

'Bobcats' spoil Homecoming

It wasn't a "fittin" day for pigskin play

The rain fell and the mud flew. There was slithering and sliding. The players were wet and covered with mud, but the game went to its fateful end. Above a LeesMcRae back is stopped by two Braves.

Braves upset strong EC frosh

Chowan College's Braves scored three touchdowns in the second half Friday afternoon while gaining a 28-7 victory over East Carolina's most heralded freshman football team.

It was the first loss for the young Pirates, acclaimed as the best freshman pigskin unit ever fielded by East Carolina University, who numbered among their victims frosh teams from Davidson and N. C. State.

The Baby Bucs, who previously used game-situation scrimmage to hold their varsity to a standstill, were unable to contain the explosive offense and devastating defense fielded by the Braves.

Chowan scored first on a 16-yard pass from quarterback Dan Dayvault to flanker Tony Maglione, but the Baby Bucs came back to deadlock the score in the second quarter. Workhorse fullback Ronnie Peed bulled over from the three for the only touchdown East Carolina's gridgers were able to muster.

Dayvault opened scoring in an explosive third quarter with a 16-yard touchdown pass to halfback Tom Campbell. Alert defensive play by Tony Maglione enabled the Braves to gain this touchdown, as Maglione intercepted a pass thrown by Baby Buc tailback Pete Wooley and put the Braves in scoring position.

Maglione's pass interception was among three aeriels picked off by the Braves, who also recovered three East Carolina fumbles.

Andy Ward plunged one-yard to climax a 71-yard drive for paydirt by the Braves a few moments later in the third quarter.

A spectacular afternoon for Dayvault was capped by a sensational 85-yard run for the Braves' final touchdown. This long paydirt scamper followed a stalwart defensive effort that stopped the Bucs on the 15-yard line.

Billy Taylor kicked each point-after-touchdown for the Braves. Alonzo Custer added the conversation with a kick for the Baby Bucs.

Each student is probably unaware of the important but unnoticed events that happen everyday on campus. It is our aim to enlighten the students on these behind the scene issues:

1. D. cards will soon be needed to get into the Pub.

The homecoming court may have shown similarities to King Arthur's court.

Mr. H had made a lot of unannounced visits to Jenkins and Belk.

Murfreesboro has become so civilized that there is no longer a place to park.

The gnawing sounds in the library are not rats, but only Mr. C. chewing rice.

By looking out in Squirrel Park, it is obvious that salt peter is no longer being put in the cafeteria drinks.

Word has it that Mrs. B. has something going with an Italian student in her 12:30 class.

Third floor West is noted for their excellent surfers.

The truth is out that the voluptuous bus driver known as "Big Momma" is really D. C.

Heavy rain adds to 27-0 Brave loss

Lees-McRae's Bobcats slogged through a driving rainstorm to gain their 27-0 Saturday afternoon conference football victory over the Braves.

Heralded quarterback Marvin Parrott, Bobcat veteran noted as one of the top passers among the nation's junior college gridgers, refused to chance a passing game in the rain and field generated his team's maneuverings in a grueling ground attack.

Parrott quarterback sneaked the final few inches into paydirt to climax an 80-yard march and give the Bobcats their first touchdown.

Tailback Richard Ard dashed 28 yards for Lees-McRae's second touchdown.

A 240-pound tackle, George Porter, grabbed a blocked punt and fell into the end zone from two yards away for the third Bobcat touchdown.

Freshman quarterback Jeffrey Waldenmayer tossed a 10-yard pass to flanker William Miller for the final Bobcat scorer.

Kicking three-of-four tries at points-after-touchdown through the uprights was fullback Bernard Saunders.

Timely pass interceptions aiding the Bobcats were contributed by 200-pound deep back Bob Lyerly.

The undefeated Bobcats are defending champions in the Region 10 junior college football conference. In spoiling their homecoming game for Chowan, the Bobcats kept intact an undefeated record dating from last year's Shrine Bowl post-season classic when they completed season ranked second among the nation's junior college football powers.

The Braves lost their fifth game and their third conference football defeat in a gridiron season which has seen them able to salvage only a single victory in the pigskin arena this year.

Lost and Found

The following items have been found. They may be picked up at the switchboard in McDowell Columns Building.

- Glasses—three pair.
- One Murfreesboro Class Ring.
- One boy's ring.
- One bracelet.
- One circle pin, with initial.

They'll be trying to put Chowan in the "hardwood" limelight

Coach Bill McCraw is not talking too much, but it is evident that he is expecting some top performances from his basketball squad this season. Dressed out for an official picture is the 1968-69 squad. From left to right in the front row are: Chuck Bowen, Burt Brown, Louis Fiore, Bucky Griffin, Michael Bennett and Russ Hodges. In the second row, same order, are: Todd McConnell, Steve Flack, William Brown, Pat Henry and Howard Glover. In the back row are: Nathan Sosebee, Harry Gray and Harry Flipping.

First string cage squad being picked

By PARKER BAINE

As basketball season nears, Coach McCraw has to decide what five men he will use for his starting team. He has not yet formulated his five starters but does have a pretty good idea who they will be.

The front court will probably consist of Harry Flipping at center, Harry Gray and Todd McConnell at the two forwards. Flipping has changed from forward to center because of his good jumping ability, while Nathan Sosebee moved to forward.

Howard Glover and William Brown are two men who will be pushing these men on, for they have both improved and are equal in ability to Gray and McConnell.

In the backcourt the guard positions are up for grabs between Lou Fiore, Russ Hodges and Mike Bennett. Our starting guards will probably be among these three outstanding players.

Fiore and Hodges are a terrific threat to other teams, with their fast break and double teaming. Bennett is looking real good in practice and is striving for the starting position.

Two freshmen, Steve Flack and Bert Brown, have both shown ability at the guard position, the former having good ball-handling techniques and the latter a sound fundamental player. Flack shots gets good from the set position and Bert is good at passing down court.

Although we don't have much height this year, with what we do have, and our possible fast break-away threat, we hope to have a victorious season. Fifteen members constitute our basketball team and ten of these are good "country" players. The rest are going to push these ten so that they will strive to win.

Each player is in excellent health and there have been no ankle or foot injuries. Coach says he is pleased with their fine condition, expects big things and hopes they will have a victorious season this year.

Team managers this year are Harvey Taylor and Scott Charneck and the statistician is Billy Smith. All home games are played in the gym beginning at 8 p. m. Let's all try to be at the gym Nov. 14 for our first opening basketball game.

Richard Nixon leader in mock campus election

The conservative trend seemingly sweeping the nation during this election year was substantiated in mock balloting staged in Government 108 classes on Oct. 22nd. The students indicated only their choice for the presidential post. Result of the election is as follows:

- Humphrey—6
- Nixon—37
- Wallace—33

During the next week a portion of the class periods will be spent in taking a close look at each of the candidates and the issues.

Looking at their election returns Thursday, the students concluded that the introduction of Wallace as a candidate hurt Nixon. In their judgment, at this point, there would be a Republican landslide in the presidential race were it not for the fact the conservative vote is split.

Dean Lewis talks to C. S. Brown School students

By TOMMY GARNER

Dean Lewis spoke at chapel assembly at the C. S. Brown High School in Winton last week. The theme of the assembly was "Be Ready for Tomorrow—Get Guidance Today."

Dean Lewis' speech was concerned primarily with trying to get the student to take a good long look at himself, at what he was accomplishing now, what he had accomplished, and what he was planning to accomplish.

His speech was aimed at trying to awaken those students who weren't using their full potential and for those who were to push on.

'Hoop-throwers' prepare for season

Leading this year's hardwood entry as co-captains will be Louie Fiore, 11, and Harry Gray, 15. Coach Bill McCraw is keeping his fingers crossed but indicated he is expecting a good season.

Chowan's Bennett demonstrates his skill

When the photographer asked for a good "dribbler", Michael Bennett, left, was ready with the comment, "I'm the best." And he demonstrated his hardwood skill while Steve Flack had the difficult task of staying with him.
