norfolk, Va.; offensive end Charlie Grooves, 6'4", 250 lbs., East West stand out from Burqaw, N. C.; guards Tom Pace from Charlottesville, Va., and Robert Liall from Richmond, Va.; running back Joe Holloman from Ahoskie, N. C.; and defensive safety John Sullivan from Cincinnati, Ohio.

Coach Garrison seemed to think that Lees MacRae and Ferrum will be the teams to beat this year. Both Ferrum and Lees MacRae had outstanding seasons last year and will have most of their players back this year.

In closing Garrison said the Braves offense would be more wide open than in the past due to the two more colorful quarterbacks.

Garrison is also pleased with the offensive lines hitting and said the defensive secondary is better than the past few years.
