

Columns Is History

McDowell Columns has been nominated for inclusion on the National Register of Historic Places. Built in 1852, Columns is an 'old familiar place' to us, but is finally being recognized by the State Department of Archives and History.

McDowell Columns Slated for 'Register'

RALEIGH—The Columns, on the campus of Chowan College in Murfreesboro, has been nominated for inclusion on the National Register of Historic Places, a list of distinction identifying those properties worthy of preservation for their historic value. The nomination was submitted this week to the Department of the Interior by Dr. H. G. Jones, Director of the State Department of Archives and History and State Liaison Officer for Historic Preservation.

Built in 1852, The Columns has been used as a chapel, as classrooms, as offices, and as a dormitory for Chowan College.

Its monumental Greek Revival design and its importance to the college have established it as an educational landmark in North Carolina.

The nomination was made in connection with the State Department of Archives and History's long-range program of identifying and documenting the authenticity of historic places in North Carolina. The National register is the nation's official list of "districts, sites, buildings, structures, and objects of significance in American history, architecture, archaeology, and culture," and one of the benefits of being listed is the requirement that the historical significance of the property be considered by any agency proposing to destroy or alter it with the aid of federal funds.

Dress Code Revised

The revised dress code, as announced by Dean Lewis allows women to wear slacks or pantsuits on campus, in Whitaker Library, in Thomas Cafeteria, to classes, to chapel and assembly and to college-sponsored informal activities except when attending lectures and concerts and on special occasions (as indicated by personnel deans). "Slacks" is not interpreted to include cut-offs, khakis, dungarees, jeans, fatigues and the like.

Sunday or business dress is the only apparel considered appropriate for the Sunday noon meal and for the Wednesday evening meal.

Basketball Prospects Bright, Coach Says

The end of football season is approaching, which will initiate the oncoming basketball season. Now it is time for Coach Bill McCraw and his fourteen Braves to move into the limelight. Our team this year looks very promising, and guarantees a better season record than last year's record, which isn't worth mentioning.

The talented Braves this year are relatively a young team, with only three sophomores. The probable five that will open our games are Harry 'Flip' Flipping, Jackie Ross, Randy Mitchie, Guy Crenshaw, and Wayne Davis. Flipping, the only returning starter, led the conference in rebounding his freshman year. Davis and Crenshaw are two fine leapers. Davis, a healthy 200-pounder, will definitely be crashing the boards along with Flipping. Crenshaw, an all-around ball player, shoots well, jumps well, dribbles well and can handle the ball.

Our backcourt men this year are something to look forward to, Jackie Ross and Randy Mitchie are both excellent playmakers and ball handlers. Both of them have a good eye from the outside and are exceptionally quick on defense.

Roles will be the first substitution as far as where the big men are concerned. Bostain, Ballard and Brigman will be seeing a lot of action this season. Brigman, our 'Pistol Pete,' has a jumper that won't quit.

Our first contest at home is a scrimmage on November 14, at 7:30. We will be facing North Carolina Wesleyan. Shortly after that match the Braves will fall into regular season play. This year's schedule is a tough one with plenty of still competition within the conference as well as outside games. We will be facing such schools as VCU, ECU, Frederick Military, and Ferrum who participated in the nationals last year. There are two new additions to the conference this year; Kittrell and Sandhills Community College.

Coach McCraw stated that he was glad to have Harry Flipping and Jackie Ross back this year, who were lost last year due to disciplinary action. He foresees a bright season from one of the better teams Chowan has had in a few years.

Do It This Way!

Coach McCraw seems to be telling his basketball team that the ball goes "in" the basket, not near it, or around it, or toward it. The promising young teams seems to get the message.

Work in Europe

Apply now for Jobs

Temporary paying jobs are available in Europe to all students. These openings - many requiring only a will to work, with no previous experience or knowledge of a foreign language needed - offer ideal, ready-made opportunities for students to earn a few weeks or months in a country of their choice such as England, France, Germany, Switzerland or Spain.

Most jobs are in resorts, hotels, shops, stores, restaurants, offices, factories and hospitals and on farms and construction sites. Camp counseling, governess, teaching and sales positions are also available. Room and board either comes with the job or is arranged in advance, and is often in addition to wages ranging up to $500 a month for the highest paying jobs.

By earning their way, students are able to see Europe without the usual expenses while getting an individual, human insight into European life. With easing draft calls and the high rate of rejection by the Peace Corps, increasing numbers of students with a yen to travel and broaden their personal horizons may be well advised to consider such an independent adventure.

The SOS (Student Overseas Services) Placement Offices in Luxembourg, Europe, screens and places every applicant and obtains the required work permits and other documents needed by each student. SOS also provides a brief orientation in Luxembourg before students go out to their individual jobs.

Jobs and work permits are given on a first come, first served basis so students interested in seeing Europe from the inside, and earning money instead of spending it while they are there, should apply to allow SOS plenty of time to obtain for them a job of their choice and to complete processing of the necessary permits and papers.

Students in this area may obtain job application forms, job listings and descriptions, the SOS Handbook on earning a summer abroad, and a free copy of Euronews by sending their name, address, school, and $1 (for airmail return of some of the material from Europe) to SOS - Student Overseas Services, P.O. Box 5173, Santa Barbara, Calif. Students with special questions may telephone Santa Barbara (805) 969-1176.

Surf Club Movie

by Ronald G. Dunn

Been Surfing lately? Like a good, exciting experience? (and I don't mean at the "Pits") Let's go surfing with our surf club at Columns Building. Sound incredible? Yet it's true. All you surfing fans just pack up your board and wet suit (it's kind of cold) and join the Chowan College Surfing Association November 18 for a thrill-packed adventure in Greg MacGillivray's "The Performers."

Luis Revelle and Craig Thompson, president and vice president respectively, decided it was high time that the Surfing Association got out of our campus swimming pool to take part in the real action. With a little help from Greg MacGillivray, producer, director, and photographer of "The Performers", they are bringing to our campus this highly-praised film of adventure on the waves.

Before we go any further, let me fill you in on Greg MacGillivray. By age 19 Greg had been to Hawaii, the East Coast, old Mexico, and "every surfing spot in California," and released his second film, "The Performers". Things couldn't have gone better. His summer schedule with "The Performers" was a series of sellouts. Later, the film made three complete runs throughout California, each one year apart, and each to sellout crowds. This fantastic response made "The Performers" the most successful film of 1965 and 1966. Turning from success, Greg returned to the University. It was during this year that Greg and Jim Freeman began thinking about making films together.

So, if you're interested in surfing you'll not want to miss this exciting movie. Tickets are for sale at $.50 per person in advance, $.75 per person at the door. Don't forget! That's 8:00 p.m., Columns Auditorium, November 18. "The Performers," a movie you'll really appreciate.

Continued Next Week

Because of a heavier than usual work load and because of the necessity for a very careful consideration of the fourth inquiry of the questionnaire being presented in this column, the results of the preceding inquiry will be presented in the next issue of the "Smoke Signals," November 25. Be sure to read answers which over 148 respondents from colleges and universities throughout the South gave to the following inquiry:

(4) Would you be willing to grant "conditional admissions" to any student without the associated degree or at least a 'C' average only all work attempted if that student, in your estimation, might show some potential for completion at your institution?

The answers to the preceding question should prove exceedingly valuable because, in essence, there are some schools which might admit a student without the 'C' average, of course, with the qualifications cited in the question.

Read the next issue for some interesting information!

Plans for Student Union

Jerry Wilson, food director; Ronnie Karunungan, SGA President; and Ed Allen discuss renovation plans for the Student Union.

Student Union Renovated

BY RONALD G. DUNN

Much has been done recently to renovate and develop our campus, giving students a more proper atmosphere within which to further their academic knowledge. A beautiful lake and nine story dormitory have been welcome additions to our local scenery. But what about leisure facilities? If you were around the Student Union Saturday, October 31 (Halloween), you would have seen your fellow students participating in a project of their own to add to our list of Chowan College pleasure spots.

It all started at the first of this semester with the light bulb in Ronaldo Karunungan's head, telling him the students need a better atmosphere in the Student Center. Seems he was not all pleased with the yellow walls in the place. He took his suggestion to paint to Jerry Wilson, Food Director, Servmation Mathias, who suggested full renovation of the Snack Bar by the students. Not satisfied with just giving his suggestions and help, Jerry donated $200.00 towards the renovation project.

Ronnie was delighted with prospects of the project and quickly employed the voluntary aid of Ed Allen to be Project Chairman. Next came many long planning discussions and business meetings, the outcome of which they were only to find themselves financially embarrassed. Karunungan sought and got the aid of the College through Mr. Ben Sutton, Business Manager, Chowan College. With the financial help of the college, the SGA was able to make ends meet and begin the project Saturday, October 31.

The theme is the Age of Aquarius. Plans include an enclosed TV room, glass partition separators and juke box. On the glass will be painted Zodiac Signs. All student and faculty help is solicited. Any suggestions or helpful hints are welcome. Just see Ronaldo Karunungan or Ed Allen. The proposed finishing date is Jan. 18, in time for the beginning of second semester. Remember! This is a student project to be completed by students. Watch the Student Union Bulletin Board for dates of Work Days. —RGD

Indians Elect New President

SALAMANCA, N.Y. (AP) — Members of the Seneca Indian Nation have elected James E. George, a structural steel worker from the nearby Allegany Reservation, to a two-year term as national president.

In balloting Tuesday on the Allegany Reservation and the Cattaraugus Reservation, 30 miles to the north, George got 603 votes to defeat two opponents.

George succeeds William Senca, who was elected treasurer of the 4,500-member nation.

Students Attend NAPL Convention

Recently two graphic arts sophomores, Billy Hall and Rick Farrell attended the National Association of Photo Lithographers' exhibition held in the New York coliseum. Here a representative is explaining to Billy how the Davidson press cuts paper in two as it comes out of the delivery of the press.
