Garrison Looks Ahead To Another Good Year

By G. RICHARD JACKSON, Sports Editor

How do you improve upon a team that won its first seven games, won the District 10 Championship, finished second in the Coastal Conference, and placed in the nation? It isn't easy, but Head Football Coach James Garrison says it can be done and he is a man of his words.

In all, some sixteen lettermen return from last year's championship team. Returning on the defense are Ed Love, Gregg White, Jerry Borum, Bill Soots and "Monster Man" middle linebacker Stuart Christian.

"Our defense is going to be 'real sound,'" beams Coach Garrison. "Without scouting reports it is hard to determine the real powerhouses in our conference, but Wesley and Ferrum colleges figure to be Chowan's toughest opponents."

"The team has been working exceptionally hard," says Garrison, "and I think we have potential to have an excellent season."

Is this the beginning of a football dynasty at Chowan? Nobody knows, and Coach Garrison doesn't like to prophecy, but everyone can see something in his eyes and that something is confidence.

PONDERING—Coach Garrison seems to be in deep thought as to decisions for the 1971 Braves.

And Now . . . It's Coffee!

The old saying that "everything enjoyable is either immoral or fattening" may prove, in the long run, to contain more wisdom than humor.

The use of tobacco in cigarettes, an enjoyable pastime for millions for decades, fell into disrepute with the now famous Surgeon General's report that cigarette smoking causes cancer.

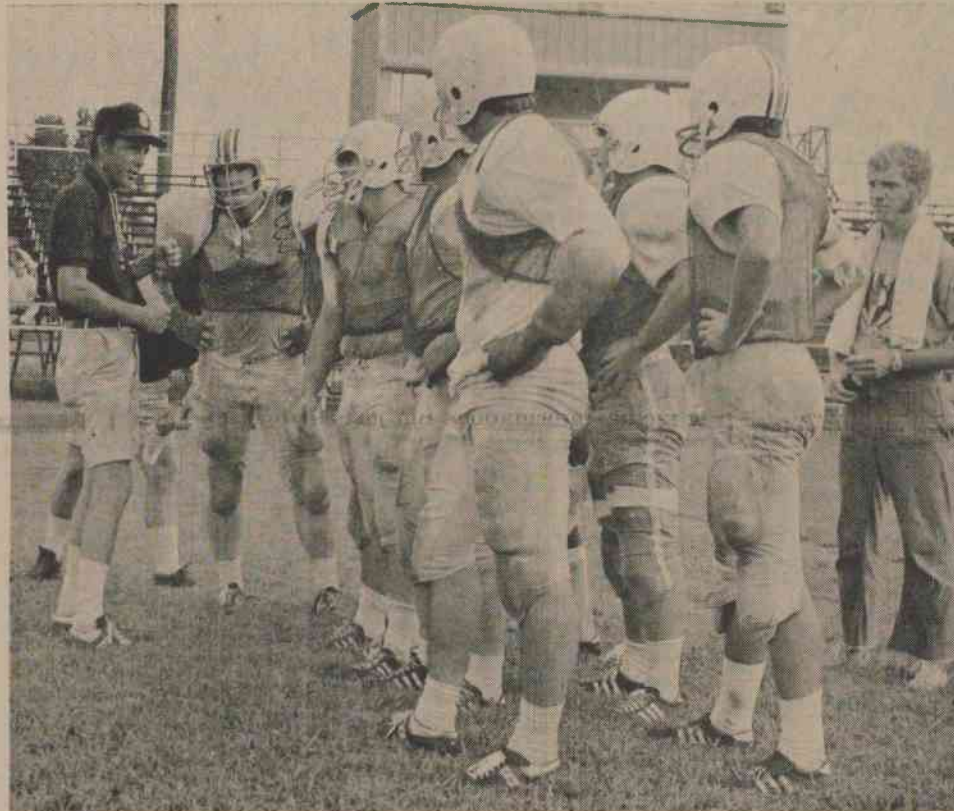

Now what is probably the most universally enjoyed American custom, that of drinking coffee, is being accused of leading to cancer of the bladder. A group of scientists makes the accusation in a British medical journal.

Heavy coffee drinkers, say the scientists, stand the greatest chance of bladder infection. Women appear twice as prone as men to such infection.

We note these reports with heavy heart, and wonder sometimes if the science types aren't trying to take all the fun out of life. —Wichita Falls (Tex.) Record News

Matthews to Head Campaign

The naming of the general chairman for the "Mission Possible" development fund program was one of the highlights as Chowan College held its Sixth Annual Planning Conference Saturday.

Don G. Matthews, Jr. of Hamilton, a member of the board of trustees, will head the "Mission Possible" program to raise funds for construction of a new science-engineering facility.

He was presented to the state and community leaders in attendance at the conference from North Carolina and Virginia by President Bruce E. Whitaker.

It was also announced that a total of $105,000 had been pledged to date by members of Chowan's faculty and staff with the amount rising. The goal for this group is $125,000.

The announcement of the pledge of Chowan personnel increased gifts and pledges to date past the $200,000 mark. Earlier in the week President Whitaker had announced a gift of $100,000 from Elwood W.

Parker of Murfreesboro and his wife, the former Elizabeth Sewell, toward costs of constructing the proposed new science-engineering facility.

Matthews, who has twice served as chairman of the trustees and is currently serving his third, four-year term on the board, told the assembly in Marks Hall amphitheatre that "we must succeed, we will succeed because of people like you who believe in Chowan College."

He explained that "we are going to look for contributions from foundations, corporations, businesses, families and individuals," and added, "your participation in 'Mission Possible' is absolutely essential."

The energetic Matthews, former highway commissioner for the First District, expressed his own personal faith in Chowan and added, "Our purpose is to involve as many of you as possible in 'Mission Possible.'"

First Game Away With Baltimore

Chowan College will embark on a 10-game football schedule that the Braves hope and believe will lead it to a high national ranking and bowl bid when Chowan meets Baltimore Community College in Maryland on Sept. 18. Game time is 2 p. m.

Head coach Jim Garrison and assistants Jerry Hawkins and Dan Surface led Chowan to one of its most successful seasons ever last year. The Braves reeled off seven straight victories to climb to fifth among the nation's junior colleges. In the showdown for the Coastal Conference crown and possible bowl bid, Chowan was defeated by Wesley in Dover, Del., 34-17. The Braves bounced back to beat the Davidson freshmen, 35-7, and end with an 8-1 mark and 11th ranking.

Strong Opponents
The Braves will have another crack at Wesley and this time the game will be played in Murfreesboro. But the road leading to Wesley is paved with such tough customers as Lees-McRae and Ferrum. In addition, Harford, Baltimore, and Potomac State are expected to be improved.

Three Backfielders
Chowan's offense is expected to be triggered by sophomore tailback Rocky Dunbar, (5-9, 180 lbs.) who starred in Chowan's first two games last year before sidelined by an injury. In those games, the Williston, S. C., native gained 322 yards for an 6.85 yard average and three touchdowns.

Joining Dunbar in the backfield will be three carryovers from the 1970 squad. They are Dale McCafferty, quarterback from Millville, N. J., who passed for six touchdowns last year; Horace Bush, fullback of Delray Beach, Fla., who averaged nearly eight yards per carry; and halfback John King, a 5-2, 160 pound speedster from Suffolk, Va.

Dunbar and middle linebacker Stuart Christian (6-0, 210) from Ashland, Va., are included among pre-season picks for all-conference and All-American honors. Christian, called a team leader and top senior college prospect by Garrison, was named the team's most valuable player last year. Chowan placed two on the all-American squad in 1970 including defensive tackle Danny Croom of Kinston, now playing with Wake Forest.

In all, 30 sophomores, including 16 lettermen, return.

Thomas to Kick
Chowan will also be strong in its kicking game with league-leading punter Jim Thomas of Philadelphia, Pa., back. He averaged 41.4 yards on 40 kicks.

Lettermen from the defense include two linebackers, Christian and Jerry Borum of Oliver Springs, Tenn.; three defensive backs, Allen Nobles, Hopewell, Va., Bill Soots, Winston-Salem, N. C., and Semmie Taylor, Delray Beach, Fla.; and two tackles, Greg White, Alexandria, Va., and Ed Love of Virginia Beach, Va. Love is considered a mainstay by Garrison who contends he will win his share of post-season honors.

Offensive Line
The Braves' offensive line is a question mark with only four lettermen back. They are tackle Ricky Leonard, Rocky Mount, N. C., guards, Gary Brock, Ashland, Va., and Jeff Shellito, Lexington Park, Md.; and end Terry Wells, Turkey, N. C. Garrison believes that tackles Joe Gayheart of Savannah, Ga., and Jerry Goney of Norfolk, Va., and Reuben Herbin of Durham, N. C., and other freshmen will be able to take up the slack.

Chowan will play five of its games at home and six are under the lights on the local field.

CHOWAN STAR—Rocky Dunbar, of Williston, S. C., is expected to see plenty of action during the coming grid season. Dunbar was the leading ground gainer for the Braves prior to his injury last year.
