Coaches

Praised,

Roasted

Veteran Chowan coaches Jim Garrison and Jerry Hawkins captured their 100th football victory with the Braves

19-16 win over Wesley College on Garrison-Hawkins Day, November 5. Garrison, the Braves' head coach, and Hawkins, assistant, are completing their 20th campaign with the football team. Their record is 100-86-9. Garrison is ranked 11th nationally for the number of wins of an active junior col-

Garrison also coaches tennis and serves as athletic director and chairman of the Department of Health and Physical Education. Hawkins coaches baseball and is a professor of physical

When they first came to Chowan in 1958, the two coached all of Chowan's athletic teams. Many players from their former teams returned to celebrate Garrison and Hawkins Day. Framed tributes were presented the coaches at halftime by Chowan President Bruce E. Whitaker. Dr. Whitaker said they "have made a lasting impression on the players they have coached, not only in football but other sports as Whitaker said the two coaches "have helped many young people find themselves during their Chowan experience." He added, "we are happy to honor them today before many of their former athletes and many other

The coaches received a standing ova-tior from the crowd. The Braves, stan-ding behind their coaches, also cheered, as they prepared for the se-lege head coach.

Garrison, Hawkins Win 100th Game

Blake, Crosby Lead Way

Reserve quarterback Randy Blake rallied Chowan to three fourth-quarter touchdowns and a 19-16 junior college football victory over Wesley November

In the final six minutes and 40 seconds, Blake ran for one touchdown and passed for another and then watched as defensive tackle Dunky Crosby blocked and recovered a punt in the end zone for the winning score.

The win was Chowan's first over Wesley since 1965. Moreover, it represented the 100th victory for head coach Jim Garrison and assistant Jerry Hawkins since they arrived at Chowan Appropriately, the occasion - the final home game of the season - was Garrison-Hawkins Day.

The Braves, tied for 13th in national junior college ratings, raised their record for the season to 8-2, 4-1 in the Coastal Conference. Wesley fell to 2-4 in the league, 4-4 overall.

But the game was far from being in hand when Blake took over in the final period with Chowan trailing, 16-0.

Blake, who completed four of seven passes for 76 yards, produced the Braves' first touchdown on a one-yard plunge. A fumble recovery by middle linebacker Jimmy Allen, starting his first game, led to Blake's touchdown.

Blake followed that effort with a 10yard pass to Terry McLaurin for the second score

That led to Crosby's heroics, capping an admirable second-half defensive Chowan forced three Wesley turnovers in the fourth period, all of which resulted in touchdowns.

Annual Gift Drive

Framed by two cheerleaders and surrounded by the Braves football squad, Chowan President Bruce E. Whitaker is shown praising the 20-year career of Coaches Jim Garrison (right) and Jerry Hawkins at halftime of the 100th victory of their career. Dean R. Clayton Lewis (letf) holds the two plaques which were given the coaches later by Dr. Whitaker

Southern Baptist Schools Rated Highly by McGrath Study Group

One if the most encouraging "report cards" ever compiled on Southern Baptist colleges and universities has been issued by the distinguished educator

Baptist schools. Conducted under a $100,000 grant from the Lilly Foundation, the study ex-Dr. Earl McGrath. It is a report of the findings of Dr. McGrath and his mined the participating schools with regard to their financial operations, academic programs, enrollments, purposes, and such matters as (1) concern for the undergraduate learning, (2) concern for innovation, (3) democratic Mrs. Brown Heads goverance, (4) self-study and planning,

(5) concern for advancing knowledge, (6) human diversity, (7) institutional esprit, (8) freedom, (9) concern for improvement of society, (10) intellectualaesthetic extracurriculum, and (11) meeting local needs. The findings showed the schools as a group to be sound financially and associates in an exhaustive study of 49 academically, and in good shape as far as enrollment is concerned. Strong relations between the schools and the denomination and the willingness of the schools to stand for Christian values were seen as sources of great strength. The study revealed:

(1) that student enrollments at the Baptist institutions increased 31 percent from 1965 to 1975;

(2) that the schools are relatively stronger financially than the average for private institutions across the nation as a whole, and that they receive better support from their affiliated churches than do the schools of most other denominations; (3) that the "esprit" or satisfaction of the faculty and staff is "amazingly high" in comparison to that at most other institutions, public and private;

(4) that concern for learning in the 49 schools as a whole rated considerably higher than the national average, indicating a high degree of concern for the individual students and what they

(5) that the colleges are surprisingly innovated despite an image that they are conservative defenders of the past;

(6) that about half of the schools have clear and explicit statements of religious purpose abd service to the denomination and most of the others have relatively clear but implicit statements of such purpose. Summaizing the findings, Dr. McGrath, former U.S. Commissioner of Education, judged that "these SBC institutions are in remarkably good shape, comparing them with other private institutions around the country."

The 49 schools were found to be exceptionally high in the spirit of the faculty and staff; and Dr. McGrath estimated this to be "worth millions of dollars to the institutions."

The study did score the 49 institutions low on "human diversity" and "freedom," but Dr. McGrath explained that a low score on these points may actually be a strength.

Exactly what effect the study and its findings will have on the future of the Baptist colleges will depend on the extent to which the colleges and the denomination together and the colleges individually utilize the findings. Dr Daniel Grant, president of Ouachita Baptist College in Arkansas, was enthusiastic over the potential usefulness.

"It is doubtful that these 49 institutions will have such a remarkable opportunity during the rest of this century." he said.

One of the more immediate results of the study should be an improvement of the image of Baptist colleges in the eyes of national philanthropic foundations and other prospective contributors.

The findings should also lead to greater pride in the colleges on the part of individual church members. The report assures church members there is no need to be apologetic or defensive about the quality of educational programs being offered by the colleges or the to be worried about the commitment of the colleges to Christian values.

In Norfolk

star game on Saturday afternoon, Dec.

The game will be sponsored by the Norfolk Police Union with proceeds go-of eight junior colleges representing six states — including Ferrum College, currently ranked No. 2 in the National

Junior College; Potomac State (W.Va.) College; Wesley (Del.) College; Lees-

'We hope to sign a five-year contract for the game to be played in Norfolk," said Carl Lee, Police Union president. "With so little time to prepare for the 5,000 this time and plan for bigger things in the future."

The game is a showcase for college football coaches.

'There were no less than 150 college coaches attending last year's all-star game," noted Jack Reynolds of Potomac State, who is secretarytreasurer of the Coastal Conference. The game provides them with an excellent opportunity to do some recruiting from a list including many of Madison College the last two years but didn't draw too well. It did better before that when the game was played at Potomac State.

"But weather is a factor in moving the game," said Reynolds. "We had snow the last time the game was played at Potomac State ference title with a 6-0 record. Ferrum, 7-1 overall, is bidding for a shot at the national crown in its final two games.

(3-1), Potomac State (1-3), Wesley (1-3), Lees-McRae (0-4) and Hudson West Chester (7-0) is ineligible for the conference title this season : ince the players to the all-star game if they are The two squads will be composed of each team. Lee said admission to the game will

November 19 at 2 p.m. College Football Stadium BE THERE!

NORFOLK - Foreman Field has been selected as the site of the fifth annual Coastal Conference football all-ing to a children's hospital.

The Coastal Conference is composed Junior College football poll, and Chowan College, tied for 13th. Other members are Nassau (N.Y.)

McRae (N.C.) College; Hudson Valley (N.Y.) College, and West Chester (N.J.) Community College.

the finest junior college players."

The all-star game was played at Ferrum has already clinched the con-

Following Ferrum in the Coastal standings are Nassau (4-1), Chowan school is a new member. But West Chester will be permitted to send selected. 30 players each with four coaches for

IT IS COMING!

All-Star Game Set

Trailing 6-0 at intermission, Chowan fell even farther behind as Wesley built up a 16-point advantage. Then the Braves scored three touchdowns within a four-minute span of the final quarter to provide Garrison and Hawkins with their 100th win as Chowan coaches. The victory mood permeated the din-ner that followed in their honor in Thomas Cafeteria. Former players and their families, faculty and staff, and present football players were present to hear Sam Green "roast" Garrison and Hawkins. Green is a former Chowan coach who now serves as Kinston High School's head football coach

After poking fun at them, he thanked them for their dedication in helping to develop Chowan's athletes as total persons. He said they exerted a positive influence on his life that continues to the Green drew a big laugh when he said Garrison had ordered the fumbles that had led to the Braves getting in the hole against Wesley. He said Chowan's head coach just wanted to make the victory more exciting

During their responses, Garrison and Hawkins defended their reputations and gave their side to the various stories Green had spun. On a serious note, they thanked their former players and others for the tribute and said they looked forward to coaching at Chowan another 20 years.
Under Garrison and Hawkins,

Chowan has had seven winning seasons, including this year, since 1969. The 1970 squad finished 8-1 and won the Region 10 championship. The 1974 team was Region 10 tri-champions with an 8-2 record. Garrison was named Region 10 coach of the year in 1970 and 1976.

Serving with Garrison and Hawkins, since 1975, is assistant coach Linwood

Female Officer Now on Force

By MIKE BARNHARDT Jean Marie Bilskie has been named

Chowan's first female Security Officer by the Department of Safety and Security. She previously served this position at King's Dominion in Virginia. Chief Ron Reams also said that a Crime Prevention Unit of the Murfreesboro Police Department will be presenting a Crime Prevention program to the various residence halls soon. Alice Vann, the Director of Residence Hall Life, is coordinator for these programs. Captain William D. Kent, Jr. now lives in West Hall room 313, but his telephone number is the same. Officer Elmore Whitley has been transferred and now has 2 responsibilities, enforcing parking regulations and keeping the vending machines in full and working order. New officers on the midnight shift are Mal Maloney and Smith

MRS. BROWN

Mrs. Dorothy Brown of Murfreesboro is the general chairman Chowan College's Annual Giving Program for the 1977-78 year, Chowan President, Dr. Bruce E. Whitaker announced.

The Annual Giving Program was established in 1974 by the Board of Board of Trustees following a recommendation of the Board of Advisors to secure undesignated gifts to help underwrite the day to day operation of the college. The goal has been surpassed each year, Dr. Whitaker said.

He announced the minimum goal for 1977-78 is $50,000 with a challenge goal of $75,000. Mrs. Brown Graduated from Chowan in 1934. She has served Chowan in many capacities including president of the Chowan Alumni Association and member of the Board of Advisors. She received the Distinguished Alumni Award in 1968 and President's Council

She is a member of the Board of Trustees at Gilford College, past president of the North Carolina Federation of Woman's Clubs, president of the Southeastern Council of General Federation of Woman's Clubs, and trustee and chairman of the state organization.

Locally, she is past president of the Roanoke-Chowan Hospital Woman's County Auxiliary and the Hertiord Chapter of the American Red Cross.

a member of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers), Mrs. Brown has received a number of honors including the Award of Merit from the Historic Preservation Society of N.C., Inc., Golden Deeds Award from the Murfeeesboro Exchange Club and a Bicentennial award from the French government for the French Committee of the Bicentennial of Independence in 1776 of the United States.

Her late husband, Edwin P. Brown, was also an active member of the college. He served as a member of Chowan's Board of Advisors and played a significant role in the reopening of Chowan after the institution was closed during World War II.

She is the mother of Edwin P. Brown, Jr.; Hannah Heath Brown, Dorothy Shoffner and Andrew V. Brown.

Dr. Whitaker said the college is fortunate to have a person of Mrs. Brown's proven leadership and interset in Chowan to head the Annual Giving Fund are Program during 1977-78. He explained gifts to the Annual Giving Fund are instrumental in helping the college operate in the black. Mrs. Brown noted she welcomed the opportunity to serve her alma mater as general chairman of the Annual Giving Program. She said volunteers assisted by members of the Board of Trustees and Board of Advisors will seek financial support from the community, college family, alumni, parents, friends, businesses, and corporations, and foundations "in order to help underwrite the daily operation of the college.' Mrs. Brown said gifts to the Annual Giving Fund will be used "to meet the daily needs such as lights, food, fuel and supplies, thereby benefitting every student on campus.' The general chairman said support of the Annual Giving Program is impor-tant in helping Chowan keep tuition within the reach of students and assisting the college in providing its services to young people.

