

Enlarged Night Spot Lists Entertainment

By KATHY FISHER

Hill's Pub, a popular night spot in Murfreesboro, has undergone numerous changes within the past year. What began with one jukebox had expanded into live entertainment and disco.

The Pub has undergone much remodeling with the addition of a dance floor last year. At the moment there are plans for more. Mrs. Carol Hill said that they are thinking about moving the bar and bathrooms and putting the front door where the present back door is.

With more room, the Pub will be able to hold more people and because of this larger capacity the Pub would like to try a series of mini-concerts which will compare to those at Rogues or other well known night spots on the East Coast. These concerts will probably start at 7:30 with an opening act and end around 11:15.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill also plan to install smoke-eating devices. They have already been ordered and should be in service soon. The devices are designed to remove cigarette smoke and other odors from the air.

Mrs. Hill commented that they try to keep the Pub a clean and well respected place. "No fighting or intolerant conduct will be allowed," she emphasized.

The Pub is opened weekly except for Sunday and Monday and with a discount card the cover charge is reduced. The cards went on sale at the beginning of the school year as an experiment, according to Mrs. Hill. As of the moment they are no longer available, but if they work, they will be offered for sale again in January.

With the card, one can get in free on Tuesday and Wednesday night. The Pub tries to offer a variety of entertainment ranging from disco to rock-n-roll.

occur. They should both be equipped with a fire extinguisher."

State law requires that at least two fire drills be held per dorm per semester. "College policy calls for the first of these to be an announced drill with the second being unannounced," Mrs. Vann revealed. However, at a recent drill in Parker Hall, alarms operated properly on only three of nine floors. Broken alarms were the main cause for the failures. Even though this obvious lack of safe equipment was discovered in the past few weeks, some of the alarms have been damaged since the fall semester of 1978.

In the event that a fire should occur, someone should also contact the Murfreesboro Volunteer Fire Department by calling 398-4151. Lee Lamb, member of the department, requests that when reporting a fire, "please give the number they are calling from so they may be easily contacted in the event that additional information is needed."

Infirmary Busiest When Students Return

BY BARBARA PARKER

The coming of the cold weather does not always bring the worst of the dreaded colds.

The heaviest time for colds and sore throats at Chowan is in September, according to Mr. Sarah Wright, director of health services. This is due to the students' change of environment and their adjustment to the new surroundings, she explains.

The last week of January, and all of February until the first of March is also a critical period for colds.

In 1978-1979, the Penny Infirmary treated 4,186 illness and accident cases among students during the academic year. This figure does not include faculty, staff, maintenance, cafeteria employees and visitors.

Approximately 140 students were confined to the infirmary from one day to a week.

During the summer of 1978, there were 167 summer campers who came to the infirmary. Their treatment ranged from a simple bandaid to confinement.

Dean Clayton Lewis and Mrs. Wright did a survey on the freshman class of 1978-1979 to see how frequently students visit the infirmary. Visit by a single student ranged from one to thirteen times that academic year. Mrs. Wright said, however, that many of the freshman students were not seen at all.

Mrs. Wright recalled one amusing case where a student came to the infirmary with a broken leg. He said he had tried to get a drink out of a soft drink machine, but the machine kept his money. Out of frustration he kicked the machine, then started shaking it. Eventually, the machine fell on him and broke his leg.

As the student was filling out his insurance claim, he came to a question which asked, "Have you ever had an attack before?" and he answered whimsically "Never by a Pepsi Machine."

An increased number of German measles cases were reported on college campuses across the state in the academic year 1978-1979, Mrs. Wright said. This included Chowan.

"The local Public Health Department worked with the infirmary in collecting blood samples for diagnostic purposes and tracking survey," remarked Mrs. Wright.

The medical admission record was changed this year requesting inoculation for measles in the routine medical examination that is required for admission into Chowan College.

It is very important to be inoculated for German measles, especially for a woman before pregnancy, she emphasized. A woman should have the measles "shot" before conception.

The college infirmary is open every day and night except for two weekends a month. Mrs. Marie Elliott, assistant director of health services, who has the night duty, arranges her weekends off at times then there is the least campus activity. Mrs. Wright pointed out. In case of illness on one of these weekends, students are advised to contact their RA or Head Resident.

jobs so that they can have some basic comforts. With money we can just buy rice, bread and meat from the store and start cooking them. This is practical. No more cooking taro, breadfruit and tapioca.

To eat taro, we must go to the taro garden, far from town. We have to carry taros from the garden all the way to home in a big basket on our head or shoulders. The women get headaches and backaches from that.

Also, the men have to climb big breadfruit trees to pick the fruits. Some men fall and are killed. Boys may fall and grow up and not move their hands or legs anymore.

I have observed the people in Truk's district center, where the Western influence is stronger than in the outer islands. They all look younger than people in the outer islands. They are prettier and smoother. Working too hard just makes people look old and die sooner. Believe me, sickness and work are no fun.

Concert Group Sets Eskin Performance

By WILLIAM HOBSON

The Chowan College Community Concert Association will present pianist Virginia Eskin in concert on Friday, November 2 at 8:15 p.m. in McDowell Columns Auditorium.

Ms. Eskin has performed both solo and chamber music recitals throughout Europe and has appeared as soloist with major orchestras in Rome, London, and many cities throughout the United States. She has toured with Arthur Fiedler and has been a special guest soloist at the Boston Pops Pension Fund Gala with Harry Dickson, most recently in June, 1979.

Jane Winfield, an accomplished pianist from Greensboro, will again visit Chowan and will play at 4 p.m. on November 4 at Daniel Hall Recital Hall. On Monday, November 5, she will conduct a master class, which is an open lesson with area citizens and Chowan students, according to Professor Hugh Middleton, of Chowan's music department.

Soprano Sunny Van Eaton will be singing, among other works, songs from Strauss and Pousenc. She will also present an operatic aria, Middleton announced. Ms. Eaton will be accompanied by Middleton. She will be available to area students on Monday, December 3, Middleton emphasized.

A Chowan Faculty Music program has been planned for Sunday, December 3, in Daniel Hall, Middleton said.

"We are looking forward to some interesting programs next semester which will include the return of Stefan Bardas, internationally known pianist, and a lecture recital," Middleton maintained.

buy motorboats, and so they lose a very useful skill.

Of course there are some good farmers, fishermen and hard workers, but they are having a hard time getting a wife. In the old days hard working boys, good farmers, and good fishermen could find wives first. They would always have something to eat. But now you can have a wife only if you have a paying job.

No matter who you are, even if you are not hard working or good looking, as long as you have a money job, you can always just pick among the girls and get the one you like.

Students' Vehicles Must Be Registered

By SHELLY JANKOSKY

Students are reminded by the Department of Safety and Security to register their vehicles in order to use campus parking lots.

All student vehicles are required to be registered. Registration decals are to be displayed on left rear bumper of cars and on front fenders of motorcycles.

Students with a registered vehicle are permitted to bring an unregistered vehicle on campus at no charge but must acquire a temporary registration card from the Office of Safety and Security located between Belk and Jenkins Halls. There is also no charge to a student with a registered vehicle to register a different vehicle as long as the old decal is returned.

A vehicle bearing no registration decal or temporary registration card is considered unregistered and is subject to fines and/or towing. Registration fees are nonrefundable.

Students are assigned to parking lots closest to their residence halls. Residents of East, West, and Mixon should park in Lot number 1 located in front of East, Mixon, and Green Halls. Residents of Belk and Jenkins are assigned to Lot number 2 which is located in front of these two dorms. Day Students are assigned to Lot number 3 behind Jenkins Hall. Parker residents should park in Lot number 4 behind Parker Hall.

Faculty and staff parking is permitted in front of Parker at all times along with student pickup and delivery parking with a maximum of 10 minutes. Parking beside the curb in front of Parker is not permitted.

Parking spaces marked with white lines indicate student parking. Faculty and staff parking is designated with yellow lines. However, students are permitted to use the faculty, staff, and visitors parking areas in front of Thomas Cafeteria, McSweeney Hall, Marks Hall, Stone Hall, beside Whitaker Library and behind McSweeney Hall between the hours of 5 p.m. and 7:30 a.m. Student parking is also permitted behind Parker Hall, Camp Hall, and Jenkins Hall as long as spaces are available. Areas marked with a series of yellow parallel-diagonal lines indicate No Parking Areas.

Traffic fines are to be paid in the Business Manager's office within three working days after receiving the ticket. Any traffic violation may be appealed by filing a written appeal with the Director of Safety and Security within three days. Students accumulating four or more vehicle violations may lose the privilege of operating a motor vehicle on campus.

tion of music. The dance will be free with ID at Thomas Cafeteria.

In other action, the SGA approved a recommendation to decorate the cafeteria for Homecoming at a cost not to exceed $50.

The organization also approved a proposal presented by Burke to form a College Improvement Committee. Burke said this committee would be in charge of beautifying the campus.

SGA appropriated $300 to Band Day. Burke said Bob Brown, band director, requested $1,000 for the ceremonies, trophies and transportation fee for judges. Loy and the rest of the members thought $1,000 was entirely too much. Burke disagreed.

"If I had my way, we wouldn't pay for this," Loy asserted. "I think it (money) should be for the students."

SGA rejected a recommendation to send a representative to the Apple Blossom Festival in Westchester, Va. Members feel that the school nor SGA would benefit from the Festival.

SGA has invited Ron Thompson, director of food services, to its next legislative meeting, October 29 to discuss operation of Thomas Cafeteria.

SGA plans to invite Jim Dewar, chairman of the Faculty Judicial Committee and Dean Roy Winslow to talk to the club about the committee at a date to be set later.

In other business, Burke discussed the possibility of purchasing three canoes from a Raleigh surplus store. According to the president, the aluminum canoe would cost SGA approximately $50 a piece. He said, however, that he did not know the condition of the boats, but would take a trip to find out.
