

End Season 5-4-1

Braves Smash Evans for 53-0 Win

Chowan College forgot it's the age of Aquarius - one of peace and love - as the football Braves "murdered" undermanned Evans, 53-0, Saturday night at the Northwest Cabarrus High School stadium.

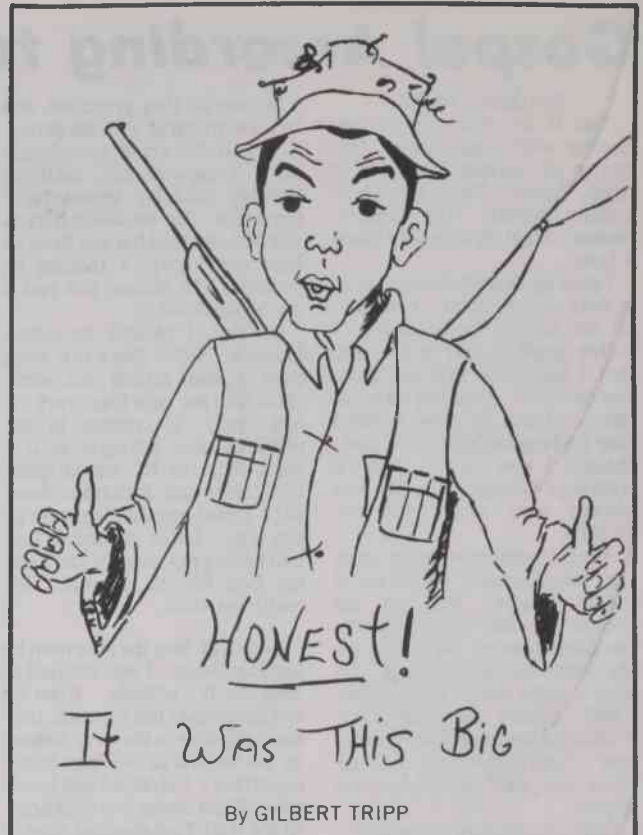

It was cold but touchdowns were as prevalent as flowers in the spring. Seven Braves scored with one, halfback Julius Smith, crossing the goal twice. Smith raced 20 yards midway in the first period to open the floodgates for Chowan. He followed with a second touchdown early in the second quarter from Evan's 19. Chowan scored two more before halftime. Rocky Dunbar ran 11 yards into the endzone. Gary Chantry kicked the four extra points to put Chowan ahead, 28-0.

Chowan's fans spent the chilly halftime trying to figure out what the final score would be. "I'll say it will be, let's see, what's double of 28, or, 56-0 at the end of the game," one seer predicted.

The second team took over for Chowan in the third period and failed to score. But the Braves almost doubled their score in the final period. The first two scores were the result of passes from quarterback Paul Black to split ends Bobby Britt and Freddy Knight. In the 45-yard drive, Britt received two straight passes from Black. The first was for 44 yards and the final for the remaining distance. Knight's catch was for 36 yards.

Game Cancelled

Chowan's game with Piedmont, which was scheduled in the Braves' stadium last Saturday night, was cancelled by Piedmont. Head Coach James Garrison received the news from Piedmont's coach Thursday afternoon. The coach reported he did not have enough players due to injuries to play Chowan. Piedmont is located in Charlotte. Last Saturday Chowan played Evens in nearby Concord. One interested spectator was the Piedmont coach. The result was a 53-0 victory for the Braves. Evans defeated Piedmont earlier in the season 35-6.

"Was this the reason Piedmont cancelled?" Coach Garrison was asked. "You figure that out for yourself," was his terse reply.

Chowan was definitely having fun at the expense of Evans, but that doesn't take anything away from the game. They only had 20 players forcing number to play both ways. Several showed considerable talent including quarterback Robert Kalivoda and halfback Ferrell Barton, who caught most of the 13 passes Kalivoda completed. Considering the punishing pass rush Kalivoda got

Basketball Season Gets Underway

Chowan College will open its basketball season Nov. 23 and by then Coach Bill McCraw will have made an important decision, one that his own players have forced him to delay, the selection of his starting lineup.

Chowan to hold its own on the boards. Th spirited competition is seen as a good omen by McCraw in Chowan's bid to improve on its 13-13 mark last season. "The bench is definitely much better than last year," McCraw noted. "In fact, it is the best we've had."

provided the winning points in several games last year with last-second free thrown. Teamed with either Jackson or freshman Spears, McCraw believes the Brave's backcourt will be one of the strongest in the league. Spears is given plus marks by McCraw as a ball handler, defensive player and for his hustle while Jackson is described as a steady, consistent player.

Chowan's schedule includes two games with each of the seven conference opponents and contests with the freshmen of Old Dominion, William and Mary and East Carolina. Chowan will play all three away and Old Dominion at home Feb. 21.

The Brave's first opponent will be Chesapeake Community College at the Great Bridge High School gymnasium in Chesapeake, Va. at 8 p.m. The home opener will be Tuesday, Nov. 30 against Mt. Olive at 7:45 p.m.

Sometimes I am asked which of the outdoor sports I like best. Without even stopping to think, I answer, "HUNTING." This is then followed by another question, "Which type of hunting do you like best?" To this question I usually pause and think and then give a pet cliché: "Whatever happens to be in season at this particular time." This is not a good answer to the question but since I enjoy all types of hunting it is probably the best answer that I can give.

However, after thinking about this question for several years and forcing myself to arrive at one truthful answer, I will have to say that my favorite kind of hunting is BIRD hunting. I am sure that it is by far the hardest of all the various types. It also offers the least tangible reward (the amount of game for the table). It is at this point that BIRD hunting separates the men from the boys. It's the intangibles that make BIRD hunting. There is probably no other sport that contains so many uncontrollable variables. Some days the wind is wrong or it's too wet, too dry, too hot, too cold, no birds, the birds fly wrong, or the dog acts up. On those rare occasions when the wind is just a gentle breeze, the woods is cool and damp with plenty of birds, a low pressure cell is moving through, the birds are actively feeding and are holding good, the dog is working to perfection. . . . all of a sudden, the inevitable happens. . . you fall into an immediate shooting slump.

Among the 15 members are 11 new players and five are battling for the first team. They are forwards Mike Oliver (6-3) from East Orange, N.J., Nat Wright (6-1) of Charlottesville, Va., and Ray Rawls (6-0) of Windsor, Va.; guard John Spears (6-0) of Afton, Va., and center Don Johnson (6-5) from Norfolk, Va.

Chowan finished fourth among eight Cavalier-Tarheel Conference teams during 1970-71 play. The Braves captured the championship of the Frederick Military Academy Invitational tournament and placed as runners-up in the Evans College Holiday Tournament. This was a marked improvement from the 2-19 record of the previous year.

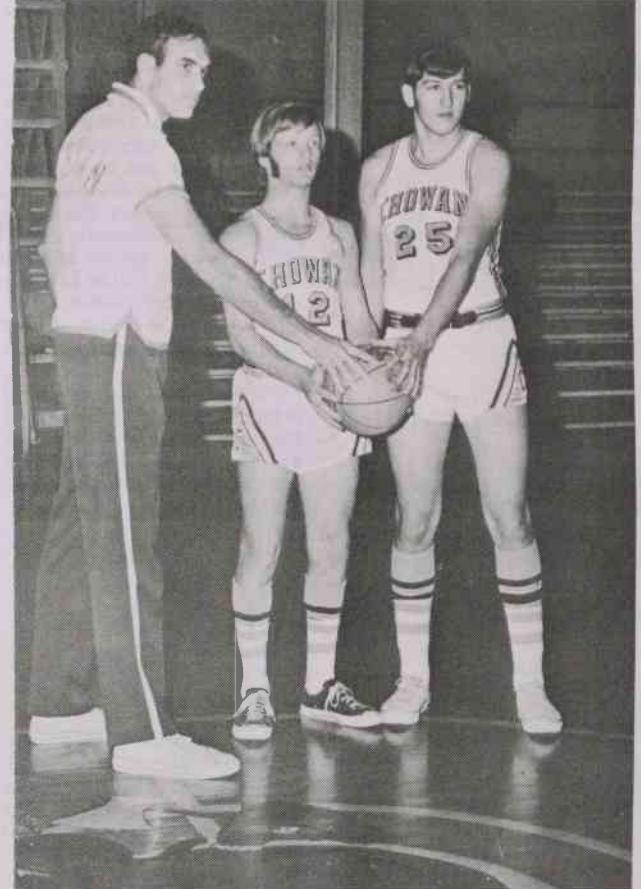

The presence of Michie provides Chowan with a smart quarterback as well as excellent shooter, McCraw declared. He

Braves End Season With 5-4-1 Record

By RICHARD JACKSON Sports Editor

After standing 1-3-1 midway through the season, Chowan's Braves won 4 out of their last 5 games. Only a 14 to 12 loss to Wesley kept them from making it 5 straight. Chowan's latest win came by forfeit. Central Piedmont, who watched Chowan smash Evans last week forfeited instead of facing the powerful Braves. The forfeit gave Chowan a winning record of 5-4-1. Coach Garrison and the team must be commended for turning what looked to be a disastrous season into a winning season.

Chowan's team for next year will be without such key players as Dale McCafferty, Ed Love, Stuart Christian, Paul Black, Jerry Borum and Rocky Dunbar. However, the recruiting program is underway and you can be assured that Chowan will best junior college teams in the United States. This year was no exception.

PROVIDE LEADERSHIP—Providing leadership for the Braves are Coach Bill McCraw and co-captains Randy Michie and Norman Roles.

The Braves four carryovers are also pressing for the starting assignments. Heading the list is guard Randy Michie (5-7) of Chesapeake, Va., the only player certain to start, who averaged 18 points per game last year. Also returning are forward Ray Brigman, guard Harry Jackson and center Norman Roles. Of these three, Brigman and Roles started a number of games last season.

His opinion of Chowan's social life and the people was: "You get a chance to meet a lot of people and the people are very friendly. They seem to get along and work together." When asked why he chose Chowan, he stated, "Chowan seems to give you a better chance to transfer to a senior institution."

Circle K Club Provides Ushers

By JIM HUNTER
As a service to the college, members of Circle K handled the ushering duties at the Fall Drama Production, "Summer and Smoke," at two of its presentations on November 11 and 12.

They not only passed out programs to the audience as they entered the auditorium, but also escorted the college girls, members of the faculty and staff, and guests to their seats. They were also responsible for getting the audience back in their seats after the fifteen minute intermission.

Professor Brannon, director of the drama, told Jim Hunter, President of Circle K, that he thought the Circle K members did an excellent job.
