Paige Heishman Crowned Homecoming Queen!!

One of the most outstanding and eagerly awaited events each year is Homecoming with all its activities and excitement that normally accompanies such an event. A lot of planning very obviously went into the days activities and there was a little something for everyone. Whether you liked the bands, wanted to see the Homecoming court, the football game or just go to the dance it was all there for your enjoyment. Its easy to see why so many alumni return every year from all parts of the country to share and participate in the days activities.

Although the weather was a little on the dreary side, the day got started with a bang when the various constituates of the 1975 Homecoming parade rolled down scenic Jones Drive at 10 o'clock.

There were many beautiful and imaginative floats this year as in the past. The floats were constructed by the dorms, clubs and other college organizations conveying this year's theme, "American Heritage, 200 years of Freedom." This years winning float was the log cabin prepared by B.S.U.

The parade itself featured many high school and area bands including Murfreesboro, Aurora, West Craven of Vanceboro, Eastman of Enfield, and Manteo as well as two bands from Virginia Beach, Kempsville and Princess Anne. Also putting in a guest appearance were the Perquimans County Marching Unit and the Hertford County Fife and Drum Corps.

There were too many entries to acknowledge everyone but some of the others highlighting the parade were the Chowan Braves and their mounts, the Homecoming court, and several Paso Fine and Appaloosa show horses.

Chowan's International Student Association made their usual appearance, under the guidance of Mr. Pruette, and represented the following countries; Cameroon Ethiopia, Germany, Ghana, Hong Kong, Iran, Liberia, Micronesia, Nigeria, Pakistan, Sierre Leone, Tanzania, and Thailand.

U. S. students found its counterpart in the "Parade of the States," with students carrying state flags from Alabama, California, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Maryland., and so forth, anyway I guess you get the picture.

At this time we would like to thank and give credit to the judges for the parade. They were Mrs. Hollomon, Mrs. Underwood, Mrs. Bunch, Mr. Whitehead and Mr. Hill.

At 1:30 the Chowan Braves met the Vikings of Hudson Valley Community College out of Troy, New York. The Vikings led by quarterback John Maggio, one of two all-American candidates on the squad, made the day seem a little damper as they defeated the Braves.

Halftime entertainment was provided by the Princess Anne High School Marching Band, they put on quite an impressive show.

The freshman members of the Homecoming court this year were Marsha Colonna of Norfolk, Cindi Lindsey of Williamsburg, Betty Moore of Severna Park, Maryland and Vicki Martin of High Point, N. C.

Sophomore members of the court were Paige Heishman of Falls Church, Virginia, Donna Newsome of Grafton, Virginia, Diane Martin of Hampton, Virginia and Lyn Griggs of Falls Church, Virginia.

During the halftime activities, Dr. Whitaker crowned Paige Heishman as 1975's Homecoming Queen.

A busy days activities were wrapped up with the Homecoming dance that night in Thomas Cafeteria.

Paige Heishman of Falls Church, Virginia was crowned Homecoming Queen for 1975 by Dr. Bruce E. Whitaker during the halftime activities on October 18.

Smoke Signals Gets New Mast Head

Chris Holmes

Mike Patterson

Most of our readers should have noticed, I hope, our new masthead that made its first appearance on the last edition of Smoke Signals.

Its design and final art work were produced by Chris Holmes, and advertising design student from Hartsville, South Carolina.

Chris is the son of Eugene and Eleanor Holmes. His father operates a brewery in Hartsville and his mother teaches the second grade there.

Chris lists his hobbies as playing ping pong, shooting pool, playing the drums and working for his father as a taster during the summer.

Another job he has done recently was the banner that flew across main street for the homecoming festivities. He is currently working on a design for a general brochure promoting Chowan College to potential students. Chris is a sophomore this year and says that he would like to have a few more designs and printed jobs to his credit before leavomg Chowan College.

Chris' plans for the future include going on for two mor years of school but he isn't sure just where at the present time.

Sociology Club Holds Third Meeting

Melanie Chamberlin
Secretary-Treasurer

The Sociology Club held its third meeting at 8:00 P. M. on October 7, in Marks Hall, Room 104. The minutes were read and corrected. The corrections were as follows: 1. The Sociology club would meet regularly every third week: 2. Anyone interested in going to Washington, D. C. to visit Congress and other places of interest, may do so under two stipulations. These are the approval of Dr. Gosnell and two dollars in addition to the regular fare of $20. Dues were collected, and the treasurer reported a total of $17 as the amount received into the treasury.

Louis then presented a report to the club concerning the candy selling project. The club decided to participate in the project by selling candy in the dorms and at various athletic activities. Two types of candy will be for sale. Reese cups and Hershey bars will both sell for 50 cents a piece. It was decided that the club should meet in front of Marks Hall on October 16 at 8:00 to obtain the candy for selling purposes.

Dr. Gosnell reported that he received correspondence from Robert Morgan, a North Carolinean congressman, concerning the Washington trip.

Rep. Morgan said that either date (October 30-31, or November 6-7) would be acceptable. A vote was taken and November 6-7 were the dates chosen. An approximate cost of the trip will be $20, including travel and lodging. All those persons desiring to go should turn in their money by Tuesday, October 28.

Dr. Gosnell next informed the club that there was a girl in Murfreesboro who has cancer. Her family would appreciate volunteers who could help around the home, giving assistance where needed. Three members offered their services.

Dance

By BETSY GUEDRI
TERRIE MORRIS

Those that went to the Homecoming Dance on Oct. 18, really hated to see 12:30 roll around and the dance to end. Everybody throughly enjoyed themselves and the music of the Dynamic Upsetters. This could easily be witnessed by simply observing the crowded dance floor, which stayed filled the entire evening. Before entering the dance students were greeted by a reception line composed of Dr. & Mrs. Whitaker, members of the faculty. The dance was indeed a success.
