

In Homecoming Contest

Braves Stomp Knights, 49-7

Seven different players, including two from the defense, scored touchdowns as Chowan breezed past Homecoming foe Montgomery Community College of Rockville, Md., 49-7, Saturday afternoon, Oct. 30.

In addition to the parade and other activities, the alumni and other fans received an unexpected bonus when the sun appeared just prior to the kickoff. The sunshine brightened the halftime performance of the outstanding Princess Anne High School band of Virginia Beach and the appearance of the Homecoming Court. Crowned queen was sophomore Betsy Sullivan of Richmond while Debra Alley of Norfolk was named freshman princess.

Chowan, playing on a field that was wet and muddy in places, raced to a 14-0 lead before Montgomery scored its lone touchdown. The Braves' first score, a one yard run by fullback George Sands, was set up by linebacker Jerry Borum's interception, the first of three for the Silver Springs, Tenn. native. Borum returned it 34 yards to the six where it took the Braves three plays to score. Gary Chantry added the first of seven straight extra points.

Chowan's second score came early in the second quarter when tailback Rocky Dunbar plunged three yards to cap a 33 yard drive following a 42 yard punt return by Carl Porter. A Montgomery interception of a Dale McCafferty pass at the Braves' 25 set up the Knights' only score, registered on a three yard pass from quarterback Gary Paquet to running back Lance Scott. Jim Phelps made the kick to narrow Chowan's lead to 14-7. Before the half ended Chowan added another score with McCafferty covering the final three yards of a 73 yard march. But few fans felt the final score would be 21-7. The Braves were too hot.

Chowan matched its first half total exploding for three touchdowns in the third period. Two were scored by the defense. Borum returned an interception 80 yards and tackle Bryce Cobia rambled 24 yards with a fumble recovery. Halfback Porter ran one yard to end a 67 yard drive and the Braves led 42-7. Chowan finally went to the air for its final touchdown, a 15-yard pass from Paul Black to split end Bobby Britt.

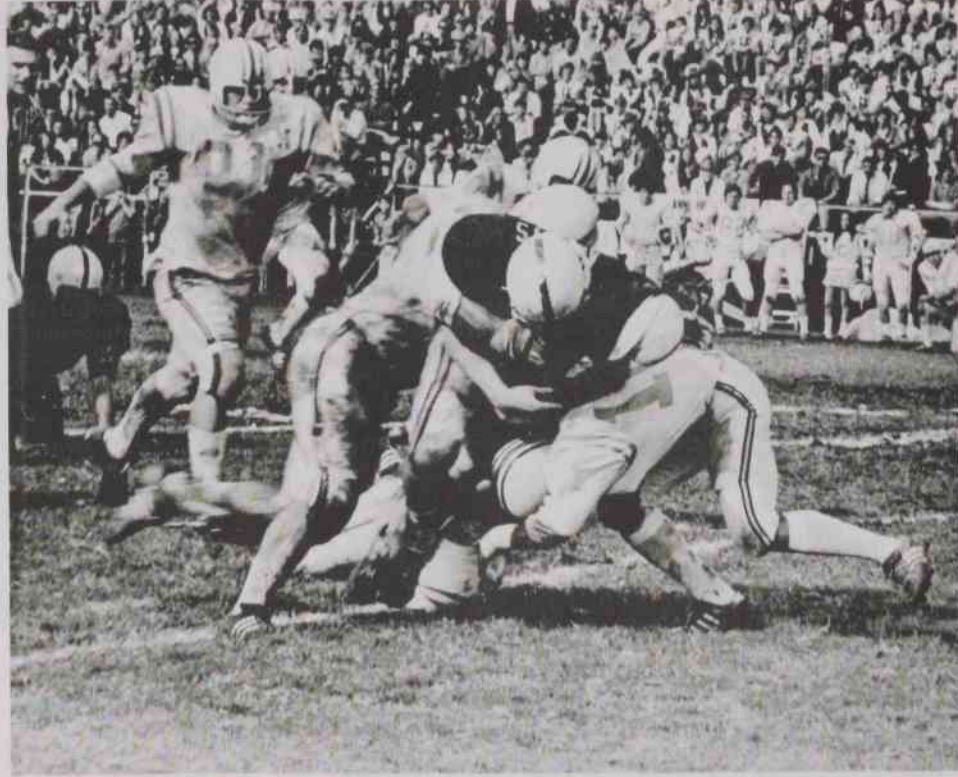

Chantry's seventh kick was perfect giving him scoring honors with seven points. Seven of his teammates each had six points and Chowan's fans had something to talk about as they filed out of the stadium. Last year, the Braves beat Harford at homecoming, 49-7.

Defensively, Borum, linebackers Stuart Christian and Gregg White, back Terry Sandy and tackle Ed Love put the brakes to the Knights' offense. While Borum made three interceptions, Love also harassed the passer blocking three passes.

In all, it was an impressive performance by a team which lost three of its first five games before rattling Harford last week, 39-0. Chowan appears to have the momentum it will need when it faces Wesley at home Saturday at 8 p.m. The Wolverines were the only team to defeat Chowan last year and the Braves have revenge in their eyes. Judging from their performance against Montgomery, Chowan will be ready.

IN TROUBLE—A Chowan Brave stops the Harford quarterback as he attempted to pass. The Brave defensive unit did a tremendous job in holding the Harford gridders to one touchdown in Chowan's 49-7 victory.

Back in early September when it was dry, no one ever dreamed of what was yet to come. A very wet September was followed by the wettest October in the history of the U. S. Weather Dept. This month broke the existing mark set back in 1872.

Coach Garrison was telling me about one of his hunting trips the other day. It went like this: He and Coach Hawkins were squirrel hunting along one of his favorite branches and they were having a lot of difficulty staying on dry ground. Since it was so wet down in the swamp, Coach Garrison made the suggestion that they climb up and hunt on the hardwood ridges. When they made up on the ridge, Coach Hawkins spotted a squirrel's nest. He told Garrison to get ready to shoot while he went over and shook the nest and tried to drive the squirrels out. There just happened to be a vine handy and Hawkins gave it a couple of tugs. From the rustle in the nest, it was evident that something was calling this place home. Garrison told him to shake the nest again and to shake it harder this time. Coach Hawkins gave a series of short jerks and the rustle was repeated. With this he gave a mighty tug and out of the nest came two flounders.

I know it has been wet and I know the coach is an honest man. If he said there were flounders in that squirrel's nest, there must have been; however, I thought flounders were salt water fish.

With all the swamps and lowlands under water, all the game animals have been concentrated on the small ridges and knolls around the edges of these areas. This makes for very opportune time to collect one of those old bucks that don't ordinarily venture far from dense cover. I have heard reports of several people killing trophy deer and that several trips have been made to Suffolk. I have been fortunate enough to see two of these, but unfortunate in seeing them on the back of someone else's pick-up.

Between now and the time the next issue of Smoke Signals comes out, the season on quail, rabbits, and ducks will be in. The Quail season begins on November 20 and lasts until February 29. The bag limit is 8 birds per day with a possession limit of 16, and a season limit of 100. The season on rabbits opens November 20 and lasts until February 12. The bag limit is 5 per day with a possession limit of 10; the season limit is 75.

In order to hunt ducks, one must have a Duck Stamp. This is a federal permit that is required to hunt migratory waterfowl. To purchase a Duck Stamp, one must go to a post office where in the past one also got a copy of the rules and regulations. This year the administration did not appropriate any funds in order to have these printed; therefore, we will reprint a copy of the rules as they appeared in "Wildlife in North Carolina," the November issue.

In closing, all I can say is that I am still picking up my limit of litter. GOOD LUCK!

People In The News

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Sinatra's lawyers have filed a $5 million suit against the weekly newspaper "Midnight" claiming the publication defamed the retired entertainer by falsely reporting he had cancer and would soon die.

The suit in U.S. District Court in Manhattan claimed Sinatra "has never had nor does he have cancer, nor has any diagnosis been made by any doctor that he has cancer."

Cited in the complaint was a May 10, 1971 "Midnight" story headlined, "Frank Sinatra has cancer," that claimed the singer was forced to retire because he was "suffering from cancer of the throat; and that within a period of one year he would be forced to be confined to a hospital to await his death."

The complaint also said Sinatra was libeled by a Nov. 1, 1971 article in "Midnight" that reported the entertainer was secretly married and his new wife was pregnant.

Named in the suit were the Midnight Publishing Corp., a Canadian firm; Fawcett Publications Inc., Greenwich, Conn., the U.S. distributor, and Manhattan News Co., listed as the New York City distributor of "Midnight."

Record Evens With Victory

By RICHARD JACKSON Sports Editor

After getting off a dismal start and finding themselves 1-3-1 midway through the season, Chowan is now enjoying the sweetness of victory. Coming off a 39-0 whitewashing of Harford College, Chowan showed no mercy to Montgomery State. Playing before a huge Homecoming crowd, Chowan crushed the opposition by a score of 49 to 7. Their highest point total all season.

"The improvement of our offensive line play has to be the big factor in our last two victories," declared Coach James Garrison. "They have blocked extremely well in the last three games," he added.

Game Standouts
Standouts on offense were Karl Porter, filling in for injured Julius Smith, and Rocky Dunbar, who has rushed for over 100 yards in each of the last four games. The defense was once again superb, limiting Montgomery to one touchdown after blanking Harford the week before.

Sparking the defense once again were Stuart Christian, Ed Love and Jerry Borum, who intercepted three passes. Borum thrilled the crowd when returning an intercepted pass some 82 yards. "The whole defense did an outstanding job," Coach Garrison convincingly added.

Gary Chantry provided Chowan with a good kicking game, something they have not had all season.

Looking over the season so far, Coach Garrison remarks "if we could have had a few right breaks at the right times, we would be on top of the league." He added, "however, we would be very pleased with a 6-3-1 record." Perhaps that's not impossible.

Races Nov. 19-21

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—American subcompact automobiles will be put to the test against foreign imports when the IMSA GT Championship Series culminates at Daytona International Speedway Nov. 19-20-21.

On Saturday, Nov. 20, Formula Vees, Formula Super Vees and the "Baby Grand" sedans are set to tangle in three separate races. The morning will be filled with practice sessions. An invitational handicap race at noon, Sunday, Nov. 21, begins the final day for the IMSA Championships.

The IMSA program begins Friday, Nov. 19, with practice for all cars over the 3.81-mile international road circuit. More than 150 competitors from the southern and eastern United States are expected to compete for the $25,000 in prize money.

Wesley Stops Braves, 14-12

Wesley's defense scored two quick touchdowns and Paul Harvey kicked the extra points to provide the margin as the Wolverines beat Chowan, 14-12, Saturday night at the Braves' stadium.

Chowan's defense stopped Wesley's running attack, limiting the Dover, Del., players to 106 yards rushing, and only 39 in the first half when the Wolverines scored both of their touchdowns. The defense also paved the way for Chowan's second score early in the fourth quarter but a try for a two point conversion to tie the game failed.

Wesley's first score disrupted a see-saw contest, stunning the Braves. When Braves quarterback Dale McCafferty fumbled on a handoff, an alert defensive end, Earl Passwaters, scooped up the ball and raced 65 yards into the end zone. The extra point gave Wesley a 7-0 lead with 7:59 left in the first quarter.

Wesley's defense did it again with three minutes gone in the second quarter when Bill Tesno, defensive back, picked up a blocked punt and fell into the end zone for the score, giving Wesley a 14-0 halftime lead.

During the first half, Arthur

Hogue, before meeting misfortune on the blocked punt, had kept the Wolverines deep in their own territory with punts sailing 52, 50 and 48 yards.

Chowan used some razzle-dazzle on the kickoff after the Wolverines second score. It wasn't clear to anyone in the stadium just which Brave had the ball, the faking was so good, until speedster Bobby Britt broke into the open at his own 25. It appeared he might go all the way but at Chowan's 41 a Wesley player slapped the ball out of his hands and the Wolverines recovered the fumble after a mad scramble.

The second half was all Chowan, except for one Wesley drive that stalled at Chowan's one. The Braves made the only sustained drive of the evening for a score with fullback George Sands bursting 36 yards through the middle to complete a 61 yard march with 6:30 left in the third period. Twice Gary Chantry's kicks for the extra point was good but nullified by penalties. The third try was from the 20 and was wide left to leave the gap at 14-6.

Chowan's defense set up the final score when Allen Nobles recovered a fumble of a punt at Wesley's 10. On fourth and six, tailback Rocky Dunbar and center Harry Vann of Murrefreesboro wrote their own script for the TD. Dunbar received a pass from Black but when his progress was impeded he later rolled to Vann who covered the final four yards. Quarterback Paul Black elected to pass from his eight, where a penalty had pushed the ball, for the tie but Julius Smith, the receiver, was stopped short.

Over 11 minutes still remained but the only team to threaten again was Wesley. The Wolverines drove to within one foot of the Braves goal. On fourth down, Chowan's line threw the runner back to give the ball to the offense. Three plays later, Chowan was forced to punt. Chowan's own defense held and Chowan took over with 1:12 remaining. On the first play, Black's pass was intercepted at Wesley's 49 and the Wolverines ran out the clock to take their fifth straight victory after opening with three losses. Chowan's record is now 3-4-1 with Evans the opponent Saturday at the North Cabarrus High School stadium in Concord at 8 p. m.

The result was a bitter disappointment for the Braves and especially the sophomores who had sought revenge for the one defeat administered by Wesley last year. The Wolverines won the Coastal Conference Championship with a 37-17 thrashing of the Braves in Dover. This year they are out of the running but have developed into one of the best clubs in the conference. Chowan has now lost three games by a total of eight points with only Ferrum making it no contest with the Braves. The Tigers won 27-6 in the rain on their own field.

Something To Think About

Our time, our today
Free to make it as we will
Alone, as individuals,
Together, with man.

Reaching out to others seeking help
Asking only friendship in return
Along with a chance to be united.

Could we stand as one—together
Respecting all ideas and desires
Trusting in emotions?

Who will save the world, while we chase rainbows
Fight pollution, war and everlasting hate?
Constant chants of love beckon—but how?

The answer cannot be found with one,
But instead, with many
All joining the wrinkled hands of hope, with sincerity.

There will be no life
If we cannot face tomorrow together
United, but as one

With life's fast pace just our own
To run, skip and laugh with the wind,
Making all yesterdays bright.

Hold your head high, stand tall with your ambitions
Supply your ambitions with dreams,
Dreams of a better world,
Make them come true.

Standing still as time moves on
We cannot turn our back to the sorrow
To poverty, disease and pain.

Thoughts, emotions—freedom-bound
Individually, we stand isolated
Together we stand fulfilled.

Is it so difficult to unite in peace.
There has to be a compromising point.
We must meet halfway "and not just out of fear".

If we could turn back to the many yesterdays
Knowing what we know now,
Could we have changed life's pattern?

The sun will always rise,
And there will always be a tomorrow;
If you believe, you shall receive the strength
To go forth and face the day.
