

Braves Stop EC Buccaneer Club, 21-7

Chowan struck for two second half scores, both by halfback Julius Smith, to bury East Carolina Football Club, 21-7, here Oct. 2 in the "Mud Bowl."

The playing conditions, thanks to the drenching the field received from Ginger, were far from ideal. With mud down the middle and the sides "sloshy", Chowan concentrated on its running attack, with all three scores coming on the ground.

For the first time this season, Chowan held the lead at the half, 7-0. Covering the last foot of a 57 yard eight play drive was fullback George Sands. Contributing forty of the yards on five carries was dandy Smith, "discovered" in last week's loss to Potomac State.

Smith provided most of the excitement with his dashes as Chowan was content to wear East Carolina down with ball control. The Braves decided early in the game that it was not the night for passing and Paul Black only threw nine times, completing three for 20 yards. In contrast, Chowan gained 232 yards running, 117 in the first half, and 115 after intermission.

East Carolina scored midway in the third quarter to tie the game and make the Braves remember the late game disasters of their first two matches. In its opener at Baltimore Sept. 18, Chowan had to settle for a 14 tie after a Braves' fumble led to the tying score in the final minutes. Potomac won on a 64-yard scoring pass with less than two minutes remaining.

The Buccaneers touchdown came by air, following a pattern set by the other foes. It was a brother act with M. Lynch, fullback, snaring a 15-yard aerial from D. Lynch, quarterback. Gordon's kick tied the game at 7 with 7:21 to go in the third.

But this time, Chowan clearly with the superior forces, added scores in the third and fourth quarters to outclass the game Buccaneers. With 3:44 left in the third period, Smith ran eight yards through the middle for a touchdown set up by offensive tackle Ken Eisenharts' recovery of a fumble of a punt at East Carolina's 28-yard line. Smith scored again with the fourth quarter two minutes old on a five-yard run to cap a 52-yard drive. Jimmy Thomas kicked his third straight P.A.T. He missed two long field goal attempts.

Defensively, Chowan was led by (you-know-who) middle linebacker Stuart Christian who made 12 tackles. Intercepting for the Braves were defensive halfbacks Carl Porter and Vance Johnson.

The game was Chowan's first victory against a loss and tie and served as a tuneup for Ferrum, away, Saturday afternoon. Chowan will be hardpressed to down the Tigers, one of the nation's top five clubs, especially on their home ground. Braves' fans like to recall the 10-6 defeat of Ferrum at home last year. The 1971 game could end as a victory for Chowan but several weaknesses will have to be overcome. Chowan will have to tighten its defense against the pass and the offensive line will have to block for the Braves' backs. Otherwise, Chowan will be dependent entirely on its passing game which Black proved against Potomac can be effective.

Chowan permitted the Buccaneers to complete nine of 23 passes on a muddy field, with a slippery ball. Its record against Baltimore and Potomac was worst.

Although Chowan has yet to win in the Coastal Conference, the Braves feel they are still in the running for the title.

LEADS BRAVES—Halfback Julius Smith scored two touchdowns in leading the Chowan College Braves to a 21-7 victory over the East Carolina Buccaneer Club in their first home football game October 2.

Of the approximate fifty million hunters in the United States, over two-thirds of them began their hunting careers by stalking the elusive squirrel. Here in the Southeast, there are two major types for which there is an open season, the Gray and Fox Squirrel. By far the most common is the Gray Squirrel with an average size of fifteen inches in overall length and a weight of one pound. On the other hand, the Fox Squirrel is much rarer in this area, but he is at least twice as large. The average size is an overall length of twenty five inches and a weight of two and a half pounds.

Now to address myself to the original question of which do I prefer; I must answer, it depends upon the time of year, the location, and the existing conditions. That is a fancy way to say, "I don't know."

In most of the woods of this area, there is a real possibility of seeing a deer while attempting to ambush squirrels; therefore, I definitely prefer to use a shotgun. It is unlawful to shoot big game in North Carolina with rifle cartridges. With a shotgun it is easy to quietly remove small shot and replace them with buck shot and thereby collect a real trophy.

The squirrel season in this county (Hertford) and the neighboring ones opens on October 11. The limit is eight per day and sixteen in possession. The above limit may contain two fox squirrels per day, with four in possession. Squirrels also have a season limit of seventy five. The shooting hours are from sunrise to sunset.

Remember, if you can't collect a limit of squirrels, you can always get a limit of litter.

I am pleased to report that the pro-rate is currently running quite a bit under the total of this last year.

However, I have notice the past two weeks that things are beginning to indicate that there might be a considerable increase if this trend continues.

Your co-operation in helping to keep the damages down will be greatly appreciated and will result in a saving to you.

I strongly suggest that you do not smoke in the auditorium. This creates a tremendous fire hazard; especially when a large number of people are congregated there, not to mention the damage it is doing to the carpets or to someone's clothes.

The small parking lot at South Hall is for loading and unloading, parking for Head Resident and Assistances and off campus visitors. Unauthorized parking in this lot has resulted in a large number of parking tickets. Avoid these traffic fines. DO NOT PARK IN THIS LOT.

All students are reminded that it is against college policy to change rooms without first obtaining the approval of the Director of Housing. There will be a fine of $5.00 for all students violating this policy. Please see the Director of Housing and avoid these charges.

All inquires should be signed and sent to The Tar Stick care of The SMOKE Signal.

Nudity? No!

LONDON (AP) — Actress Marlene Dietrich says nudity has no place in the theater.

"If you can't do it without being nude you ought not to do it at all," Miss Dietrich told newsmen Sunday as she arrived for a charity performance at London's Drury Lane Theater.

The 67-year-old actress also said actress Elizabeth Taylor, whose son recently became a father, is welcome to the title of the world's most glamorous grandmother.

Ferrum Hands Braves 27-7 Defeat

Ferrum raced to a 21-0 halftime lead and then held off the Braves on a muddy field to win its homecoming game, 27-6 Saturday afternoon.

The rain broke just before the game began dashing the Braves' hopes for a passing attack from quarterback Paul Black. A drizzle at first, it became a cold rain in the second half sending Chowan's fans scurrying for cover in the Braves' bus parked outside the fence.

There was no hiding place for the players, however, who were whipped by the Panthers. Ferrum scored three times on the ground in the first half but passing was the key in the drives. Ted Powell, a brutish 6-1, 220 pounder, was quarterback Steve Ellis' favorite target. When he caught the ball he ran like a berserk bull running over and carrying Chowan defenders with him. Running back Cleo Johnson scored two of Ferrum's first half touchdowns, the first and the final, both on two yard plunges. Ellis scored from one yard out.

The only bright moments for the Braves were provided by tailback Rocky Dunbar who broke into the clear several times after shaking loose Ferrum tacklers and maintaining his balance. In this category, he had no equal on the field causing Chowan fans to exclaim, "He looks like the Rocky of old."

While Ferrum was breaking the game open with its passes, Chowan elected to stick to the ground for the most part and except for Dunbar's personal efforts and exhibition of sheer strength and determination, could not advance the ball against the tough Panthers. The field was too muddy and wet for any passing attack in the second half but Black did manage one for 16 yards to tight end Terry Wells for the Braves' lone score. Thomas kicked the extra point with 2:09 left in the game. The Panthers' third quarter score was also the result of a pass, from Ellis to Powell who grabbed it away from a Chowan defender in the end zone. The play covered 20 yards.

Ferrum, now 4-0, proved why they are the leading contender for the Coastal Conference crown and in the running for the national title. They did everything well.

The puzzling Braves will have no let up this week when Lees-McRae invades Saturday for an 8 p. m. contest. After four games and a 1-2-1 record, Chowan may not exactly be a sleeping giant but it can produce better performances than it recorded against Ferrum. On a dry field, and hopefully the Braves will have one against the Bobcats, and with Black or Dale McCafferty passing and Dunbar running Chowan could be an entirely different ball club. It'll be Parents Day also and the Braves will have the added incentive to win one for Mom and Dad in the stands. Perhaps that's the incentive they need.

Moms Flunk 'Parking'

By ERMA BOMBECK
As a woman who has been trying for three years to get through "The Man In The Gray Flannel Suit" I have nothing but admiration for the housewife-mother who returns to the college scene.

At a luncheon the other day I found myself seated near no less than three women who were enrolled in the local university.

One said to the other, "How is it going?" She shrugged, "Better, I'm getting there earlier now which gives me an advantage."

"How many hours this semester?" "Thirty-six a week."

"And you're in your second year?"

She nodded. I could contain myself no longer. "You women are unbelievable." I said. "You tend children, run a house and still find time to go to school 36 hours a week. When will you finish?" "Finish?" said the woman swirling around, "I haven't even started. I've been circling around the university 36 hours a week for the last two years looking for parking place."

The other two agreed.

It seems the problem is a universal one. It isn't the high cost of tuition and books that makes college prohibitive, it's the cost of parking tickets. It isn't the challenge of older women in a young academic world, it's whether or not you can parallel park a square car on a curved curb.

The way they explained it to me is that a university will build a school to accommodate 25,000 students. There will be 200 parking places. Eighty of them will be for a faculty of 500. Fifty will be allotted to visiting dignitaries who aren't and who never were visiting the college. Forty spaces will be sealed off by ropes and designated with a sign that reads "G-11 PERMITS" (No one in the entire university has ever heard of a G-11 Permit, but most suspect this was a freshman initiation prank in 1941). Thirty parking places are marked, "Student" (with towaway zone in small letters beneath it.)

"Have you approached the university about parking spaces?" I asked.

"Yes, they're on order from a company in Wisconsin that is on strike," answered one of the women mechanically. "By the way, what are you reading?" "The Man In The Gray Flannel Suit."

"That's the trouble with going to college," said her friend. "You're so busy driving, you never get time to read the new books."

News from BSU

OFF TO A GOOD START
BSU-Campus Christian Fellowship has gotten off to a real good start this fall, with an average attendance at the weekly meetings of 46, including the cook-out at the Pope's house. Programs for the coming weeks promise to be interesting and exciting, since they are being planned in response to student requests and needs. Keep on coming to BSU—and bring a friend who may not have found us yet.

LIVENING UP THE CENTER
Got any good ideas about ways to make the lounge of Askew Student Union look a little less drab? If so, Cheryl Petty (Belk 104) would like to hear from you. Cheryl is chairman of a committee looking into ways of "brightening the corners" in the Askew lounge. Let her know what you think!

NICKY CRUZ TO BE IN GREENVILLE
Nicky Cruz, a former gang leader in New York City and the subject of the book "The Cross and the Switchblade", will be holding an evangelistic crusade in Ficklen Stadium, Greenville, on the evenings of October 12, 13, and 14. The BSU has reserved the college bus to make the trip to Greenville on at least one of these three nights. If you are interested in going, see Hugh Clark or Chaplain Taylor, and be on the lookout for further notice.

YOUTH REVIVAL TEAMS
The response to Hugh Clark's invitation to get involved in witnessing to your faith through weekend youth revival teams makes it likely that we will have at least three such teams working together this semester. One invitation has already been accepted for a weekend youth retreat with high school students from Kennedy Home. Other like invitations are expected during the fall and in the spring term. Let us all support one another in this ministry.

COMING! COMING! The North Carolina State BSU Fall Convention will be held November 5-7 at the Sheraton Inn in High Point. The college bus (the Blue Bird) has been reserved for transportation. Any interested BSUer (or prospective BSUer) may attend. KEEP POSTED FOR FURTHER DETAILS!

Coach Pleased With Win

By G. Richard Jackson Sports Editor
Chowan evaded it's record at 1,1,1 Saturday night with a 21 to 7 win over the East Carolina Football Club. "We are very pleased to get a win under our belt," beamed Coach Garrison. After a heart breaking tie with Baltimore and a disappointing loss to Potomac State, Chowan took out it's revenge on East Carolina. "They were a much better team than we had expected," said Coach Garrison. Julius Smith scored twice and George Sands scored once to give Chowan their 21 point tptal. The condition of the field did however kept Chowan from trying out their explosive passing game. Coming off the field with their satisfying win over East Carolina, Chowan now faces a

BARK
Jefferson Airplane
This will probably be the Airplane's last attempt at an album. Reports say that they may be breaking up. It's a shame to see such a great group go. On the album, Jack Cassidy plays bass. Joey Covington (replacing Spencer Dryden) plays drums and sings. Paul Kantner is on guitar and vocals. Papa John Creach lends a hand on the electric organ. group the past few years, it is a welcomed step back.

The album is on Grunt Records. This is the new Airplane record company started by Paul Kantner and Marty Balin, former member of the group.

Jack Cassidy, Jorma Kaukonen and Papa John Creach are new members of Hot Tuna. Traces of Hot Tuna can be heard on BARK.

Paul Kantner is still very much into the Jefferson Starship type of fantasy. It shows in his works.

On "Rock and Roll Island," Grace Slick's voice will send chills through your spine every now and then. Grace is playing piano on this album as an integral part of the band and it is a fantastic improvement.

Jorma and Joey have put some works into the album. "Feel So Good" is the kind of stuff that the Airplane did back in the "good old days."

All in all, this album shows more versatility than anything since Surrealistic Pillow, which is perhaps one of the best modern American rock album ever.

BARK is not a perfect album, but the problems faced by the Ferrum team ranked ninth in the nation.

Ferrum, Chowan's arch rival, is looking for its fourth win in a row, but Coach Garrison has a few tricks up his sleeve to halt their winning streak. We will try to move the ball on the ground, but we won't hesitate to pass if our ground game doesn't go," said Coach Garrison.
